Boot and Shoe Workers' International Union makes claim that its system of 25 cents per week dues saves it from the fear of strikes and in such emergency does away with the necessity of calling upon sister crafts for financial aid. High dues also enable the union to prosecute more successfully its campaign for the union stamp.

Strenuous efforts are to be made by the Washington (D. C.) Grocery Clerks' Union to obtain a Sunday closing law for the District at the next session of congress. This effort failed at the last session, but a committee has been appointed to memorialize congress and to work up what other sentiment it can in favor of a closed Sunday.
In order to furnish work to as many members as possible, the Italian Stonemasons' Union, numbering 3,000 members in Greater New York, has made what it calls an "emergency rule," whereby contractors are permitted to employ a force for only one week on a given contract. The succeeding week a new force is substituted, and so on until the job is finished.
It has been decided to hold a convention of the United Mine Workers of America for the anthracite district at Scranton, Pa., on July 20, at which plans for the strengthening of the union will be developed, the work of carrying them out devolving upon President Lewis. At the same time the question of demanding the eight-hour day will be threshed out.
PRINTERS OFFERED SITE.
E. G. Lewis Also Willing to Loan $50,000 to Union.
The International Typographical Union, at its next national meeting in Boston, will consider a proposition to establish permanent headquarters in University City, St. Louis.
A site has been tendered the union and a favorable proposition made for financing the plan by E. G. Lewis, mayor of University City and president of the Lewis Publishing company. Lewis offers to donate a site worth $25,000, provided the International Typographical Union will erect a building to cost $100,000 and he will loan $50,000 at 5 per cent per annum to build the same. The rental of the headquarters at Indianapolis for the past 15 years and the next 30 years will aggregate $200,000, men favoring the plan say, and it is but a reasonable foresight to accept the Lewis offer.

BRYAN TO WORKINGMEN.
who toil in the original production. In a word, that platform, it seems to me, speaks forth in the interest of the average man—the common people. And it is because I believe, as stated in the platform, that the progress of our country must be measured by the advancement of the average man, that I appreciate the confidence you have expressed and the pledge of support you have given. I thank you.
Immediately after the conclusion of Mr. Bryan's address three hearty cheers were given for the "next president of the United States."
"I have not yet been officially notified of my nomination," said Mr. Bryan, humorously, "but if you gentlemen insist upon being so vociferous I am afraid I will not be surprised when the committee officially notifies me of my nomination."
The visitors were invited to group themselves on the big front steps for the purpose of having a photograph taken. It was a flashlight photo and proofs submitted show it to be unusually good.
The news of the visit was flashed over the wires that night, and on Saturday the messages of congratulation and good will from workingmen all over the country began pouring in. Mr. Bryan, however, refused to give out any of these communications for publication.
THE PRINTERS.
Some Ugly Rumors Come Up from New Orleans These Days.
There are a lot of surface indications to the effect that the printers who are opposed to some of the policies of the Lynch administration were handed a huge lemon when Hudspeth of New Orleans was offered them as a candidate in opposition to Lynch.
At the last regular meeting of the New Orleans Typographical Union, Hudspeth, who is president of the local, was impeached and deposed. The trouble began a long time ago and has to do with the defalcation of former Secretary-Treasurer Stevenson. Hudspeth is charged with "conduct unbecoming a union man" and with "neglect of duty."
Last April Stevenson disappeared and an investigation showed that he was short some $6,000. He and Hudspeth were great friends, and it is claimed that Hudspeth should at least have known that something was wrong. The New Orleans local appropriated a tidy sum to help Hudspeth in his campaign for the presidency of the International, and there are vague hints that a goodly portion of this sum had been spent before it was appropriated.
The Wageworker will attempt to give its printer readers all the facts they develop. It is not yet quite ready to apologize for having supported Hudspeth, but if it transpires that he was the lemon that he is charged with being, the Wageworker's apologies will be forthcoming—earnest, heartfelt apologies. There will be no apologies for having opposed the re-election of Mr. Lynch and Mr. Bramwood, but this much should in justice be said—Lynch and Bramwood having won out The Wageworker stands ready to assist them in every way possible to boost the good old I. T. U. to the limit.
Ernstine King is in camp on the Plue river near Milford, and having the time of his life. He is acting as cook for his bunch, and a visit to the camp last Tuesday night convinced "ye editor" that King has already learned to boil water without scorching it.
Omaha Western Laborer: W. M. Maupin, Charles B. ("Doc") Righter and Lewis Maupin stopped over in Omaha a few hours last Saturday evening on their way home from the Denver convention. They are full of convention dope, delighted with Denver's entertainment, bubbling over with enthusiasm for the Big Chief and just spilling to get into the campaign to help land him in the White House. There is no use talking, but W. J. Bryan has the printer man on his staff for fair, and nowhere in America are they more devoted and enthusiastic than in Lincoln.
Colorado Springs Labor News: Will M. Maupin and son, Louis B. Maupin, and Charles B. Righter, of Lincoln, Neb., were callers at this office last week. Mr. Maupin is editor of the Wageworker, and it is with profound regret that the editor of the Labor News is compelled to acknowledge his inability to meet Mr. Maupin and his party. Come again, gentlemen, and we hope to be in next time.

TELEGRAPHERS MEET OPPOSITION.
Determined opposition upon the part of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad has frustrated for the time being the plans of the Order of Railway Telegraphers to organize the company's telegraphers into a union. The Lackawanna is one of the five railroads in the country along the line of which the telegraphers are not organized or affiliated with the Order of Railway Telegraphers. It employs about 500 men in this department.
Farmer Attempts Suicide.
In a fit of despondency Frank Friebauer, a young Bohemian farmer living about seven miles east of Pawnee, attempted to kill himself about six o'clock Friday morning by shooting himself with a 22 rifle.

Wise Talk by the Office Boy

Cheer up, Mary! Peaches are ripe, and so are fruit jars. It's time to think of preserving something besides your beauty, Mary. You know you can go to the beauty doctor any time and give her cards and spades (get your spades of us) but you can't always put up nice fruit, because it isn't always looking the gift jars in the mouth. What I'm trying to tell you is to advise you not to have any gift jars, or cheap old style jars, that may put you to a lot of trouble in the fall. Just come and see the new Schram automatic jars, and let us explain the improvements in jarring things. Then you will rise and say, "Blessings on the man who invented that jar, even if he is a homely old thing." A man can't be pretty, and be an inventor, so don't expect Mr. Schram to make good on the line of beauty, but thank your stars he didn't invent bloomers, or something you wouldn't care for. I have to tell you a lot about fruit jars this month, because we have to sell a lot of 'em out. It beats all how hard times would be if we didn't call her bluff, but cans or jars, we are ready for you.
