PRICKLY ASH BITTERS

One of the most important organs of the human body is the LIVER. When it fails to properly perform its functions the entire system becomes deranged. The BRAIN, KIDNEYS, STOMACH, BOWELS, all refuse to perform their work. DYSPEPSIA, CONSTIPATION, RHEUMATISM, KIDNEY DISEASE, etc., are the results, unless something is done to assist Nature in throwing off the impurities caused by the inaction of a TORPID LIVER. This assistance so necessary will be found in

Prickly Ash Bitters!

It acts directly on the LIVER, STOMACH and KIDNEYS, and by its mild and cathartic effect and general tonic qualities restores these organs to a sound, healthy condition, and cures all diseases arising from these causes. It PURIFIES THE BLOOD, tones up the system, and restores perfect health. If your druggist does not keep it ask him to order it for you. Send 2c stamp for copy of "THE HORSE TRAINER," published by us.

The School-Book Question.

It is pleasing to be able to record in these days, when the prices of almost every commodity in daily use are advancing, either on account of high tariff protection, or from some other sympathetic causes, that there is one staple which has undergone, and is still undergoing a reduction in price. We refer to school books. There is perhaps no article which has been the subject of so much discussion throughout the farming communities as that of the schoolbook. There has been much complaint about high prices, and these prices have generally been charged to the publishers, but not rightfully, for investigation proves that the publisher's prices are reasonable. The trouble is traceable to those retailers who charge outrageous prices to make large profits, and to the people who do not avail themselves of the cheapest market.

The contract system inaugurated by the American Book Company, of Chicago, the largest single book publishing concern in the country, and whose books are used throughout the length and breadth of the land, has resulted in wide awake school district boards and close buyers of books purchasing direct from the company at contract prices. These contract prices are twenty per cent lower than the former wholesale prices.

The question has often been asked, "Who are some of the school-book publishers, outside of the American Book Company?" There are to-day over fifty reputable school-book publishers competing for the business of the country. We name a few: Cowperthwaite & Co., Philadelphia; Ginn & Co., Boston; D. C. Heath & Co., Boston; Henry Holt & Co., New York; Leach, Shewell & Sanborn, Boston; J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia; Ellingham, Maynard & Co., New York; Charles Scribner's Sons, New York; Porter & Coates, Philadelphia; Sheldon & Co., New York; George Sherwood & Co., Chicago; Taintor Bros. & Co., New York. Many others might be added to this list.

The American Book Company has led off in cutting the prices of school books where contracts are made with school boards. We find upon referring to their price list that they also offer to send their books to any man, woman or child in the United States, postage or express prepaid upon receipt of the list price, thus placing in the hands of the consumer, even in the remotest and smallest village in the country, an effective safe-guard against extravagant charges. We believe that printers' ink is too plenty, and good authors are ever too ready to work, to allow a monopoly in the school-book trade. As school boards have the power entirely in their own hands, there is no doubt they can secure books at greatly reduced prices by contracting direct with publishers for a term of years. Let school officers take advantage of the new contract plan and put the best books in the hands of the consumers at the lowest price possible.—Gazette.

BEAUTIFUL WEST INDIES WOMEN.

Gorgeous Dress and Graceful Carriage of the Half-Breeds.

The half-breeds of the West Indies are called the finest mixed race of the Antilles. Tall, supple, straight as palms, these colored women and men impress one by their dignity of carriage and easy motion. They talk without swinging the shoulders; the perfectly set torso seems to remain rigid, yet the step is a full stride, and the whole weight is poised springily on the very tip of the bare foot. All, or nearly all, are without shoes, and the passing of hundreds of naked feet makes a great whispering sound over the pavements.

A HALF-BREED WOMAN.

But what produces the most novel impression on the stranger is the singularity and brilliancy of the women's costumes. They were developed at least a hundred years ago by a curious sumptuary law regulating the dress of slaves and colored people of free condition, a law which allowed considerable liberty as to material and tint, prescribing only form. The coiffure especially is striking. It is only an immense Madras handkerchief, which is folded about the head with admirable art, like a turban, one bright end, pushed through at the top in front, being left sticking up like a plume.

Then this turban, always full of bright canary color, is fastened with great golden or silver brooches, one in front and one on either side. The remainder of the dress is an embroidered low-cut chemise with sleeves; a skirt or jupe quite short in front and very long behind, but caught up and fastened in front below the breasts so as to bring the hem everywhere to a level with the end of the long chemise; and finally a silken kerchief thrown over the shoulders.

A Deer on the Track.

While extra train No. 671 was coming east Sunday afternoon a few miles east of Mast Hope, on the Delaware division, Engineer Edward Taylor, espied a large deer descending the almost perpendicular bluff on the north side of the track. The deer reached the track a few yards in advance of the engine, and those on the engine expected to see it run down, but instead it started down the track in advance of the train for a distance of a quarter of a mile, and then bounded down the bank toward the river. The men on the engine saw the deer until the train went out of sight. It was a buck with five prongs, and must have weighed in the neighborhood of 500 pounds. It seemed to be greatly fatigued, and was probably started up by a party of hunters in the heavy woods back of Mast Hope. Taylor and his fireman confidently expected to have a saddle of venison for their Thanksgiving dinner.—Port Jervis (N. Y.) Gazette.

A WOMAN OF RANK.

These kerchiefs, however, are bright crimson, bright yellow, bright blue, bright green, lilac, violet, rose, sometimes mingled together in plaids, or checkerings; or stripes, black with orange, sky-blue with purple. To this display add the effect of costly and curious jewelry, immense earrings, each pendant being formed of five gold cylinders joined together, the cylinders sometimes two inches long and one inch at least in circumference.

King George and the Piano.

The King of Greece was fearfully bored, when at Aix, by the sets made at him by professional beauties who had not the talent to conceal their art. One of them hired the flat near his lodging, and a piano. Her musical education was neglected. But she knew how to play the Greek hymn. Whenever his Majesty returned from the baths she struck it up.

If there is an air the King hates more than another it is that one. He has had to listen to it many times every day at Athens for twenty-seven years. Whenever he goes to a casino, concert, or opera, the orchestra gives him several bars. In short, it is to him so fearfully hackneyed that it grates on his nerves if, when it is being played, he cannot think of something else, and thus shut it out from his ears. But the professional beauty stumbled, and got so involved in false notes that he could not be deaf to her performance. He lost his temper over and over again, and sent message after message to the landlord to beg that he would silence her pianoforte. This the landlord feared to do, as the lady spent money far more freely than the potentate, and drew to the hotel rich folks, who paid for poor champagne as though it were Widow Clicquot's best.

The affair was arranged by a Greek from Marseilles making the acquaintance of the lady and confiding to her some of his Majesty's defects. One of them was a born hatred of music, which he thought noisy, and the other a taste for frumpish German women, who never painted, kept quiet, and had not a soul above knitting and darning stockings. The beauty changed her tactics accordingly. His Majesty was no longer bored by the Greek air, and I should not wonder if he sent an Order to the diplomatic person who induced his fair neighbor to shut up her piano.—Paris Letter in London Truth.

A Thoughtful Parent.

Petted Daughter—"Papa, what has come over you? I never had a wish you were not anxious to gratify, and you even anticipated my wants, and handed me money for all sorts of things I hadn't even thought of. But now I have to ask you for every cent I need, and you growl and grumble, and ask if I think you are made of money, and you rail at women's extravagance and invariably ask me what on earth I did with the last check, or dollar, or dime you gave me. Don't you love me any more?"

Pa-da—"My darling, I love you as much as ever, but you are soon to be married, and I am trying to gradually prepare you for the change."—N. Y. Weekly.

Failure of a Bellamy Scheme.

It is probable that ere long the co-operative boarding house established in Decatur last spring on the Edward Bellamy plan will soon collapse for lack of sufficient patronage. It started out with fifty-two members, under the most favorable circumstances, and all of its patrons were enthusiastic in praise of the novel manner of living. The patrons got day board at $2.40 a week, and there was a fair profit in the enterprise for the lady manager so long as there were fifty-two boarders. But, from one cause or another, the patrons have quietly departed, until now there are but forty left. This number is not sufficient to continue the "Alliance" longer at a profit, and it is expected that the co-operative plan will be abandoned to return to the $4 and $6 rates.—Cor. St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Bellamy Apartment House.

Omaha will soon have an apartment house that will be built according to the Edward Bellamy idea. J. H. Van Dorn is now having the plans for such a building prepared. It will be situated at Twenty-second and Leavenworth streets. It will be a brick structure, four stories high, and containing twenty-five apartments. The plan of living in this building will be co-operative, as all of the cooking will be done in one kitchen, each individual sharing his or her expense. The house will be put in operation about January 1.—Omaha Bee.

They sat under the moonlight, with clasped hands, trying to guess "what star would be their home when love became immortal" but soon, alas how soon she caught a cold and they had temporarily to stop guessing. They cured her, however, with one bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Creep over 100 Feet in Nineteen Years.

Monday morning the tall blue gum tree standing at the northeast corner of German Senter's house was cut down. A careful measurement of the tree showed it to be about 115 feet high from the ground to the topmost branch. It was four feet in diameter and about twelve feet in circumference at the ground. We are informed by a Portuguese that he set the tree out nineteen years ago. Think of it! A tree only nineteen years old, 115 feet high and showing a diameter in proportion. The residents of that quarter watched the fall of the monarch with genuine regret, but its great height made the cutting of it down necessary, as it was liable to break and fall on some of the residences near.—Santa Clara (Cal.) Journal.

An Equivalent for Suicide.

If we allow our bodily infirmities to make away with us through neglect, have we such an immense moral advantage over the deliberate suicide? Scarcely. For example, the deadly progress of Bright's disease, diabetes, acute nephritis and gravel is sure—often terribly swift in the catastrophe. Most people of average information know that this is the simple, unvarnished truth in regard to those widely prevalent maladies. To delay judicious medication is specially suicidal in such cases. The means of restraint is to be found in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Give an impetus to the action of the kidneys with this safe and reliable diuretic, and the infant complaint is soon at its birth of the power for evil. Allow it to grow, and anticipate the worst. The Bitters, which annihilates these growing troubles, also eradicates dyspepsia, rheumatism, malarial and liver complaints. Appetite, sleep and vigor are also promoted by it.

The Farm Tools.

It would seem as if, after years of good counsel on the subject, some farmers would at least take the hint and look after the farm tools—particularly after the season's work is done; but it will require a good deal of preaching from the text before "conversion" is accomplished. So one would think who rides far in almost any direction this time of the year. Mowers and horse rakes still out in the fields, plows astride a rail fence, barrows leaning up against trees—these are some of the not uncommon objects which one may see on some farms. Get them in, give a coat of paint where needed, and save dollars.—Independent.

Before the use of Prickly Ash Bitters became general throughout the South and West, it was a fearful dose of "Blue Mass," and daily doses of opium, that was forced upon the throats of sufferers from all manner of troubles. In place of such obnoxious, harrowing curatives, Prickly Ash Bitters, with its mild, soothing action now holds supreme sway, and after one trial, its use when necessary, is forever established. You who have sick headaches, sour stomachs, diseased liver or kidneys, can do no better than to give it a trial.

BOILING WATER OR MILK.

The people at the World's Dispensary of Buffalo, N. Y., have a stock-taking time once a year and what do you think they do? Count the number of bottles that've been returned by the men and women who say that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery or Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription didn't do what they said it would do.

And how many do you think they have to count. One in ten? Not one in five hundred!

Here are two remedies—one the Golden Medical Discovery, for regulating and invigorating the liver and purifying the blood; the other, the hope of weakly womanhood, and they've been sold for years, sold by the million bottles; sold under a positive guarantee, and not one in five hundred can say:

"It was not the medicine for me!"

And—is there any reason why you should be the one? And—supposing you are what do you lose? Absolutely nothing!
