WHY WE SMILE.

Along in June, when people were wearing faces long enough to eat out of a churn, and emitting doleful wails calculated to make the world believe that everything was going to the demnition bow-wows; when most people were declaring that the small grain crop was ruined and corn practically blasted—during all that time Will Maupin's Weekly was as cheerful as Mark Tapley ever was. We rather opine that we know Nebraska. We know her soil and climatic conditions, her recuperative powers, her ability to stand prolonged drouth and unusual rains. And knowing all these things we refused to join the calamity chorus and insisted on flocking with a few other optimistic souls and singing songs of cheer.

Have we been vindicated? Has our faith been proved well founded? Read the answer in the glowing reports of unusual wheat yields—ranging from 35 to 60 bushels an acre. Ten weeks ago we said this year's wheat crop would be as good, if not better, as the crop of 1910. It will be as big measured in bushels, and better measured by quality.

And the corn! Bless your pessimistic souls, the corn that was "deader than a doornail" the first of July is going to make from 25 to 35 bushels an acre, and corn that was half-killed then is going to give a bumper yield. Nebraska will have more than 175,000,000 bushels of corn this year—mark the prediction.

And with 45,000,000 bushels of wheat, and 175,000,000 bushels of corn and 2,000,000 tons of alfalfa, and twice that many tons of wild hay and a half-million dairy cows minting grains and grasses into 35,000,000 pounds of golden butter, and with hens laying $18,000,000 worth of eggs, and $75,000,000 worth of live stock fattening on the ranches and in the feed lots, and with sugar beets and oats and rye and speltz and broom corn doing fine—with all these things Nebraska is going to be right at the front.

What's the use of grunting? Why sit around and wail like a lost soul? Why growl until it sours on your stomach and makes you a mental and moral dyspeptic?

Cheer up! Nebraska is all to the good these days.

QUICK ACTION.

A few more blasts of hot air were injected into Governor Wilson's boom the other day. By a vote of 14 to 2 the democratic state central committee of New Jersey fired Chairman James R. B. Nugent, who offered a toast to Governor Wilson, calling him an "ingrate and a liar." It is Governor Harmon's next move. Governor Marshall amputated himself from the list of presidential possibilities several months ago.

FUNNY SITUATION.

A lot of our people opposed Canadian reciprocity on the ground that it gave the Canadians all the best of it. But we adopted the bill. It does not become operative until the Canadians adopt it. And now a lot of Canadians are opposing it on the ground that it gives us all the best of it. Don't it beat all how much trouble a little tariff bill can make?
