Miss Ida Benjamin, sister of Fred and Ed, will prolong her visit about three weeks, when she will return to her home in Illinois.
In our last items, in speaking of the government burning the greenbacks, we were made to say "buried" when we wrote burning.
Mr. Albert Kennedy was unfortunate enough to break his buggy tongue on last Sunday. Must have had interesting company Al.
We notice the familiar face of Miss Jennie Gregory once more among us. We trust Miss Jennie is here to stay, as her many friends greatly missed her smiling face and kind interest in them.
We understand that some parties have been accused of writing these articles who are innocent of the charge. We will say for the benefit of all, as we have no reason for deceiving any one with regard to the authorship, that we are called Travis W. Benjamin for short. We trust this explanation will be sufficient.

We notice Rev. T. G. Lewis on our streets of late, looking much improved in health. He reports the work still moving on the frontier, also informs us that he will take work in Utah. RALPH.

For First Place.

A great amount of political engineering will be done by friends of candidates to secure for their man the first place on the ticket, and the best man will probably secure the coveted place. Then if endorsed by the people, the election is assured. Electric Bitters has been put to the front, its merits passed upon, has been endorsed, and unanimously given the first place, among remedies peculiarly adapted to the relief and cure of all diseases of kidneys, liver and stomach. Electric Bitters, being guaranteed, is a safe investment. Price, 50 cents and $1 per bottle at A. McMillen's drug store.
Mrs. Lou Rogers, her son and daughter, Jas. and Celia, and Miss Danforth spent a few hours here Monday while on the way from Danforth to Washington. Mrs. Rogers had arrived only a day or so before, coming from her home by the way of McCook, Neb., where she made a short stay with relatives and friends. "Jim" and Della would hardly be recognized by those who used to know them when they lived here, in the manly young gentleman and handsome young lady they have grown to be. -Gilman (Ill.) Star.

"A Great Newspaper."

Under the above caption the New York Graphic, some three years ago, published a critical review of the growth of THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, which sets forth so clearly some of the fundamental principles underlying the development of one of the phenomenal successes of later years that it will repay a reading. To bring some of the Graphic's figures down to the present date, supplemental statements are parenthetically added by the present writer.

"The newspaper entitled to the distinction of having the largest daily circulation in America is THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS. (Since this statement was made it is possible that the growth of the New York World entitles it to first place.) The Graphic to-day devotes a page to sketches of scenes in and about its establishment. The history of this paper is probably without a parallel in the annals of American journalism. It was founded December 20th, 1875, and was the first low-priced daily successfully established in the West. At the end of its first year it had achieved a circulation of about 10,000. From that time on its growth has been remarkable. It now prints seven editions daily, comprising both morning and evening issues. Its statement of circulation for the year 1884 shows a daily average of 125,178 copies, unquestionably the largest daily circulation on the American continent. (The sworn statement for 1887 shows a daily average of 165,376.)

"In considering all the causes which have entered into and produced so phenomenal a journalistic growth the most important one unquestionably has been the controlling conviction of its managers that the "cheap paper" should be cheap only in price; that its news should be as fresh and complete, its editorial discussion as able, and its general tone and character as pure and healthful as its best and highest priced contemporary. All this the "cheap paper" may easily be even at its reduced price.

"In politics THE DAILY NEWS is always independent, never neutral. While its editorial expression is sometimes vigorous to the degree of severity, there is always in its utterances of opinion so manifest a purpose to be impartial and fair to all opposing interests, that it rarely loses the confidence of the reader, however much it may fail to bring him to an acceptance of its own view concerning the matter in hand.

"The difference of revenue between the two-cent paper (even more so when the price is one cent), and the higher-priced "blanket-sheet," the latter throws away in useless and unasked for size, that not only is of no worth to the reader, but is even an annoyance, in that it compels him to glean what is of real news interest from a mass of verbiage and worthless application.

"As a newspaper proper, THE DAILY NEWS has earned a reputation for enterprising news-gathering second to none in the United States. It is the only cheap paper in the West that is a member of the Associated Press. It gives its readers all the news worth giving and gives it for two cents. (Now it does it for one cent a day.)

"It is because its managers have been wise enough to practically recognize these essential elements of the best American journalism of to-day that THE DAILY NEWS is the best and most popular general family newspaper published in Chicago or the West."

It seems hardly possible that an endorsement of merit could be framed in stronger terms than THE DAILY NEWS is placed in every man's hands at the reduced price of ONE CENT A DAY. The truly marvelous enterprise of American journalism can hardly go further. Certain it is that THE DAILY NEWS leads the van.

THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS is sold by all newsdealers at One Cent per copy, or it will be mailed, postage paid, for $3.00 per year, or 25 cents per month. The attention of farmers is especially called to the fact that this metropolitan daily now costs but little more than the old time weekly. The shrewd farmer will now have his daily market reports.
