AGNOSTICISM don't seem to pan out entirely satisfactorily in Michigan. W. C. Bryant, a proclaimed devotee of that doctrine of uncertainty, has been expelled from a Masonic Lodge by reason thereof.

THE latest drive in the way of socials is called a "letter social." The young ladies all write letters, which are placed in a box and the gentlemen buy them at auction. When opened the gentlemen finds the lady who wrote the letter and pays his attention to her during the evening.

WHAT impulsive creatures girls are, to be sure. We saw two come out of a store together last night; both spoke at once saying: "Be sure and come to see me." Then they kissed each other loud enough to make a horse shy. They then started in opposite directions looking back and talking until one ran into a show case and the other fell over a dog.

RECENT dispatches from the east announce that an "understanding" has been arrived at between Turkey and Bulgaria, Prince Alexander yielding a nominal submission, and the Sultan claiming a nominal sovereignty over the province. The arrangement, like those which have preceded it, is to be "perpetual," that is to say, till it becomes convenient for one side or the other to change it. "Perpetual" arrangements of this kind in a Turkish province last from one to five years.

It is now stated that Mr. Bigelow's declination of the New York sub-treasuryship was due to his wife's pleading against his assuming so great a responsibility. He went down to the office after he was appointed and confirmed and there learned to his amazement that he would have to take care of $175,000,000 in coin and currency. He went home appalled at the huge amount, and consulted his wife, and when she heard of the immensity of the pile, she begged him to have nothing to do with it, that the care and anxiety would kill him. He thereupon wrote his letter of declension, telling Mr. Cleveland that his wife was opposed to his acceptance of the office.—Journal.
