OTHERWISE.

The present street car situation in Omaha calls renewed attention to the fact that Nebraska is no longer wholly an agricultural state, and is therefore in need of legislation that will recognize changed conditions. Everybody recognizes that Nebraska is plugging along under a constitution that is a quarter of a century behind the times, and that her code of laws is a crazy patchwork illy becoming such a great

Twenty-five or thirty years ago the most sanguine Nebraskan did not believe that Nebraska would ever amount to much agriculturally, and no one believed that industrial pursuits would ever be any factor in the life of the state. Today Nebraska is taking high rank, industrially as well as agriculturally, and it is high time that attention be given to the enactment of laws in recognition of these changed conditions. In the metropolis of Nebraska today a half-dozen men on one side who claim tehy have nothing to arbitrate, and six hundred men on the other side who claim-and justly—that they have a grievance which they are willing to arbitrate, have plunged the city into strife, paralyzed business and cast a shadow over the city's future prosperity.

Clearly and emphatically there should be some method of preventing a recurrence of this sort of thing. It is true that the statutes provide a crude sort of intervention, but it is crude-too crude to stand as the best intelligence of this state on matters pertaining to the industrial and social welfare of the commonwealth. New Zealand, fifty years ago a penal colony, is leagues and leagues ahead of us in this respect. We are lagging far behind Canada along these lines.

Why should any one man, or any set of men, be allowed to paralyze the business of a city or a commonwealth? Why should personal feeling be alowed to sacrifice the welfare of hundreds of innocent men and women? Why should a public service corporaion, dependent for its very life upon the people, arrogantly declare that there is nothing to arbitrate" when it becomes involved in a controversy with a considerable number of the people who make up the great general public upon which it is dependent and to which it owes everything?

If either party to a controversy affecting the public is right, that party has nothing to fear from arbitration. Dr. R. L. BENTLEY If it is wrong it is only natural that it should fear arbitration.

> Nebraska needs a clear-cut, well defined and simple arbitration law. The Wageworker believes in compulstory arbitration-arbitration at the demand of either party to an industrial dispute. It would fervently oppose compulsory compliance with the findings of the board of arbitration, for it knows only too well the cards are stacked against the party to the controversy who happens to be the wageearner instead of the wage payer. But arbitration, being well assured that public opinion will be quite sufficient to compel compliance with the findings of such a board.

lawmakers. The next legislature of Nebraska ought to get busy in recognizing these changed conditions, quit playing for partisan advantage and proceed to legislate in accordance with present day needs.

And above all else Nebraska needs new constitution is obtained the better it will be for both capital and Wageworker,

PRETTY LIVE TOWN, THANK YOU!

Yes, Lincoln is a pertty live town, notwithstanding the croakings of a few who think that prosperity and liveliness depend wholly upon recognition popular subscription for the purpose of building an institution that is not expected to pay dividends in actual money-that is to say, dividends of the nature of "cent per cent" on the investment. Dead towns do not raise that much money for anything. Dead towns do not even undertake to raise such sums. And some towns much pretentions, take three times as long Eagle.

WAGEWORKER to raise the same amount of money HOME MADE CANDIES

The Wageworker rejoices that the Y. M. C. A. building campaign was so more reasons than one. First, it is a complete answer to the assertion that Lincoln is a "dead one." Secondly, it shows that Lincoln is thinking a whole lot more about men and a whole lot less about dollars in these "sadly degenerate" days. That mere fact is Entered as second-class matter April enough to make the most confirmed pessimist rejoice and be exceeding

Now, if the same public spirited gentlemen who pushed the Y. M. C. A. ARBITRATION, COMPULSORY OR building campaign to success will join hands and help the workingmen of Lincoln to provide a "Labor Temple" they will have forever hushed the assertion that Lincoln is a "dead one." What say you, gentlemen?

> The fact that there is no law compelling the warring factions in Omaha to get together is sufficient warrant for the existence of a State Federation of Labor-and the Federation will see to it that such a law is at least asked for and worked for at the next session of the legislature.

Oh, yes, the Omaha strike could have been settled in a minute. All the strikers had to do was to consent to the sacrificing of their executive committee and a few of the leaders. Wouldn't that have been easy-and

Yes, we know this little old sheet is short on local stuff this week, but if you've been watching the Omaha papers for news of the street car strike there you will know the reason why Even a labor editor has his physical and mental limitations.

Things base ballically ended up so well in Lincoln that we are wondering whether it will be a Saturday half- business in her stiff purple calico and holiday or Sunday baseball next year.

Well, the "Links" didn't finish in the last hole, and "Ducky" didn't land his team in the first hole-two reasons why the Lincoln "bugs" are rejoicing.

A lot of members of the Omaha Business Men's Association see things in a different light today. The pocketbook nerve has been touched.

We have a sneaking idea that public ownership is in greater favor than ever in our neighboring city of Omaha.

Why The Wageworker Is Even Slimmer Than Usual This Week.

realize as much as anybody straw. Serve on a hot platter with that The Wageworker this week is not quite up to standard. But when the reason is given the editor has faith to believe that Wageworker readers will overlook the fact.

Monday morning the editor was compelled to go to Omaha, and in his capacity as deputy labor commissloner undertake to bring about a settlement of the street car strike in that city, and failing that to prepare for an investigation of the difficulty it demands compulstory submission to as provided by statute. He spent the first three days of the week in an unavailing effort to procure a settlement. At this time he is not at liberty to make public his findings as to the situation, that result now being mand recognition at the hands of the in the hands of Governor Shallenberger. The governor is probably in Omaha before this issue reaches its readers, and as labor commissioner of the state making an official investigation of the controversy.

It was a strenuous three days for the editor man, and he offers this as a new constitution. The quicker that a reason for whatever discrepancies may appear in this issue of The

COOK WORE UNION CLOTHES.

It is now found that in addition to being a great honor to Dr. Cook his of some particular thing. One hun- discovery of the north pole has dred thousand dollars is a pretty tidy brought distinction and advertising sum of money, yet it took Lincouln to the United Garment Workers of just ten days to raise that amount by America. The reason for this is that when Cook stood on the top of the world he wore unionmade clothing, of an english wainut and iry in deep fat. Eat them with butter and sirup so the union now enjoys the enviable record of having clothes of their make the first at the pole. Charles F. Reichers, ex-president of the union, says that Cook also wore union clothes on his memorable larger than Lincoln and much more climb of Mount McKinley.-Brooklyn

> Old-Time Butterscotch One of the Simplest and Most Wholesome of Dainties That Children Love -Charleston Delicacy.

Old-Time Butterscotch.-Put three pounds of light brown sugar in an enameled kettle with three-fourths of a pound of butter. Place over a moderate fire to melt; let it boil until thick, stirring all the while to prevent scorching. Take the kettle from the fire and pour the boiling hot liquid into buttered tins or upon a large flat meat platter. When stiff enough mark off into big squares and when cold break these apart and wrap each square in waxpaper. Butterscotch carefully made will keep for months. It improves with age.

Peanut Candy a la Charleston Mammy.—This delectable sweet is called ground-nut cake in Charleston and a fine molasses is used for it instead of sugar. Remove the shells and skins from the roasted peanuts and-if convenience for eating is liked -divide each nut in half; but the brittle cake that shows the whole nut is the dearer goody in the southern city by the sea. Then put two heaping tablespoonfuls of butter and the juice of one lemon in a quart of New Orleans molasses and boil it with careful stirring until it threads. Then take the vessel from the fire and dump in the nuts, mixing them well with the molasses. When the mixture is chilled enough to permit its lying fairly well "where it is put" drop a light tablespoonful in divided blobs along a flat buttered tin.

The moment for eating the cakes is when they have become as brittle as glass. The Charleston "mammy" uses a slab of old white marble for the chilling purpose and sells them "six for fi' cents," looking as if she had been as neat as a pin about the red head handcher and calling out melodiously as she waddles along. "Grounut—ca—ke, grounut—ca—ke." They are a winter dainty and things exiled hearts never forget.

Bavarian Apple Pie.

One of the most delicious ways to use apples, in cookery, is in a Bavarian pie: Line a deep dish with Fill in with breadchumbs, pastry. and bake it until the pastry is done; then remove the crumbs, and fill the cavity with chopped apples and nuts and some stoned raisins. Sweeten with sugar and flavor with nutmeg and cinnamon. Sprinkle with the crumbs, and bake till it is brown on ton and the fruit within is thoroughly cooked. Spread over the top a lemonflavored meringue, and let it become mind all the time, and help boost the a light brown in the oven. Set the pie aawy to cool before serving.

> Quail with Dressing (Original). Pick and clean carefully six quail; salt lightly; fill them with the following dressing: Take three cold boiled potatoes and one onion, medium sized, chop rather fine, add a half pint of bread crumbs moistened with warm (not hot) milk and water, one table spoonful of butter or lard, two eggs, pepper, salt and a little sage to taste. Place the stuffed quail in a baking pan in a hot oven and bake until the meat is tender when pricked with a

Apple Ringlets.

Peel, core and slice thick five large apples. Mix half cup flour, half teaspoon baking powder, half teaspoon butter and half teaspoon salt. Mix half cup of water with one well-beaten egg, add to the flour and mix smooth. Melt a spoonful of fat in the frying pan dip the apple slices in the batter and fry a light brown on both sides. Keep the pan covered while frying. Serve with sugar sprinkled over them

Rice for Invalid.

Butter a common glass (previously warmed) and line with warm boiled rice. Into it pour the stiffly beaten white of an egg with a pinch of salt. Into the mound of white carefully drop the unbroken yolk of the egg. Set the glass in warm water, let the water come to a boil and cook long enough to set the white. Serve with buttered toast.

Spanish Fritters.

Mix early in the morning a quart of flour with a well-beaten egg, a spoonful of yeast and milk enough to make it a little softer than muffin dough. Add a little salt. When well risen, work in two spoons of soft butter. Make the mixture into balls the size of an english walnut and fry in deep or molasses.

Creole Dish.

Two cups of well-cooked rice, two cups canned tomatoes, one-half pound of ham, minced and browned in but-ter. Mix all together, add a little salt, one teaspoonful of sugar and a dash of cayenne pepper, turn into a wellbuttered pan and bake.
