have decided to start several mines along the Wheeling division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The preliminaries have all been completed. One of the first moves was to get in touch with the railroad companies. The officials of the railroads at once agreed to co-operate with the operators in bringing about, if possible, an era of activity in the coal-producing industry of the Pittsburg district.

It was made very apparent that the railroads were losing a large amount of business and that they were fellow sufferers with the coal operators. The question of the expense of getting imported labor into the district was discussed, and the railroad companies agreed to share their Another reason advanced is the fact that the mines along this road have been would be interfered with. Protection would be forthcoming with no cost impos-

FARMERS' INCREASED RECEIPTS

Crops Will Bring $500,000,000 More than Last Year. Assistant Secretary Frigham of the Agricultural Department has expressed the opinion that the American farmers this year would receive in the aggregate from $400,000,000 to $500,000,000 in excess of the amount received last year for their farm products.

Col. Brigham also predicted that the increase in the price of farm products would benefit the laboring element. "The price of labor," he said, "did not decline with the price of farm products, and for some time the farmer was forced to pay as much for the services of those who did his work as ever, while his receipts were cut in two. Inasmuch as wages did not decline, I see no reason why they should be expected to rise to correspond with the advance of farm products, which are now bringing only fair prices. Still, the laboring man will be benefited by this advance in prices. The farmer will discharge his indebtedness and make improvements which will require labor. He will purchase more of the products of labor, putting a vast amount of money in circulation, and this will create a demand for labor in all lines, and men who have been without employment, or only partially employed, will work full time at fair wages."

arrested in Washington County, Pa., while leading a body of marchers on a public highway past the Allison mine of Cook & Sons, near McGovern station. Ever since the strike started the miners have been making daily marches from their camp to the mine. From the mine to the railroad there is a tramway, under which runs the public road known as the Washington pike. Wednesday morning, with a band at their head, about 400 passed under the trainway. On their return they were stopped by deputy sheriffs and told they could not pass under the tramway, but must return to their camp by crossing a field and coming down the railroad. The marchers decided to remain where they were and communicated with Presi, crimson bag with gold tassels. dent Dolan by telegraph. He arrived shortly after 4 o'clock and made a speech to the strikers. He said the deputy sheriffs had no right to stop them from marching on the public thoroughfare as long as their mission was a peaceful one, and told them he would lead the procession. The band, with Dolan at its head, and the marchers following, then started down the road to go under the tramway and on to the camp. When Dolan reached the tramway he was told by the deputy sheriffs that he could go no farther.
