JOHN B. GOUGH's last words were:
"Young man, make your record clean."

The silence of the president in regard to Nebraska appointments is so thick that it might be cut with a knife.

The dress coat must go. Every little while a $600 clerk is mistaken for an $800 waiter.—Minneapolis Tribune.

As the early bird catches the influenza, so the first person at a church festival gets the biggest dish of scalloped oysters.

SEVERAL of the saloon keepers at Concordia, Kansas, have been convicted.
Their fines run from $1,000 to $4,200 on each count, and from 30 to 80 days imprisonment.

NEWSPAPERS are noticing that this is a Jones year. First there was Aquilla Jones of Indianapolis, who illustrated a great principal for the administration.
Then there is Sam Jones, the revivalist, and Jones of Florida, the lover.

ALL I have seen teaches me to trust the Creator for all I have not seen.
Whatever it be which the great Providence prepares for us, it must be something large and generous and in the great style of his works.—Emerson.

"As for me, I hope to be cremated." I made that remark to my pastor once, who said, with what he seemed to think was an impressive manner: "I wouldn't worry about that if I had your chances."
—Mark Twain.

A CHICAGO girl made a big mash a few nights ago. She heard a kind of noise and on getting out of bed to light the gas, one of her feet went down on a burglar who had crouched down besides her bed, and smashed him so flat that he had to be rolled up like a beef's hide in order to be carried away—Kentucky State Journal.

A LOVING New England couple dyed for one another a few days ago. The man was frosted with the snows of seventy years, while she who was to have been his blushing bride had the raven locks of forty. He dyed his hair black, thinking to please her, and she, ignorant of his noble sacrifice, bleached her hair white to please him. There was a strange far-offness when they next met.
Boston Traveller.

It is said that Henry Ward Beecher gets letters almost every day asking him whether he really did say that bread and water is a good enough diet for a laboring man. Mrs. Beecher undertakes this part of Henry Ward's correspondence and has a blank reply for every inquirer that she can fill up and send. She tells them that Henry said that rather than commit the error of going out on a long strike in hard times he would if he was a laborer prefer to work for a dollar a day and live on bread and water. Mr. Beecher has always lived up to his principles and has never been out on a strike. He gets, however, more than $1.00 a day and takes a few things off his plate at meals besides bread and water.

S. H. Jones of Ashley, Ill., buys Chamberlain's Pain Balm by the half dozen bottles.
He says it's a sure cure for neuralgia. It is also used for rheumatism and has cured many cases that had resisted all other treatment.
Sold by M. A. Spalding and Willey & Walker.
