GO AWAY FROM HOME TO LEARN THE NEWS.

Two years ago in the republican convention A. W. Agee was defeated for Lieutenant Governor of Nebraska. He had then served one term as Lieutenant Governor and by all precedent according to republican establishment in the state was justly entitled to a re-nomination as Governor Daves and other state officials. The convention, however, under the control of shyster politicians defeated Agee and re-nominated the balance of the men who had served one term with him.

After reading the above we met Governor Agee, and asked him of his alleged candidacy. We give in substance the interview:

Q. Governor, have you read the article in the McCook Democrat, concerning your candidacy for Lieutenant Governor?

A. Yes. It verifies the adage, "Go away from home to learn the news," or words to that effect.

Q. There is the announcement without authority from you.

A. Entirely so.

Q. Then there is no truth in the article?

A. O yes; there is a good deal of truth in it. That I was as much entitled to a nomination for a second term, as any of those who were re-nominated, no one denies—even the democrats can see the injustice that was done, especially those who served in the Senate when I was President of that body.

Q. What about the statement that the State Journal is supporting you?

A. I know nothing about that, I have not seen Mr. Gere for several months, and have never intimated to him or any one else that I would be a candidate, or desired the support of the Journal or any one else, I have never seen anything of the kind in the Journal. If anything has been said, I presume it is because the Journal likes "straight goods," and knows I never mix my politics.

Q. Would you accept the nomination if tendered you.

A. That is a question I have not felt called upon to consider. I never try to cross a bridge till I get to it. I have not anticipated anything of the kind.

Q. Who are you in favor of for governor?

A. The nominee of the republican party. We do not know whether the Governor would accept the nomination or not, but he has many friends, not only here, but throughout the state, who would be pleased to see the next state convention make amends for the wrong done him at Omaha—a Aurora Republican.

The best evidence THE TRIBUNE has that Senator Paul of Howard county is the coming man is the significant fact that the Omaha Bee is ferriest him, and is already belaboring the Senator with the scandal cudgel.

AMONG those prominently mentioned for Representative from Furnas county we notice W. E. Babcock of Cambridge, brother of Receiver Babcock of our city. Mr. Babcock would represent the people ably and faithfully.

In this issue we reproduce an article from the Aurora Republican, which is of interest only so far as it stamps the alleged interview of the young man Friday with Ex-Lt. Gov. Agee as the usual canard, and as indicative of the demijohn's progressive journalistic policy.

SOUTHWESTERN NEBRASKA, in her enthusiastic support of G. L. Laws for State Secretaryship, loses sight of all other political considerations, which fact will give her additional strength in the state convention. It is a support, that will not brook defeat or disappointment.

CLEVELAND has always been a wise conservator of his finances and anatomy. He had the moral courage and economic spirit to be a successful hangman, but a felon-substitute represented him in the ranks of the nation's defenders. Here we have burning ensample of economy and regard for personal safety.

ABOVE appears the announcement of R. M. Snavely, Esq., for the office of County Attorney, subject to the decision of the Republican County Convention. The Colonel is one of the oldest and best known practitioners at the Red Willow County bar, and has, by faithful, pains-taking application to his profession, built up a legal reputation of which he may well feel proud. Shall he be the choice of the convention, the important office of county attorney will fall into careful, prudent and efficient hands. While his business and moral integrity are such as should characterize the county's counsellor.
