Bits of Labor News Gathered Chiefly With the Scissors.
The union label—that's all. Look for the union label. If it is not labeled, refuse it. Union made shoes are sold by Rogers & Perkins.

Grand Trunk railway telegraphers of the lower grades will receive an increase of 10 per cent.

Bricklayers and contractors in Chattanooga, Tenn., have clashed, the contractors demanding a reduction of $1 per day.

The Chas. Abresch Co., the largest carriage and wagon concern in Milwaukee, has rescinded its demand for a cut in wages of all the men to the extent of about 10 per cent.

T. L. Lewis of Bridgeport, Ohio, vice president of the United Mine Workers of America, has been elected president over W. B. Wilson by a majority of 40,000 in a vote of 300,000.

Remember, "Arrow Brand" collars and "Monarch" and "Cluett" shirts, also "Lion Brand" shirts, collars and cuffs are unfair. Look for the union label on all shirts, collars, cuffs and laundry work.

The Glass Bottle Blowers' association of the United States, with a membership of 13,000, has assets, mostly money in banks, amounting to nearly $1,000,000. The organization has not had a strike in fifteen years.

After a fight of several years' duration, peace has been established between the proprietor of the Bismarck cafe and the Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders' Union of Cleveland. Nothing like persistency.

The LaBelle plant of the American Tin Plate company at Wheeling, W. Va., resumed operation January 20, employing 700 men, and it is reported that the Riverside plant of the National Tube company will reopen in a short time, employing 3,000.

President Finley, of the Southern Railway Co., says that in consequence of the falling off in business and the decrease in revenues the managers have determined on a reduction of 10 per cent in pay of the president, vice-president and other general officers and their office forces.

Jacksonville, Fla., is a good place for mechanics to keep away from, as that city is completely overrun at the present time with tramps. Some of them are the professional hobo, some are tramps by profession, some are professional beggars, while a great many are tramps from sheer necessity.

About 2,000 old employees of the Union Iron Works, San Francisco who were laid off a short time ago, have been reinstated. In addition to the old employees who appeared for work, many other men were at the gates of the iron works in search of work. So insistent did they become that a riot was narrowly averted when the announcement was made that only the old employees would be taken on.

General President Huber, of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, has appointed P. H. McCarthy, president of the State Building Trades Council of California, to represent the great organization of mechanics at a conference of representatives from all the international and national building trades organizations, called to meet next month in Washington, D. C., for the purpose of organizing an international building-trades council.

THE PRESSMEN.

Goloskowski Will Fight to Retain Editorship of the Journal.

The following interesting contribution to the "scrap" over the editorship of the American Pressman is taken from the Western Laborer:

"A temporary restraining order was issued in St. Louis against George L. Berry, international president; Frank Pampush, the new editor of the American Pressman, and Patrick McMullen, secretary-treasurer of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union, to prevent the international board from taking the American Pressman away from Theodore Galoskowski, who was elected editor at the San Francisco convention for a term of five years. Local union No. 6, of which Galoskowski is a member, and No. 43, the Assistants' organization, are the parties that asked for the injunction. The reasons given for ousting Galoskowski are that he was not in harmony with the methods of the executive board and had printed matter detrimental to their plans. This is the outcome of the recent removal of Editor Galoskowski. When the case comes before the court it will be tried on its merits. Galoskowski at first decided to waive rights and fight it out at the next convention. Evidently he has changed his mind and will fight it out in court."

C. E. Yates, called out of the New Century office when that concern definitely decided to remain on the "rat" list, is now working in the Free Press press rooms.

The interesting rumor that the assessment is soon to be reduced has gained some credence. While the boys have been paying it cheerfully, they frankly admit that they would like to see it materially reduced or called off altogether.

Walter Brown is figuring on building a double house on his lot on F street. If he does, he promises to have a house built throughout from cellar to chimney by union men.

HOW MACHINISTS STARTED.

An Interesting Story Told By Reading Labor Advocate.

The International Association of Machinists was organized at Atlanta, Ga., in this manner: Five railway machinists had on several occasions asked the master mechanic for an increase in wages, only to be refused. One day, while lying flat on their backs under a locomotive making repairs, they began to discuss the question, and one remark led to another, and the suggestion was made to form a union, and, "John on the spot," it was formed right there and then. The International Association of Machinists now has over eight hundred lodges in the United States, Canada, Newfoundland and Mexico, and has working agreements with ninety per cent of the leading railways in America, to say nothing of the contract shops.

ENTERTAINED THE GOVERNOR.

Decatur Barbers Have a Swell Function to Brag About.

Governor Deneen was a guest of honor at a banquet given by Decatur, Ill., Barbers' Union No. 90 on January 15. Covers were laid for 100. Special guests and speakers at the banquet besides Governor Deneen were Attorney C. C. La Forgee, Senator Jas. A. Henson, Judge W. C. Johns and the Rev. W. J. Davidson. The boss barbers of the city were present as guests of the union. The Decatur barbers' union has 94 members. Before the banquet the union met in its hall and installed the officers for the coming year.

WORSE THAN THAT.

Enough to Build Two and Maintain Both of Them.

It's tough to admit it, but the money expended in one year by union men in this city for scab-made goods would erect a fine Labor Temple—Easton (Pa.) Labor Journal.

Huh! Easton unionists are pretty near all right if that's the worst fight here in Lincoln enough money is spent by union men for non-union goods to build two labor temples every year, maintain them both, rent free for union meetings, and pay day wages to every man who attends the meetings of his local.

A BETTER NAME.

The National Association of Manufacturers have formed an "inner circle," for the publication of matter pertaining to trade union leaders. The name of the new association is "The Century Association Syndicate." C. A. S.—The initials are appropriate, they also stand for CHARACTER ASSASSINATION SYNDICATE.—Clothing Trades Bulletin.

DECAMPED WITH THE MONEY.

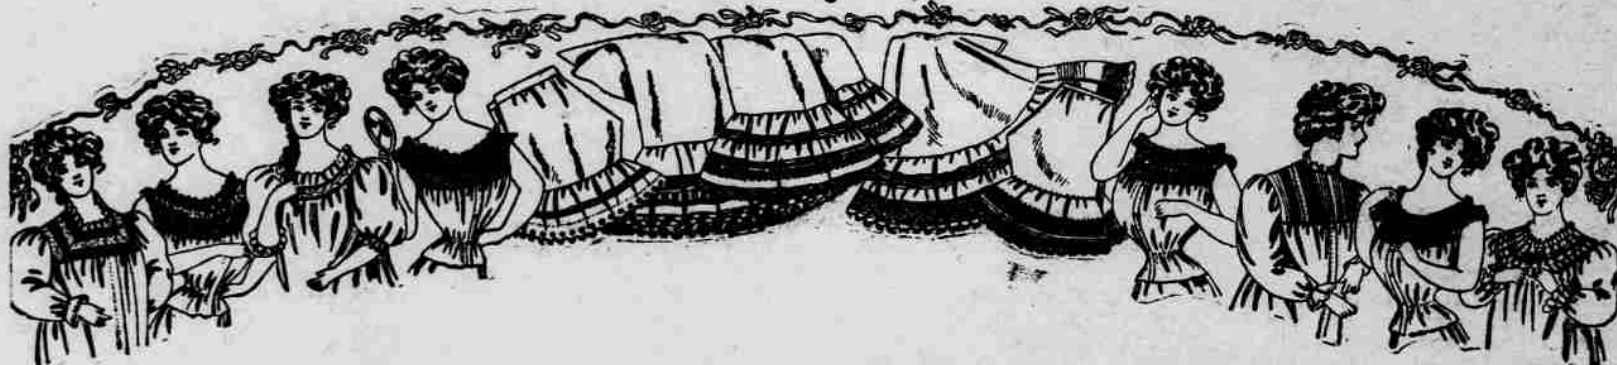

Former President of Kenosha Laborers' Union Skips with Coin.

Building Laborers' Union No. 240 of Kenosha, Wis., is advertising in the official journal of the craft for Ed. Christenson, former president of the local, who skipped with some of their funds, after attempting to disrupt the organization and sell out to the bosses. He is described as about 35

WHAT IS AN INJUNCTION?

An injunction is a law which is found on no statute book.

A law which has never been voted on by any set of legislators.

A law which has never been signed by any governor or president.

A law which exists without consent of the people.

A law which came into being as the will of one man.

An injunction is a law made by a judge. And penalties are fixed by the same judge.

And the offenders are tried before the same judge.—Ex.

THE CIGARMAKERS.

How Dealers Discriminate Against Cigars Made in Lincoln.

The Evening News tells the following incident which explains how Lincoln men who are always talking for "home patronage" discriminate to the disadvantage of home goods when they think they can make an extra penny by so doing:

How some cigar dealers work it is to push the sale of goods on which they make the most profit is indicated by this incident, for which a Lincoln man vouches:

"I was in a cigar store the other day," he said, "and I wanted a smoke. Now, there is one brand that I prefer above all others—a Lincoln made cigar, too, by the way. I looked over the assortment in the showcase, but didn't see the kind I was after."

"You don't have the Royal Princess?" I inquired. That isn't the name, but it will do just as well as any.

"Oh yes, I have," he answered, and pulled down underneath the counter, pulling out a box which contained my favorite brand.

"I asked why he didn't keep the Royal Princess in his show case with other cigars, and he said it was because they came higher than the rest. I understand that many cigars make it a rule to display most prominently the goods which cost them the least, but which retail at the same prices as the better grades."

That is usually the way it goes. The cigar dealer, unless he happens to be a manufacturer, will holler his head off about "home patronage" and "build up home merchants," but because he can make a couple of dollars more a thousand by selling the tenement-made "Flora de Muds" or "Stinkaroo de Cabigo," he will ditch the home-made cigar, which is usually better and always cleaner. If you do not believe it, just drop in on any dealer in the city—excepting, of course, the manufacturers who also retail. You will see the cases full of cigars made elsewhere and you will usually have to look a long time before you can locate the Lincoln made cigar. Often, as in the above instance, the Lincoln made cigar is hidden from sight. Some of these days some Lincoln cigar dealer or druggist is going to make a specialty of Lincoln made cigars and advertise the fact extensively. The result will be that he will grab off a mighty nice trade. Business is picking up among the cigar makers, but it would be ten times better if Lincoln smokers would get over the idea that a tenement house cigar with a fancy band around is and packed in a box with a highly colored lithograph on the lid is the best cigar. The cigars that are made in Lincoln are the cigars that Lincoln men should smoke.
