BARTLEY NOTES.

Bartley's on a boom.
O. Frost was ticketed to Lincoln on No. 4, Sunday.
M. V. Vickrey was in Indianola on business, Wednesday.
O. L. Campbell of McCook spent Wednesday afternoon in Bartley.
S. W. Huddleston of McCook was in the Varsity town, Tuesday.
C. E. Hodgkin is busy boring a well for I. Vandervort, this week.
Rev. W. M. Taylor has been housed up with la grippe the past week.
Mrs. Dawson returned to Cambridge after a week's visit among friends.
Rev. N. F. Kietzing is attending the Evangelical conference at Holdrege.
Commissioner Hodgkin has been attending to county business, this week, at Indianola.
Mrs. Beck returned on Sunday from an extended visit through the eastern part of the state.
J. W. Dolan was in town, Tuesday, looking after his flock. The "east end office-seeker" was very prominent.
Mrs. Aldrich, who has been visiting C. B. Wilson and family for several weeks, returned to her Michigan home.
Small-bore politicians (street commissioners) have commenced to button-hole voters. Prospects are good for two tickets, however.
Postmaster Fidler is getting his eyes open as regards the "east end political man" only to find that he has been a victim of misplaced confidence.
Miss Lena Beck, one of Bartley's fair daughters, accompanied her father to Lincoln. She will visit various parts in eastern Nebraska before returning.
Messrs. Spencer and Thompson of Lenox, Iowa, arrived this week. They were on the train which was wrecked near Mascot, with but slight damage to stock.
Madam Rumor has it that a certain person in or around Bartley has disposed of all of this world's goods to his son-in-law to avoid a suit at law. Such is the life of a Methodist in Bartley.
The mechanical monstrosity issued by the "gizmet" puts one very much in mind of a cholera bog. Rev. Kietzing, however, is to be complimented on its editorial and advertising patronage.
Chas. Kort's team were frightened by No. 4, Tuesday evening, and but for a wire clothes line in which they became entangled, would probably have done much damage to themselves and wagon.
The aspiring young politician of the east end is making preparation to celebrate the anniversary of his defeat at the village election. However he has given it out officially that he is out of politics. Think of it!

LEBANON DOTS.

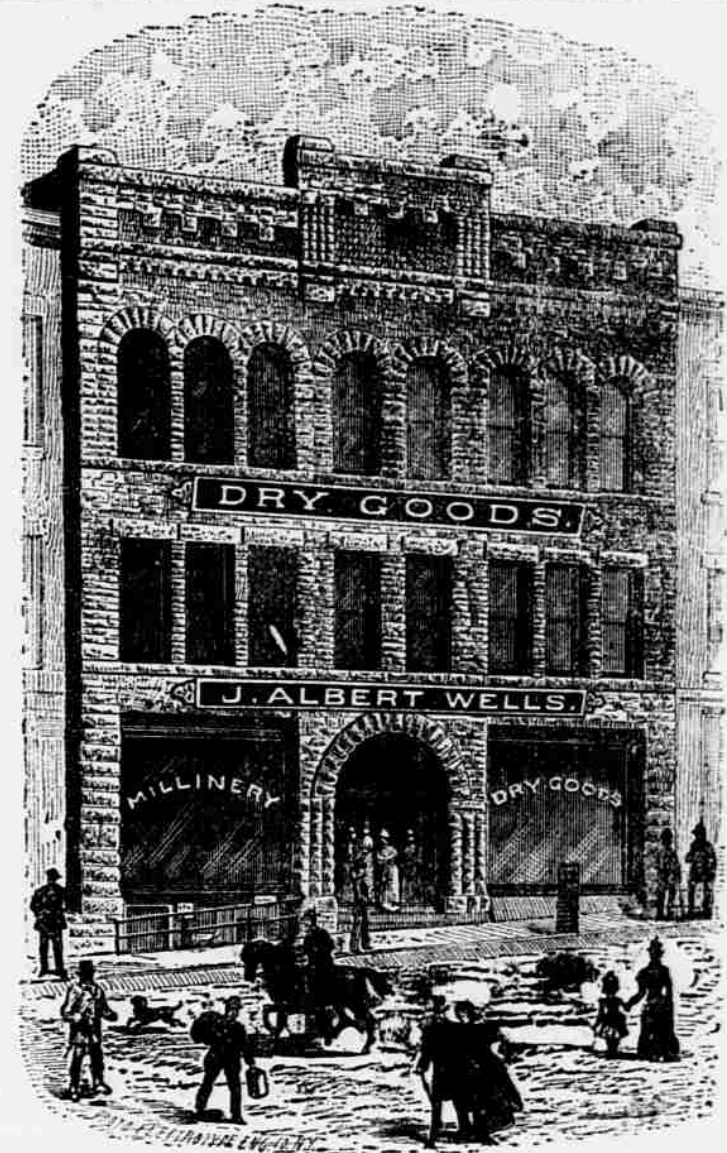

Our ground hog winter has about run its race.
The Red Willow county precinct that gave the largest republican plurality in November, 1890, lost heavily in population, last fall. We are now recuperating.
The late teacher in district No. 5 thought he went to Hamburg, a few night since. Just ask him. He will tell you all about it and declare that he was driving with both hands.
There was a poor, lone, bare-footed kid came to J. B. Cumming's residence, a few nights since, to stay 21 years or during the drought. Mother and kid all right. J. B. about wild.
Mr. John Kiser with his wife and three daughters (if there you old batches) has just moved in here from Nemaha county, bringing with him two car-load of this world's goods.
I overheard a late member of Lebanon Alliance ask their very able Secretary why he, the inquirer, had been expelled from the Alliance. I failed to hear the Secretary's reply.
Mr. Charles Straub and wife and three daughters and two sons have moved in here, a few days since, from the eastern part of the state. They brought with them a car loaded to the top.
A Mr. Slets from Union county, Iowa, has bought three quarters of the finest land in this precinct. That is not to be wondered at, but he has sent money to buy wheat and have 40 acres seeded. He will send in oats enough to seed a small sized farm. He has contracted with our efficient road overseer to have 100 acres broke, this spring, and he will bring his wife and kids out here to live, next fall.
Our ex-double, ex-county commissioner is busy explaining to the counting souls who put faith larger than a grain of mustard seed in the late — vs. C. W. Hodgkin's case. The same confiding souls are also told that after the 4th of March Lebanon will get a Postmaster that does not dabble in politics. A resident of this precinct who does not dabble in politics will be a prize for Barnum indeed.
Every farmer in Red Willow county's precinct that gave the largest republican majority in November, 1890, is anxiously waiting for J. Frost to leave mother earth so they can go to seeding and while the majority of us Lords of Creation are short on lucre, wheat, oats, corn and praties and long on thin horses and cattie I believe every one is making a heroic effort to till every acre possible and I must confess that the crop acreage is going to be away above anything I thought possible six weeks ago.
JAKE HARMON.

Is Consumption Incurable?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Abscess of Lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an Incurable Consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made."
Jesse Middlewart, Decatur, O., says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died of Lung Troubles. Was given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottles free at A. McMillen's drug store.
