IN MY FAMILY

"I Have Used Pe-ru-na at Various Times for Several Years."

R. EDWARD M. BURTT, 5 N. Jefferson Ave., St. Louis, Mo., writes:
"It affords me much pleasure to announce that I have used your medicine at various times for several years, and that it has given entire satisfaction, not only in my own family, but also that of others of my friends. And would cheerfully recommend the use of Peruna, as I certainly do endorse your medicine."

Catarrh of Head, Nose, Throat.

dr. Charles Levy, 80 Allen St., New York, N. Y., writes;

"I am very glad to tell you of the cures wrought by Peruna in my family.
"My son. aged seven, who had catarrh of the nose, was cured by two bottles of Peruna, and I had catarrh of the head nose throat and ears. One the head, nose, throat and ears. One bottle of Peruna cured me."

HAD NO DOUBT OF HIS FATE.

Mr. Jerome Evidently Was Aware of His Wife's Culinary Ability.

Some weeks ago the wife of Judge Blank, of Pacific avenue, lost her cook, and since she had no other resource she rolled up her sleeves and for a week provided such meals ac the judge had not enjoyed since those happy days when the Blanks did not keep a cook. The judge's delight was so great that by way of appreciative acknowledgment he presented Mrs. Blank with a beautiful ermine cloak. Quite naturally, the incident was a good deal noised about among the social acquaintances of the Blanks and a spirit of envious emulation was developed in certain marters. It was in this mood that Mrs. Jerome recited the story to her husband. "What do I get, Jerry?" she asked, "If I will do "Well," the cooking for a week?" said Mr. Jerome, "at the end of a week, my dear, you'll get one of those long crepe veils."-San Francisco Argonaut.

Worst Case Doctors Ever Saw-Suffered Untold Misery-Perfect Cure by Cuticura Remedies.

"My son, who is now twenty-two yeears of age, when four months old pegan to have eczema on his face, spreading quite rapidly until he was nearly covered. The eczema was something terrible, and the doctors said it was the worst case they ever saw. At times his whole body and face were covered, all but his feet. I used many kinds of patent medicines, to no avail. A friend teased me to try Cuticura. At last I decided to try Cuticura when my boy was three years and four months old, having had eczema all that time and suffering untold misery. I began to use all three of the Cuticura Remedies. He was better in two months; in six months he was well. Mrs. R. L. Risley, Piermont, N. H., Oct. 24, 1905."

JUST WANTED TO SEE MONEY.

Then Italian Woman Was Satisfied It Was All Right.

A savings bank is never a very cheerful place. To one smiling young matron putting aside the proverbial "nest egg," or, still more, smiling young mothers depositing in trust for the first baby, there are ten sad-faced women in black, many of them with widows' veils

This was especially true recently when the panic sent anxious depositors by the hundreds to draw out their small savings, and it was therefore especially refreshing to see in that crowding somber line not "Lola from Berlin," but Marguerita from Italy, a trim, bright-eyed little woman with a scarlet handkerchief around her neck and her uncovered, glossy, black locks puffed and braided and curled as if for an inauguration ball.

She waited patiently-even cheerfully-as slowly foot by foot she approached the paying teller's desk, but it was two o'clock before her turn came. She began to look weary, but she gave the wearier man behind the little window a confiding smile as she handed him her bank book and said:

"I want it all." He glanced at the book and count-ed out $312 in one-dollar bills. "That mine!" gasped the little

The teller nodded.

She fingered the bills, looking more puzzled. The woman behind her was almost crying with impatience. The line swayed as if it had been a row of bricks and some one had hit the last brick in the row. Still Marguerita folded and unfolded the bills; she had all the repose of her native land.

"You sure," she said at last. "You sure these all mine." "All yours," the man answered, laconically. Ordinarily he would have told her she was blocking the line, but this day he saw no objection to the delay.

She ventured one more question: 'You sure these mine-these dollars? I thought I put in fives and tens." "These are all yours," he assured her emphatically. She flashed him a glimpse of white teeth. "All right, then," she said, idiomatically. "Tony-my man-he tell me my money not here. He say, 'take it all out.' I say: 'I go see.'"

Then untying the corner of a red handkerchief and taking from it a five-dollar gold piece and several grimy bills she added them to the pile in front of her and pushed the whole toward the astonished bank official.

"You put them all back," she commanded. "I see them, so I know they all here."

A Slow Place.

"Well, how are you, cap'n, and how's everything going?" genially inquired the patent churn man, as he hopped up on to the porch of the tavern at Polkville. "Round again, eh?" returned the landlord, in flat and accentless tones. "Me? Aw, I'm still here, I reckon. Everything else is dead-deader than a dog and flatter than a flitter! Tell you what's a fact. There was a pig born with six legs, not more than three miles out o' town, week before last, and I'll be fiddeldy cussed if more than a third of the population went out there to look at the wonder ful insect! Yes, and yesterday a feller from over at Timpkinsville walked out in the middle of the street here and hollered that he was a bigger bygosh man that old William Jennin's Bryan, and not a gent in the whole durned town had patriotism enough to jump him! Aw, I tell you, a herd of reindeer could get fat on the moss on the backs of our prominent citizens. and not be disturbed while they were a-doing it!"-Puck.

Well-Muscled Boy.

A few weeks ago in a village a few miles from Mexico City a citizen went to the alcalde and complained that a boy ten years old had stolen and carried away his donkey. He insisted that the boy had carried the animal on his shoulder. The police laughed at the idea, but when the lad was arrested it was shown that the statement was true. The boy had carried a good-sized donkey a quarter of a mile on his shoulder without a stop. He did the trick again for the benefit of the police.

Various tests were made of his strength, and it was found that he had the muscle of two ordinary men. He is in fail now, but when he comes out the people will have to look out that he doesn't carry off their houses some night.

A Bride's Little Scheme.

"Nearly all brides are getting sore on cut glass for wedding presents, because they always get so much more than they can ever use," remarked a jeweler recently, "but I never heard of one going so far to block the cut glass as a little bride that was in here the other day.

"She told me her name and asked me if I wouldn't keep my ears cocked for any customer who might come in to buy a wedding present and mention her name. My part of the game was to tell the customer that she had dropped a remark about not caring for cut glass. She said she had been to two other stores and fixed up the same dea! with them."

SOMETHING OF A CYNIC.

Papa Had Extreme Views on the Subject of Marriage.

Miss Marie Cahill, the actress, chose the chorus girls for her new play, "Marrying Mary," by measurement. The Bertillon system was employed.

"By this excellent system of measurement," said Miss Cahill the other day, "one gets, in a chorus girl, the real thing. Mirage is avoided. You know what a mirage is? Quite sure? Well, at any rate. I'll point out its meaning to you with a story.

One Thing Held Him Back.

"There was a racket of some kind in our house last night," said the man who lives in a flat building. "Screams came from one of the rear flats and everybody was looking out the windows to see what the matter could be. Various exclamations and conjectures were made by the rubbernecks and soon several women were screaming in sympathy. Presently out of the awful din rose a deep masculine voice exclaiming in exasperation and with the manner of one feeling around in the dark: "I'd go for a policeman if I could find my pants!"

Took Advantage of Czar's Hobby.

Peter the Great particularly delighted in drawing teeth, and he strictly enjoined his servants to send for him when anything of that sort was to be done. One day his favorite valet de chambre seemed very melancholy; the czar asked him what was the mat ter. "Oh, your majesty," said the man, "my wife is suffering the greatest agony from toothache, and she obstinately refuses to have the tooth taken out." "If that is all," said Peter, we will soon cure it; take me to her at once." When they arrived, the woman declared that she was not suffering at all; there was nothing the matter with her. "That is the way she talks, your majesty," said the valet; "she is suffering tortures." "Hold her head and hands," said the czar; "I will have it out in a moment." And he instantly pulled out the indicated tooth with great dexterity, amid profuse thanks from the husband. What was Peter's indignation to discover a little later that his valet had used him as an executioner to punish his wife, who had never had an unsound tooth in her head.-San Francisco Argonaut.

William J. Mean Revenge,

A man had been very badly treated by the proprietors of a boarding house, and when in temporary financial difficulties had been forced to leave. Some time later, smiled upon by fickle fortune, he achieved success and prosperity as a popular dentist, and soon found means to revenge his former landlady's slight. The method he adopted was simple but extremely effective, quite ruining the business of his enemy. Directly opposite the boarding house he opened his new dental establishment, and upon the largest window in bold letters appeared the following notice: pointed boarding house teeth a spe cialty!'

Laundry work at home would be much more satisfactory if the right Starch were used. Of small economics the following will be difficult to beat for smallness. A laboringman who hands over his weekly wages to his wife is allowed by her an ounce of tobacco a week. If there were not so many different ways of lying more people would tell the truth.

There are countless roads on all sides to the grave.-Cicero.

An old bachelor says that some women marry for the purpose of obtaining a listener who can't get away.

Served Accordingly.

At a men's cafe one night a young American—a barber—fell in with an Englishman. The latter was berating the Yankees for doing all manner of business in their shops and not following the better English plan of sticking to one branch.

The next day he swaggered into the barber shop to be shaved. The barber gave his face an extra good soaping and left him, at the same time seating himself to read.

The Englishman kept quiet for a few minutes, when, seeing his attendant reading, he blurted out: "Why don't you shave me, sir?"

"You will have to go up the street for your shave," quietly replied the barber. "We only lather here."

How He Did It.

Early in the morning session, when the pupils were feeling bright and happy, the teacher thought it a good plan to give them sentences to correct, both as to grammar and sense. She accordingly wrote on the blackboard:

"The hen has four legs. He done it.'

Thoughtful little Ignatius, at the foot of the class, pondered deeply, and at the end of 15 minutes' time, allowed for correction, he wrote:

"He didn't done it; God done it."
