

Our Greatest Ambition

In this business is that every man who knows us, and reads our ads. shall get the idea that this is the shop for quality in tailoring. We'd a good deal rather be known as the right place for good stuff, than merely as a place where you get low prices.

THERE ARE NO BETTER FABRICS WOVEN THAN WE SHOW

In our Spring and Summer stock for 1908—and the patterns are the very newest. If we bought our woollens the way the small tailor does, we would be compelled to charge his prices—but buying in such immense quantities, (taking occasionally the complete output of a factory) and cutting out all the middleman's profit and many others—we get our goods fully a quarter cheaper. It stands to reason you can buy potatoes cheaper in carload lots than you can buy the single peck. We threw off the shackles of little ways and doubtful methods from the start and pioneered the path to the broader and more liberal field of merchandising, which is now our most valued asset.

CENTRAL LABOR UNION.

Will Begin Systematic Boosting of the Label in Lincoln.

The Central Labor Union has decided to begin at once a systematic effort to boost the label in Lincoln, and to that end will adopt what has become known as the "Omaha Plan."

The label committee was instructed to get busy at once and compile a list of all union made brands of goods in Lincoln, together with the names of the dealers handling them. This list will be published in convenient pamphlet form and in The Wageworker, and will be changed monthly under the supervision of the label committee and Secretary Kates.

The complaint that union men cannot find union made goods continues to be made, and it will continue to be made until the demand for union made goods becomes so insistent that the merchants will realize the necessity of handling them. Under the new plan it is hoped that this demand will be stimulated. The label committee is expected to be ready with its report next meeting night.

The report of the "union label exhibition" committee was to the effect that all arrangements had been made for Wednesday evening, May 20, at the Auditorium. The committee in charge of arrangements for the proper observance of "Labor Sunday" reported that the services would be held at St. Mark's Reformed church, Rev. P. M. Orr pastor. Full details of these two affairs will be found elsewhere.

The Carpenters' Union was the first one to "come through" with its per capita for the label exhibition. It was decided to handle the financial end of this matter through the regular channels. The Electrical Workers Barbers and Plumbers reported that their unions had agreed to stand their per capita, and a little more, if necessary.

Report was made that the Journeymen Blacksmiths and Journeymen Horsehoers were taking steps to re-organize.

The matter of taking a part in the coming campaign, not as partisans, but as union men, with a view to securing representation on the legislative ticket, was discussed at some length, but no action was taken.

The attendance was not large, but all present took a deep interest in the proceedings. Ed English of the Plumbers and L. E. Clifford of the Electrical Workers were obligated as delegates. Following was the attendance: Leatherworkers, one; Plumbers two; Carpenters, two; Bartenders, one; Barbers, one; Cigarmakers, two; Painters, one; Electrical Workers, two; Pressmen, one; Printers, one.

THE CIGARMAKERS.

Local Work Dull and Many Men Are Forced into Idleness.

Every cigar made in Lincoln is made under union conditions, but owing to the failure of union men to demand union made cigars, and of a lot of "home industry" advocates to demand Lincoln made cigars, the local cigar manufacturers report work dull. As a consequence a number of cigarmakers are idle, and only about twenty are working. There ought to be not less than one hundred cigar makers regularly employed in Lincoln—and there would be if union men and "home industry" advocates would practice what they preach. It is safe to say that less than fifteen per cent of the cigars consumed in Lincoln are made in Lincoln, and this, too, despite the fact that Lincoln made cigars are equal to any on the market. The five cent brands are far and away ahead of the trust made five cent brands, but the demand for the Lincoln made goods is an almost negligible quantity outside of the bars, where union goods are pushed as far as possible. If ten per cent is the size of the local demand for Lincoln made cigars, it stands to reason that if half the cigars smoked in Lincoln were made in Lincoln would be one hundred or more cigarmakers at work in Lincoln.

The Cigarmakers' local of Kansas City pulled off an interesting stunt recently. The Kansas City Labor Labor Herald tells the story this way:

"After the regular performance at the Century Theater last Friday night, a cigarmakers contest occurred between six local mechanics which proved to be highly interesting to the audience. In a short address John T. Smith introduced the contestants who were: John Angold, O'Donnell Cigar Co.; Will Raines, Hurley Cigar Co.; John Boley, Geo. M. Foley Cigar Co.; Jake Kearns, Tuchman Cigar Co. The judges were John T. Smith, Joseph Henkel and Fred McReynolds and the first prize awarded to John Boley who made ten cigars in eleven minutes, Jake Kearns capturing second honors, making ten cigars in twelve and one-half minutes."

Work on the Pepperburg building, west O street, is being pushed.

TIME WHEN MOST NEEDED.

At the meeting of the police commission Tuesday, Chief Kern suggested that the board request religious organizations that have been holding meetings to discontinue them during the four days the officers and sailors of the battleship West will be in the city. The board passed a resolution in line with the chief's request. Is this a joke, or does the chief of police think the Gospel would be offensive to the tender ears of the Jackie boys?—Los Angeles Citizen.
