The saloon men of Hastings would possess a great snap if they could only secure their champion and defender, Thompson of the Democrat, for a sign. What a rollicking rotundity of bald-headed bibulousness Dick would make.

The testimony of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is that "it don't pay to strike." It is what is being slowly forced upon the minds of a good many laborers. Empty pockets, and hungry children, and sorrowing wives in a multitude of homes are arguments enough to convince any man that the Brotherhood of Engineers diagnosed the case correctly. "It don't pay to strike."

It is reported that the regular democrats and the President have come to terms and things are running more smoothly. Fifty treasury clerks are discharged per week now without any unnecessary noise and the boys are being taken in and cared for. This is why we haven't heard a word of that civil service commission since its reorganization. It isn't working for glory like the old Eaton-Thoman crowd, but has been reorganized strictly for business.

One of the anarchist orators on being arrested was found to have a gun-shot wound in the leg. For a time it looked as though he had been really in the front of the fight he had helped to bring on and it was suspected that he was a very brave leader. But when the surgeon came to examine the wound he ascertained by the direction of the ball that the police hadn't shot him. He had been struck by a ball from his own pistol while gravitating to the rear with imprudent speed.

JUDGE NEVILLE's reason, assigned for giving John W. Lauer a new trial on the charge of feloniously shooting his wife is, that according to the testimony Lauer ought to have been found guilty of murder in the first degree or acquitted entirely. The judge's logic has a sinister cant to it that will not particularly assure the prisoner or his attorneys of their wisdom in applying for another chance. Possibly, however, the intention is to get a change of venue and have a jury called from a community that harbors no prejudice against the accused.

POWDERLY is spoken of as the next Democratic candidate for governor of Pennsylvania.

VARIOUS journals throughout the state are whimpering muchly because the "New Republic" has published the names of saloon license petitioners in different places. This is most inconsistent. Certainly the promoters of such desirable institutions are but poorly paid for their philanthropy by having a monument in the public press.

The department of agriculture in its forestry division has prepared a schedule for observations of tree life, and, accompanying it, of weather conditions, for the purpose of aiding an interest in forestry work and to arrive at certain results explained on the schedules. It is desirable that these schedules should be noted by a very large number of persons, and everybody interested will be welcome to apply to the department for the blays. As the season is rather advanced not all the points required may be taken this year but even a partial report will be acceptable. The schedule may be obtained by addressing the commissioner of agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Canon Farrar's New Book.

A few weeks ago, when Canon Farrar was in this country, tens of thousands of people paid as much as one dollar each to hear a single lecture delivered by him, and were well pleased with what they got for their money. Several of the most important of those lectures and addresses with other papers are now published by John B. Alden, of New York, and can now be had in a very handsome cloth-bound volume, for the price of 40 cents. Some of the lectures are also published separately in his Elzevir Library, in which form the lecture on Dante sells for 3 cents; on Temperance, 2 cents; on Ideals of Nations, 2 cents; Thoughts on America, 3 cents. The millions of intelligent people who admire Canon Farrar and who were not able to hear him lecture, will be delighted to find his brilliant, scholarly and eloquent thoughts placed in this handsome form within their reach. The publisher's illustrated catalogue, 132 pages, is sent to any address on receipt of 4 cents; or condensed catalogue free. John B. Alden, Publisher, 336 Pearl St., New York.

H. MENSE, a blacksmith at Sigel, Ill., wrote March 22, that he was very lame with rheumatism, he could hardly walk and the joints of his limbs were badly swollen and very sore, and so painful he could scarcely turn in bed. His physician advised him to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm. The effect was beneficial from the first application, and he is now able to attend to his regular work. This medicine has only to be tried to convince the most skeptical that it is the best treatment for rheumatism. Sold by M. A. Spalding and Willey & Walker.
