THE SEAMEN'S STRIKE.

Questions at Issue Between Sailors and Owners.

The worldwide strike of seamen and firemen has been fomenting for some time. A year ago the Seamen's union of Great Britain asked the International Shipping federation, the shipowners' organization, to agree to the formation of a national conciliation board, so that questions at issue might be discussed. The federation refused. It is said that 300,000 men are involved.

The general strike ultimatum contains the following demands:

The constitution of a conciliation board.

National minimum rate of wages.

Manning scales for stokehold, deck and galley.

Abolition of medical examinations by doctor privately appointed by the shipping federation.

Abolition of the engagement of seamen in the shipping federation's offices.

Right of seamen to a portion of their wages in port during a voyage.

Right of seamen to have a representative present when signing on.

Hours of labor and rates of overtime to be fixed.

Improved forecabin accommodation.

Discharged For Unionism.

Second Assistant Postmaster General Stewart frankly admitted the other day before the house committee on the civil service that clerks had been discharged from the government service for activity in promoting the organization of a trade union. The clerks were removed from the St. Paul office. They were good clerks, Stewart said, but their "pernicious activity" amounted to insubordination.

Trade Union Notes.

The carpenters of Holyoke, Mass., are on strike for a fifty hour week.

John Kirby, Jr., has been re-elected president of the National Association of Manufacturers.

The coal strike in south Wales has been settled. It is now estimated that it has cost $11,250,000.

Wages of "third rail" men employed on New York street railways have been advanced from $2.10 to $2.50 per day.

The De Vinne Press, a large printing establishment in New York city, which prints some of the leading magazines of the country, has been fully unionized.

The International Association of Structural Iron Workers has levied an assessment of $5 on each member of the union for a defense fund for Secretary John J. McNamara.

Ben Tillet of London has been endorsed by the executive committee of the Labor party as one of the candidates who may be selected by a suitable constituency for parliament.

The Schenectady works of the American Locomotive company have gone on four days a week. The night gang of 3,000 men was laid off, and the works have orders to keep the day force of 4,000 busy for two months.

Unions Disagree.

The Railroad Telegraphers' union has withdrawn from the consolidation of railroad men's unions on the New Haven system because of disagreements with the Station Agents' union over the admission of agents from the smaller stations which handle railroad and other telegraph business in addition to regular station work. The Telegraphers' union wished to have jurisdiction over these agents.

Returns from the labor organizations in the state of New York show that the membership of 410,000 males in the 2,500 unions receive an average daily wage of $3.30. How much do the nonunion workers get? It would be difficult to tell.
