A WEEKLY JOURNAL OF CHEERFUL COMMENT

Volume 8

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, AUGUST 11, 1911

Number 21

Feast of Facts and Statistics

Omaha, Nebr., July 31st, 1911.

Will Maupin's Weekly
Lincoln, Nebr.

My dear Mr. Maupin:

I am just in receipt of your issue, Number 19 of the 28th inst., and although it has only been in my hands twenty-four hours I have read every word from "kiver to kiver" twice over.

Such a compendium tersely and intelligently gotten up, and such an intellectual feast of facts and statistics I will venture to say was never published before in this glorious commonwealth. I hasten to congratulate you on your splendid success. You demonstrated beyond question that Nebraska is the finest waffle on the griddle, and that milk and honey ooze from her staves, the volume being too strong and overwhelming for the faucet and bung-hole.

I am sure our friends in the effete east must have had something to conjure over when this splendid publication was placed before them. I am to make it my text book, and as I intend visiting several conventions in the near future, my principal object being the boosting of the state of my adoption and love, I will unload as often as the opportunity affords, some of these paralyzing facts and statistics of which your issue is so generously loaded. I admire the typographical getup of the edition. The printing is clear and distinct. The ads are splendidly arranged. The entire production is a splendid credit to yourself and your printery.

Again congratulating you, I am,

Yours truly,
William Kennedy.
