

THE CARPENTERS

Big Convention at Des Moines Transacts Lots of Business.

The national convention of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners has concluded its session at Des Moines, and the next convention will go to Washington, D. C. The Des Moines convention was the largest in the history of the Brotherhood. In the big parade there were 6,000 union carpenters and millmen in line, with several big bands. The parade was reviewed by Governor Carroll and other state officials. The convention was addressed by Senator Cummins, himself a union carpenter, and the speech was reported in the daily papers was worthy of the big brainy, intelligent man who made it. The carpenters of Cedar Rapids went over on a special train and had 500 members marching behind a band of their own. Other Iowa cities sent delegations of varying sizes. The convention attended to a vast amount of routine business and made some important changes in the methods of conducting affairs.

Delegate Eisler returned to Lincoln the middle of the week and will have his report ready for the local at the meeting Monday night.

Instead of taking advantage of Labor Day as a holiday, the Long Beach (Cal.) Carpenters' Union offered the services of its members to the East Long Beach Christian Church, which started and finished the building of a new house of worship between sunrise and sundown of that day.

All construction work in Bakersfield, Cal., was tied up as the result of a strike of 400 carpenters. The builders' Exchange refused to grant the carpenters a raise from $4 to $4.50 for eight hours' work.

W. H. Crocker, a millionaire banker of California, wanted to have a dancing pavillion erected in time for the "coming out" party of his young daughter. When he learned that the carpenters would not work on Labor Day he knew the pavillion would not be ready for the following Thursday. He offered any old wages to the men if they would work, but they declined, calling attention to the rule forbidding work on that day. Finally, in order to accommodate the gentleman, the San Francisco Building Trades Council issued a special dispensation and the men were allowed to work—and Crocker paid them $2.50 an hour and said he was glad to get them.

Carpenter cars wanted to stay away from Birmingham, Ala.

Quincy, Mass., carpenters have a new scale calling for an advance of from $3.25 to $3.60 per day of eight hours.

LABOR TEMPLE DIRECTORS.

First Meeting in Two Months Performs Quite a Task.

The board of directors of the Lincoln Labor Temple Association met last Monday evening, for the first time since last July. Present—Chairman McBride, Rudy, Meyer, Maupin, DeLacey, Hale, Kelsey, Parker, Kates.

The matter of heat for the winter was taken up and Manager Rudy instructed to install an oil heating plant at a cost of $312. The Temple is already equipped with boiler and piped and nothing needs to be done but install the oil burning apparatus, which will be fully guaranteed to do the work.

The matter of taking care of the payment due on the property was given attention, and after discussion a committee consisting of Rudy, Iringer and Hale was named to take the necessary steps.

A refunding committee consisting of DeLacey and Kates was appointed with instructions to report at the next meeting.

During the year that the Temple has been occupied the gross receipts amounted to $5,736.35. The expense totalled $5,085.93.

When all the facts are taken into consideration this is a splendid showing. The expense account looks big, but more than half of it was for improvements. These expenses will be unnecessary during the coming year. The items consisted of painting the front, putting new flues in the boiler, remodeling the front, papering, painting, material for improvements, etc. With the same receipts during the coming twelve months fully $2,500 will be realized for the wiping out of the indebtedness on the property. As a "going institution" the Labor Temple belongs in the prize winning class.

An itemized statement of receipts and expenditures will be submitted at the next meeting, showing all stock subscriptions, donations, expenditures, etc.

The board will meet again next Monday evening.

ARKANSAS ADOPTS INITIATIVE.

At Monday's election in Arkansas the initiative and referendum amendment to the state constitution was carried by a good majority.

PLUMBERS AND STEAMFITTERS.
St. Louis Convention Adjourns to Meet in Boston in 1911.
The annual convention of Journeymen Plumbers, Gas Fitters, Steam Fitters and Steam Fitters' Helpers, held in St. Paul, adjourned last Tuesday night. The convention of 1911 will be held in Boston. The re-election of John R. Alpine to the presidency was a foregone conclusion, Alpine having practically no opposition. Thomas E. Burke of Chicago was elected secretary-treasurer. In his report to the convention President Alpine said: From July 1, 1908, to July 1 this year, we paid out $139,009 for benefits. Of this amount $60,995 was for sick benefits, $59,414 for strike benefits, and along with this we have collected thousands of dollars by voluntary subscriptions for our members, their families, and to aid our strike members.
The Denver Master Plumbers' Association is split wide open. Twenty-six master plumbers, known as the McGee faction, have captured the books and established headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce building. They refuse to recognize the union. Eighty members headed by John R. Berry, continue to meet in the old headquarters and have signed up with the union. The court has refused to interfere in the quarrel between the bosses.

JANITORS MUST ORGANIZE.
The South Omaha board of education has issued an order that all janitors must be union men hereafter, and that all labor performed upon school property must be performed by union mechanics. The janitors will have to join the South Omaha Federation of Labor at once.

PRESSMEN
After a number of conferences between representatives of Pressmen's Union No. 16 and Press Assistants' Union No. 20, and the employing printers of Kansas City, the two organizations were granted an increase of wages, the job pressmen obtaining a 5 per cent increase and the press assistants an 8 per cent increase. The new scale went into effect September 9th.
