SANTA FE IS GUILTY.

Road Convicted of Rebating in a Los Angeles Court.

After being out twenty minutes the jury in the case of the government against the Santa Fe company, on trial in the federal court at Los Angeles for rebating, brought in a verdict of guilty against the railroad on all sixty-six counts of the indictment. Judge Welbourn will announce his decision later. An estimate of the maximum penalty which may be imposed is $1,250,000, and the minimum is $66,000. The charge against the Santa Fe was that it had granted rebates from its regular tariff on some shipments of lime to the Grand Canon Lime company of Arizona. The defense was that the rebates were concessions, made for alleged losses in the shipments during transit. The trial began September 3.

In giving his decision on the law point which arose during the trial Judge Welbourn said a point of the law is held to be one of the most important enunciated since the interstate commerce commission was created. He said:

"I hold that the acceptance by the defendant of a less sum of money than that named in its tariff for transportation of its property described in the indictment, if there had been such acceptance, was a departure from the legal rate and that it is not justified in so doing. Nor is it any defense to a prosecution thereof that the acts of the carrier were done in compromise of claims for loss of property in transit."

CASSIE CHADWICK DEAD.

Accomplished Female Swindler Succumbs to Nervous Collapse.

Mrs. Cassie Chadwick, whose amazing financial transactions culminated in the wrecking of an Oberlin, O., bank, died in the women's ward at the Ohio penitentiary. Mrs. Chadwick had been in a comatose condition for some hours previous to her death, and the end came peacefully. No friends or relatives waited at her bedside, there being only the prison physician and attendants. Her son, Emil, had been summoned from Cleveland.

Mrs. Cassie Chadwick, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Bogley, was a native of Wooster when she first came to Ohio about twenty years ago, where she gained renown as Madam Devere. She was sent to prison for nine years and served out a portion of the sentence and then located in Columbus. Her second husband was D. I. S. Chadwick of Cleveland, a man of good family and excellent standing in the city.

The decline in Mrs. Chadwick's health began almost on the day she entered the penitentiary on January 1, 1906, sentenced to ten years' imprisonment. She fretted incessantly over her confinement and worried about her troubles until it became almost impossible for her to sleep.

SECRETARY BACON A HERO.

Saves Boy From Drowning in the Charles River.

Assistant Secretary of State Robert I. Bacon figured in a heroic rescue on the Charles river at Boston when he jumped overboard from the Harvard launch Veritas and swam to the rescue of two boys who had capsized in a canoe and succeeded in saving the life of one. The second boy was rescued by J. S. Reed, a student of Harvard who followed Bacon into the water. After swimming for nearly seventy-five yards Bacon reached the boy who had become unconscious and was sinking for the last time. Grasping him firmly Bacon turned back toward the launch which was moving slowly toward him, and the men on the launch drew both Bacon and the boy back on board. Reed and the other lad were also picked up.

Uniform Bill of Lading.

Representatives of the large shipping interests and of the traffic departments of most of the great trunk lines met at the offices of the trunk line association in New York to discuss the uniform bill of lading prepared by the railroads for submission to the interstate commerce commission. The conference was held behind closed doors and no statement of what was done was given out.

Must Raise the Bridges.

A decree of Judge Pollock in the federal court in Kansas City, Kas., to the effect that the Kaw river is navigable and that its channel must be extended to an average width of 600 feet will necessitate the lengthening and raising of many of the costly steel bridges spanning the river, nearly all of which have been built since the destruction caused by the flood of 1903.
