A HORRIBLE SHOWING.

Everybody's Magazine Prints Striking Indictment Against Civilization.

In Everybody's Magazine for September William Hard has an article entitled "The Law of the Killed and Wounded" which should be read by every man who works for daily wage.

"Why shouldn't every industry carry the burden of its own killed and wounded? Why shouldn't compensation for disability be just as much a part of the cost of business as it is of the cost of war?"

SEALING LABOR'S DOOM.

To approve or indorse the candidacy of William H. Taft would mean to indorse the recent decisions of the United States supreme court, to vote for and elect him would mean to seal labor's doom.

ALL WE WANT.

Organized labor, as we understand it, wants no special privileges; but justice and equal opportunity. It does not want the best of the deal; but a square deal.

THE PRINTERS AT BOSTON.

Annual Convention Transacts a Big Lot of Important Business.

Gene Lyman, who represented Lincoln Typographical Union No. 209 at the international's convention in Boston, has returned.

St. Joseph was selected for the 1909 convention, the opposition to old Joe Robideaux's town being scattered and unavailing.

A proposition by Delegate Nolan of Boston to include the amendments of the General Laws with amendments to the Constitution for action by the referendum was defeated.

A proposition to hold the conventions in the headquarters city every year was defeated, as was also the proposition to buy land and build permanent headquarters at University City, Mo.

The proposition by the executive council to increase the council to seven members was lost. This proposition was submitted by the council as the best form of an increased board and was submitted because other propositions along this line were considered detrimental and unfair.

A proposition to make the old age pension an out of work benefit was defeated.

All attempts to raise the death benefit at this time failed of passage.

The by-laws and general laws will now become operative at the same time as do the laws adopted by the referendum.

In appeal cases both sides must submit their cases in printed form to the succeeding convention.

Delegate Harris of Washington, Ind., introduced a proposition that the future conventions after the year 1910 should be held in the headquarters city and establish a fund to defray the expenses of delegates to the convention.

An effort was also made to change the method of electing our officers from the referendum to the convention but was defeated.

A proposition allowing candidates for election to use a half column of the January Journal in which to state their claim for endorsement failed.

A proposition passed calling for the creation of a standing label committee to work in co-operation with the international president in a systematic label campaign.

It was left optional with local union to fine members for non-participation in Labor Day parades where such unions by a majority vote decided to parade.

It was decided that no person should be admitted a member of the union who had not served an apprenticeship of four years.

Efforts to change the wording on the present traveling certificates were defeated.

The proposition of the executive council to change the wording on the withdrawal card so as to make clear the fact that by taking out such a card continuous membership was severed, passed.

A proposition allowing subordinate unions to assess its members for political purposes was defeated.

The allowing of sub lists was prohibited.

A proposition was offered that provided that where two parties holding cards entered the matrimonial state only one card should be issued. This was defeated.

It was voted to change section 163, General Laws, by inserting the words "Printers' League of America." This displaces the typhothetae, the disrupted organization of the "open" shop employers.

All attempts to change the present priority law proved fruitless.

The label committee recommended that the president be instructed to take up the matter of printing of I. O. O. F. lodges with the officers of the Sovereign Grand Lodge and it was so voted.

It was voted that candidates for political office be requested to have the label on their business as well as political printing.

A resolution of appreciation of the action of the Modern Woodmen of America was passed, they having ordered the label on all their printing.

A resolution endorsing the Printers' League of America and its attitude toward union labor was passed and the request made to do all in our power to aid the formation of branches of said league.

The matter of the printing of envelopes by the government was protested against by the New York delegation in Proposition No. 180, which was disposed of by referring it to the executive council.

The endeavor of the American Peace society for international peace was appreciated and commended.

The I. T. U. president was authorized to attend all national conferences that have for their purpose the righting of industrial and economic wrongs.

It was voted to have the council take active steps for the organization of Cuba, Porto Rico and Mexico.

The executive council was urged to at once commence the organizing of the craft on a better basis than at present in the southeast.

It was shown that over 2,000 members had been added during the past year.

The present old age pension laws were amended as follows: Section 6, article VI, by-laws, by striking out the words, "and who has no other adequate means of support."

Also by amending section 8 of the same article to read, "Any member earning $4 or over in any one week at the printing trade shall not be entitled to pension for that week."

All other propositions looking to an amendment of the old age pension laws that were offered as well as some favoring the adoption of an insurance, failed except this substitute offered by the committee.

The secretary-treasurer is directed to formulate a comprehensive plan for gathering and compiling such statistics as may be of value in administering the old age pension law, and act as a basis from which to work should a future convention desire to enact insurance legislation."

The following, submitted by Delegate Merk of Cambridge Union, was adopted: "Resolved, That the executive council of the International Typographical Union be and is hereby instructed to inaugurate an energetic fight against all school text-books of the firms of Ginn & Co. (The Athenaeum Press), Houghton, Mifflin & Co. (The Riverside Press), D. C. Heath & Co., and Silver, Burdett & Co., and be it further

"Resolved, That the executive council of the I. T. U. request the cooperation of the A. F. of L. in this matter."

AMERICAN FEDERATION.

Denver Convention Will be Guests of the Typographical Union.

The annual convention of the American Federation of Labor will be held in Denver in November, and it promises to be the largest convention in the history of the organization.

The Typographical Union is justly proud of its home at Colorado Springs, and is anxious that union men of every craft shall know about it.

At Boston the I. T. U. appropriated $1,000 with which to pay the expense of entertaining the Denver convention with an excursion to the Home at Colorado Springs.

A special train will be provided, and a fine luncheon will be served on the Home grounds. The distance from Denver to Colorado Springs is about sixty-five miles, and the whole entertainment will occupy less than a day.

CARPENTERS WIN VICTORY.

Force Big New York Firm to Come Across and Be Good.

A short time ago The Wageworker told how the Brunswick-Balke-Collender company of New York had sought the courts to protect it from the onslaughts of the union carpenters of New York City.

Well, the stuff's off, so to speak. The company has withdrawn its suit for damages and has signed up with the carpenters' union.

From now on it will employ union men only. It took a long while to bring this company to its senses, but patience and determination finally brought success.
