NEBRASKA already has sixty five nebraskan postoffices, and that number will be increased during the coming year. A scramble for these places may be expected to begin very promptly after the fourth of next March. And then we shall get the first intimation of what the new administration intends to do in the line of practical civil service reform.

THE prosperity of Nebraska is to a great extent indicated by the growth and improvement made by the cities through the state during the past year. Lincoln reports an expenditure of three and a half million dollars on private and public improvements for the year; Fremont has invested something like a half million for a similar purpose. Beatrice, Nebraska City, Kearney, McCook and other towns have likewise made public and private improvements which do them credit.

Don't overlook the "Candy Kitchen's" new display advertisement and locals in this issue. The "kitchen" is now located in the Scott block, where a larger stock of toothsome candies than ever will be kept constantly on hand. The valuable Hamilton claim, east of Brown's addition, now the property of Mr. V. Franklin of the Citizens bank, has been protested. Mr. Franklin refused $11,000 for this quarter, last spring. It is alleged that the original settler had previously enjoyed the right upon this claim. It is to be hoped that a hearing will prove the title to the land to be clear.

For fifteen years St. Louis has had the kindergarten method as a part of its public school system. There is now a movement to do away with this juvenile system of education. Those who would dispense with it hold that it is more fanciful than useful, and that while it may be suitable to the nursery, it should have no place as an attachment to the public schools.

The solar eclipse, Tuesday afternoon, which was but partial throughout this section of country, was nevertheless a beautiful vision, and during the sun's partial and short obscuration many McCookites gazed upon the scene in great admiration, as their language would indicate. During a certain stage in the proceedings, the sight was truly sublime, even to the naked eye.

A NEW DRUG FIRM.

On January 1st, the Paragon Drug Store became the property of Messrs. C. M. Smith & Son, by purchase from Dr. S. L. Green, who established that well-known business house in the early days of McCook. The junior partner of the present firm has been clerking in the store for the past year or more, and he will be in charge under the new arrangement. He is a finished druggist, a capable and affable gentleman, and the Paragon may be expected to retain its high position among the business institutions of our city. THE TRIBUNE wishes the new firm their full measure of success.

G. A. R. and W. R. C. Installation.

The G. A. R. boys of J. K. Barnes Post and the ladies of the W. R. C. will have their installation of officers at their hall on Jan. 14, 1890, to begin at 7 o'clock, central time. After which a banquet will be given by the ladies.

B. & M. BALL AND BANQUET.

One of the Most Successful Affairs of the Kind Ever Held in S. W. Neb.

IMMENSE, BRILLIANT ATTENDANCE.

ELABORATE AND TASTEFUL DECORATIONS—THE BANQUET A MARVEL OF GASTRONOMIC EFFECT.

The Burlington employes of this city will have occasion to remember the ball and banquet of New Year eve, as one of the most successful and generally satisfactory social events that has ever transpired in this section of Nebraska. All the features which go to make success in such occasions were there under the most favorable auspices. The banquet was simply taxed to the utmost limit of comfort with the numerous and brilliant assemblage of people from home and abroad who flocked to the festive scene to participate in the social and gastronomic feasts provided by the boys, without stint, and "without money and without price." The hall was decorated in very excellent taste with evergreens, bunting, etc., the effect being beautifully heightened by the headlights and colored lanterns distributed throughout the hall. The company was eminently jovial and sociable. The spectacle was a bright and beautiful one, and every person present seemed to be having "a perfectly lovely time." The banquet at the B. & M. Eating House was a

MARVEL OF GASTRONOMIC EFFECT.

And completeness. Just such a spread of delicacies and dainties as Mr. and Mrs. Jordan, with their excellent corps of assistants, might be expected to prepare for the occasion. This feature of the affair was a fitting climax and was enjoyed in a degree of fullness perhaps second to none. It but remains to congratulate those who had the affair in charge upon the completeness of their preparations, the smooth and pleasant manner in which it transpired, and the unqualified success of the banquet.

Below we give a partial and incomplete list of the multitude who participated in the notable event. A more accurate idea of the attendance may be gained from the fact that about 275 supper tickets were given out, and only those accompanied by ladies were entitled to tickets:

MR. AND MRS.—Chambers, Davidson, A. Rehl, Rees, Goodrich, Oyster, Benefield, Harris, LeHew, Weiss, Reid, Ford, Heiser, Cole, Hillis, Porter, Kondal, Jordan, Leach, Laverly, Warner, Sharkey, Halliday, O'Connell, Pink and daughter, Moore, Stiles, Bryan, Farrell, Perry, Cortel.

MISS—Burton, Altheuler, Strasser, Kay, Stern, Lewis, Sommers, Tyler.

MISSES—Pierce, Lowman, Hammer, Crooks, Womner, Wahliquist, Shedd, Kirsch, McCash, Knights, Meyer, McNamara, McManical, Kollman, Myers, Clark, Starbuck, Wright, Stevens, McAlpine.

MISSES—Wickham, Munson, Harmon, Josselyn, Campbell, Conners, Cain, Smith, Burnett, Wright, Bowman, Castor, Wolden, Doty, Gray, Clarke, Seabolt, Cook, Kenney, Brown, Benedict, Lehigh, Helm, Sommers, Bock, Fierst, Forbes, Foy, Ebert, Laycock, McAlpine, Vore, Mullen, Doyle, Steink, Phillips, Glascoff, Eberhardt, Bell, Facher, Horn, Bohndstedt, Dugan, Lowman, Hooper, Wilkinson, Hogstrom, McMillen, Williams, Powmrink, Berry, McConnell, Stock.

THE AFFLICTING HAND.

The hand of affliction rests heavily upon the McAdams family of our city. Last issue, we had to record the death of Andrew McAdams, and the dangerous illness of two more of the household. This week, it becomes our painful duty to chronicle the decease of the younger son, who succumbed to the fatal fever on Saturday morning; and was laid away in his final resting place in the Catholic cemetery on the following afternoon.

The funeral transpired from the Catholic church, Father Cullen conducting the services. THE TRIBUNE hastens to extend the profound sympathy of this entire community to bereaved family in this hour of sad bereavement and sorrow. Being keenly a lover of the fact, however, that the Great Comforter heart the efficient and sufficient balm of 500 things consolation, in such cases. The mother is still ill, but her recovery is not regarded in jeopardy.

CONGRESSMAN LAIRD.

Congressman Laird, after his return from Eureka Springs, Arkansas, is temporarily located at the Murray. He was accompanied to this city by John Barby, who has been with him almost continuously for the last three months. Part of the time he spent during the last campaign, when the management of the same was assumed by Barby. The remainder was spent in Arkansas until Mr. Laird was brought to this city. As has already been shown in these columns, Mr. Laird is but a wreck of his former self. He is the victim of malaria, which he contracted by residing in the malarial region of Arkansas. This is a very serious and a consequent deprivation of the brain of the food upon which it fed. Up to the present Mr. Laird has not acted upon the suggestions of his physicians. He has treated his ailment with contempt. It is claimed that he has not done so, but would now be a sane man. "I think he has met his master, however," said his friend last night. "The doctor he has now made an examination of him. He has given Laird to understand that he may take his medicine just now and when it is prescribed for him. If Laird doesn't do this, the physician has said he will have nothing to do with him. If he does comply with the directions, the doctor says he will recover in four weeks." Today, John Barby goes to Hastings for an absence of a couple of days. He will then return and resume the care of Mr. Laird, after remaining here a week until the physician has said he will have nothing to do with him in Hastings. During Mr. Barby's absence, Mr. Laird will be attended by John Jackson, one of the assistant oil inspectors.—Tuesday's Bee.

Practically Settled.

To-day's Chicago dispatches indicate that the "Q" strike is practically settled. The Chicago Times says: "It is understood that by the terms of agreement all 'Q' engineers will be placed again upon a square footing instead of being black-listed by nearly all rail roads in the country. The Burlington itself will set the example by giving the strikers employment in preference to others, and no more vacancies occur and by burying completely out of sight the heated which was dug up ten months ago." Both Vice President Stone and Chairman Calver declined to give any of the details of the meeting or the nature of the conclusion.

LAND, LAND.

Any one having land to sell, or trade for land in Iowa or Missouri, or for horses or cattle or both, or for a stock of general merchandise, leave at THE TRIBUNE office at McCook, a full description, No. of land, No. of acres tillable, improvements, price and terms, amount of encumbrance, if any, and when due, and what kind of stock will trade for.

On next Tuesday a meeting of the Republican Valley Medical Association will be held in this city. It is expected that the session shall be of great interest. A banquet at the Grand Central follows the business transactions of the association.

THE NEW YEAR.

THE DAY CELEBRATED IN MCCOOK WITH GREAT ECLAT.

THE RECEPTIONS THE MOST BRILLIANT IN THE CITY'S SOCIAL HISTORY.

A RED LETTER DAY.

There is every reason why New Year Day 1890 shall long remain a beautiful picture in the social hall of our city. Everything conspired to make the day memorable and felicitous. The bracing purity and brightness of the air rendered those who basked in its perfection, of the novelist's "Italia's sunny clime;" and what nature failed to provide in the line of making life worth the living, the ladies of the city profusely supplemented in the way of luscious and social entertainment of various pleasurable kinds. There was a general suspension of business in the afternoon, which was set apart and consecrated to the pleasure of calling, a time-honored and delightful custom well observed on this occasion. The ladies, in the profusion and dalliance and toothsome-ness of their luxurians, in the tastefulness and beauty of floral and other decorations, in the richness and elegance of personal attire, fairly exceeded themselves. Banners bearing the word "welcome" but faintly represented the right royal welcome everywhere accorded callers. Music occupied a pleasing part in the entertainment afforded,—opportunity for "tripping the light fantastic" occasionally presiding itself. The handsome New Year cards carried by the gentlemen and the pretty souvenirs presented by the ladies will be treasured mementos of the day. What with fair ladies and flowers, music and dancing, luscious and—luscious, the effect was simply everlastingly charming. Following we give a list of the ladies who kept "open house."

A FITTING FINALE.

In the evening there was a general meeting of the class at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Babcock, where a few delightful hours were whiled away exchanging experiences of the day and with progressive eulogy playing. The principal prize fell a trophy to Mr. Mose Erman's fortune. Dr. Z. L. Kay and Miss Ollie Hannah dividing the booty honors. Refreshments were served.
