Warning in the Nick of Time.

A fortunate combination of circumstances alone prevented a horrible accident Sunday afternoon. Burlington train No. 2 from the west came within an ace of dashing through a burned out bridge one and a half miles west of Denton, while running at a speed near seventy-five miles an hour.

James Garrity, a laboring man tramping from town to town seeking work, was walking on the track west from Denton and found the bridge No. 55, a trestle about fifteen feet long, burning and very nearly destroyed. The east-bound passenger train was then overdue. Garrity rushed back to Denton and arrived at the station out of breath but able to tell the operator what was the matter.

Word was sent to the Lincoln headquarters and quick as could be headed to Crete an order was given to stop No. 2. The train was already at Crete and in a few more minutes would have headed full speed for the place where disaster was certain. The train was trying to make up time. The track before reaching the bridge was down grade and Superintendent Bignell thinks it would have been making seventy-five miles an hour on that piece of track if the warning had not held it.

Word was received at Lincoln at 2:05. Every man happened to be at his post, and the material train and workmen were speedily collected and sent to the spot where their services were needed. At 4:45 the train was allowed to pass over the newly built bridge. The bridge had been entirely burned away, nothing but the rails being left. The fire is supposed to have been caused by an engine, which passed about 1:45.

The hero of the train saving, James Garrity, was brought to Lincoln. He said all he wanted was work, and the road accommodated him. He will go to work this morning for the Burlington.—Lincoln Journal.

There's Always a Reason.

It is an easy thing to account for the wonderful growth of the DAILY STATE JOURNAL recently. Its price has been reduced to 50 cents per month without Sunday, or 65 cents with Sunday. THE JOURNAL has always been reliable and honest, printing the news without fear or favor. The people of Nebraska realize that they need a paper published at the capital, and when the price of THE JOURNAL was reduced the subscription list grew at a phenomenal rate. THE JOURNAL is a Nebraska paper through and through.

We have seen a number of watch chains ornamented with a pretty charm in the shape of a watch case opener, which obviates the use of a knife or finger nail to open the watch. They are sent free upon request by the Keystone Watch Case Company, of Philadelphia, Pa. Your jeweler here may have one for you; if not, send to Philadelphia.

The Keystone Watch Case Company is the largest concern of its kind in the world. Its capacity is 2500 watch cases per day. It manufactures every description of case, but its great specialty is that most popular of all watch cases, the Jas. Boss gold filled. These are equal in beauty and wear to solid gold—while they cost only about one-half as much. Boss and other Keystone cases are the only cases that have the famous Non-pull-out bow or ring, which saves the watch from theft or accident. The Keystone Company does not retail, but our local jewelers handle the cases and swear by the thief-proof qualities of the ring.

Wedding Chimes.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Chelina, five miles west of Holdrege, on Wednesday morning, Jan. 16th, occurred one of the happiest wedding ceremonies in the annals of the present day.

The bride, well known to many of our readers here, was Miss Lizzie Carroll, sister of Mrs. Chelina. The groom, A. C. Lambert, is a very successful mechanic now stationed at the Burlington shops at Sheridan, Wyoming.

Rev. Father Hickey of McCook performed the ceremony in that sweet, impressive manner so characteristic of the Catholic Church. Mr. Stephen Finn and Miss Clara donnot of McCook, acted as best man and lady. The bride was beautifully arrayed in cream silk and ostrich plumes; the maid wore cream crepe with adornments of yellow rose buds, while the groom and groomsmen were attired in the usual conventional black.

Never shown such a sweeter face and never was maid launched on the sea of matrimony with a more stately and noble air.

Only the relatives and a few immediate friends of the parties were present at the nuptials, but they will never forget how pleasantly the hours flew and how bounteously they were served at the wedding feast.

May God's blessing follow them wherever they go is the wish of their host of friends, not only in Holdrege, but also in McCook and Sheridan where they are both much loved and esteemed. McCook's loss is Sheridan's gain.—Communicated to the Oregonian Progress.

E. Hanson accompanied his wife to Illinois, first of the week, returning here on Wednesday. Mrs. Hanson will remain some time for her health.
