CARTER MEDICINE CO., NEW YORK. Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

One of the most important organs of the human body is the LIVER. When it fails to properly perform its functions the entire system becomes deranged. The BRAIN, KIDNEYS, STOMACH, BOWELS, all refuse to perform their work. DYSPEPSIA, CON-STIPATION, RHEUMATISM, KIDNEY DIS-EASE, etc., are the results, unless something is done to assist Natura in throwing off the impurities caused by the inaction of a TORPID LIVER. This assistance so necessary will be found in Prickly Ash Bitters !

It acts directly on the LIVER, STOMACH and KIDNEYS, and by its mild and cathartic effect and general tonic qualities restores these organs to a sound, healthy condition, and cures all diseases arising from these causes. It PURIFIES THE BLOOD, tones up the system, and restores perfect health. If your druggist does not keep it ask him to order it for you. Sleep and Beauty. Patti and Lucca, and all the great singers and actresses and famous beauties, who, like Mme. Recamier, were wondrously beautiful at an age when ordinary women retire from the festive scenes of the beau monde, understood the value of this great restorer, and owed their well preserved beauty to sleep. An unusually handsome St. Louis woman, who has at the age of almost 50 years the fine well rounded figure and elastic step and carriage of a girl, the delicate, rose-hued skin and the brilliancy of youth in her eyes, says that she has made it a rule to retire at 9 o'clock, except on very rare occasions, and then she takes a nap in the afternoon to prevent the ill effects of the late hours which are to follow. Our American women of all classes need more than any other people in the world the rest and refreshment which only sleep can give to overwrought nerves and overworked systems, for nowhere else do the women live under so much physical and mental strain.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Physicians' prescriptions have falled to reach many cases of rheumatism known to have been subsequently cured by Salvation Oil. That is the reason why the popular voice is practically unanimous in its favor. One bottle is usually sufficient.

The Spirit of Success.

Madame Durand, better known as Henri Greville, in one of her books gives a fine example of a young man who felt within him that it is a "gift of the gods," and who was willing to sacrifice everything for the sake of his career. He is a musician, and his father wished to make a priest of him. In speaking of it to his brother the young artist says: "I would rather live a miserable for ten years, hardly earning my bread, wearing threadbare clothes, and not during to go to any one's house because I shall be too poor. I had rather, if need be, suffer the pangs of hunger and die on my violin than be a priest and renounce music." This is the spirit we must have in or-

Toward the Setting Sun Myriads of emigrants take their way. Thousands upon thousands of acres covered with the virgin forest still await the axe of the pioneer. "Holding down a claim" on the frontier, it should be disputed possession. Many an enterprising settler who, with indomitable hardihood, has cleared the waste, just as a scanty area is ready for tillage, is stricken by that foe of the frontiersman, malaria. What a boon to that man and his family is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, what wise forethought has he shown if he has obtained an adequate supply. The fairest fields for agricultural and mining enterprise on this continent and abroad are subject to this infliction. Protected by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters it may be defied. It will not do to confide in a robust constitution alone. Malaria prostrates the strong and weak alike. Take the Bitters, too, for rheumatism, dyspepsia, billousness, kidney trouble.

TECHNICAL TERMS. Fads for New Words Make the Colonel Miserable.

"Do you ever read the society columns in our newspapers?" inquired the Colonel, as a stylishly dressed lady swept out of the car says the Atlanta Constitution. "I hear my wife reading them." replied the Major, who was sitting opposite.

"Well, that's what I mean," said the Colonel, "Naturally, a grown man with signs of beard on his face wouldn't be expected to devour that kind of thing. I hear my wife and girls reading it occasionally, and I have listened patiently and learned some interesting facts. A man can always learn something if he'll sit right still and listen. Now, I'll bet a hoss that none, of you fellows know what that lady had on."

"She had on a bonnet for one thing," said the last passenger.

"Correct," said the Colonel, "What

"Well," said the Major reflectively. "She had on a dress."

"O, no," exclaimed the Colonel, There's where you are wrong. That's what you miss by not educating yourself in the society business. The lady didn't have on a dress."

"What do you take me for?" asked the Major. 'I'll take my oath the lady had on a dress, and a very pretty one, too."

"You are mistaken," said the Colonel, emphatically.

"Well, what did she have on?" the sad passenger inquired in his mild way. "A gown," remarked the Colonel. "It's funny, but there are no dresses any more. Frocks went out of fashion when I was a boy, and now if a woman hasn't got on a gown it is because she is wearing a morning or an evening toilet. But generally it is a gownespecially in Atlanta. When I hear my wife or the girls reading the papers it looks like to me that the whole face of the earth is covered with gownsmorning gowns, evening gowns, and tea gowns. Thirty years ago a calico frock used to be good enough for my wife, but now she has to have gowns just like the girls. I don't blame her much. She ain't quite so frisky as the girls, but she's lots better looking."

'Well," said the Major, "I expect it's the same way at my house, but my wife is so old-fashioned in her ways, especially when it comes to making egg-bread and waffles, that she don't pester with those new-fangled things. A frock is still a frock to her, and she don't want any flounces and furbelows on it either."

"My opinion is," said the sad passenger, "that if the women call a dress a gown they know what they are about. When my wife says gown, a gown it is. A man that isn't cut biased can afford emarked, has other drawbacks besides that of to let the women have all the satisfaction they can get out of calling a dress a gown.

Hysterical Inventions.

A genius with a profound thought mill has taken up the subject of dusting and sweeping by means of suction draughts. He has a perambulating machine which, by means of fans and hydraulic pressure, gets a draught through a spiral hose with a nozzle shaped at its terminus like the trouble end of a trombone. He starts up a grand racket on the carpet till the dust flies, then turns on this blizzard machine and a condensed cyclone is immediately precipitated. He moves his hose end round like the snout of a Jersey hog, and wherever the cloud of dust arises the suction of his mechanism draws it, and it immediately goes "up the spout," so to speak. The idea is all right; the only difficulty which stands in the way is the possibility of his getting too big a draught on and shooting in stray leaves from the family text book, odd socks or sister's

This idea, which is chronicled as an invention in the patent office at Washington, is on a par with the rocking chair which came out eight months ago, says the Pittsburg Dispatch. The inventor arranged under the rockers a pair of bellows attached to a series of pipes running up the chair back to where your neck would rest. As you rocked the chair the bellows worked, and you were given hysterical breezes. It worked all right for the man who could stand shower baths, but it cost one furniture dealer I know of three good customers by neuralgia, pneu-monia and croup. In another case the customer tried it and had to run a block to catch his wig. It's a good idea, though, but like all those things you have to get some one to think so. As for myself, I think the sweeping scheme would be better employed shooting coal into a cellar, and the man with the bellows-rocker would make a fortune if he worked it up around the eaves of a roof and blew the snow into the next county instead of down the back of the neighbor who always gets under the roof at the wrong time.

It Rained Stones.

Mr. C. C. Cunningham has in his possession a round pebble which was taken out of a hailstone at Portage, Wis., just after the great hail-storm had passed over that place. A friend of Mr. Cunningham, who resides in the city and is engaged in the drug business there, in a letter to that gentleman, states that during the storm about five bushels of hailstones lodged in his show windows. and fully fourfifths of them contained these little pebbles. The one in the possession of Mr. Cunningham weighs one-half ounce, is almost round, and has the appearance of being at one time washed by the waves of the lakes or some river, and it is supposed that it was picked up by the tornado and carried to a very high altitude, where the ice formed around it in the manner in which it descended .- Milton Eagle.

Resemblance from Companionship.

The photographic society of Geneva has been testing the theory that the long companionship of man and wife tends to make them look more and more like each other. Photographs of seventy-eight old couples, and of an equal number of adult brothers and sisters, showed that the married couples were more like each other than the brothers and sisters of the same blood. I

SEND TEN CENTS for a trial subscription, and we will send you three numbers, including our CHRISTMAS NUMBER, with an artistic cover; also our Calendar Announcement for 1891, with a painting by J. G. L. Ferris.

These three numbers contain the following reading-matter:

(1) Mrs. Amelia E. Barr's new serial, "The Beads of Tasmer." Mrs. Barr is the author of that most successful serial, "Friend Olivia," just completed in THE CENTURY; but hereafter Mrs. Barr will write exclusively for THE LEDGER.

(2) Hon. George Bancroft's description of "The Battle of Lake Erie,"

Margaret Deland's latest story, "To What End?"

James Russell Lowell's poem, "My Brook," written expressly for THE LEDGER, beautifully illustrated by Wilson de Meza, and issued as a FOUR-PAGE SOUVENIR SUPPLEMENT.

Mrs. Dr. Julia Holmes Smith starts a series of articles giving very valuable information to young mothers.

(6) Robert Grant's entertaining society novel, "Mrs. Harold Stagg."

(7) Harrict Prescott Spofford, Marion Harland, Marquise Lanza, Josiah Allen's Wife, Maurice Thompson and George Frederic Parsons contribute short stories.

(8) James Parton, M. W. Hazeltine and Oliver Dyer (author of "Great Senators") contribute articles of interest.

In addition to the above, SPARKLING EDITORIALS, Illustrated Poems, HELEN MARSHALL NORTH's chatty column, and a variety of delightful reading of interest to all members of the household. The foregoing is a sample of the matter which goes to make up the most perfect National
