

LABOR TEMPLE DIRECTORS.

Will Resume Regular Meetings Next Monday Evening October 5.

The board of directors of the Lincoln Labor Temple Building association will resume regular meetings, beginning next Monday evening. The meetings will be held at the Commercial club room until further arrangements are made.

All members of the board are urged to be present next Monday night, as there will be considerable to do before the loose threads can be picked up after the long vacation.

KEEP THIS IN MIND.

Election of Taft Means Appointment of Four Injunction Judges.

Here is a fact for union men to keep in mind while voting for president next November.

The man who is elected president at the next election will have the appointment of four justices of the supreme court of the United States.

Does organized labor want four more injunction judges appointed to the supreme bench?

If not, see that you vote against injunction Bill.—Kansas City Labor Herald.

To approve or indorse the candidacy of William H. Taft would mean to indorse the recent decisions of the United States supreme court, to vote for and elect him would mean to seal labor's doom.—LaCrosse Labor Journal.

BUT IT SAVED THE BABY.

Dr. Matthews Tells of Queer Incident of Family's Faith.

"When people in our part of the country select a family physician they stick to him," says Dr. John Matthews of Illinois, according to the Washington Herald. "If he goes away they won't call in somebody else if they can possibly help it. They have faith in nobody but their own man, so long as he manages to be fairly successful. Last spring I went up to Chicago for a few days, much to the distress of a young mother in our town, who expects me to inspect her only baby every other day at least. The second day of my stay she telegraphed me to come home at once. Baby was sick—she told me the trouble—she didn't know what to do. It wasn't an urgent case, I knew, so I wired back a reassuring message, told her to give the baby a dose of some medicine she had at hand, and to fill out the ten words I put in 'Prognosis admirable.' I always like to use large words when I'm telegraphing—makes me feel that I'm getting the worth of my money, you know. When I got home two days later I went to see the baby. 'She's all right now,' the mother told me, 'but we were awfully worried. We had to rely on the medicine you left, though. The boy at the drug store said they didn't have a bit of prognosis in the place.'"

Cherries in England.

It is still asserted in schoolbooks that cherries were introduced to this country by the "fruiterer" or green-grocer of Henry VIII.; also that they were not common for a hundred years after that time. It is a surprising error. Mr. Thomas Wright found the name in every one of the Anglo-Saxon vocabularies which he edited. So common were they, and so highly esteemed, that the time for gathering them became a recognized festival—"cherry fair" or "feast."—London Cornhill Magazine.

Man's Blundering Reason.

Beasts, birds and insects, even to the minutest and meanest of their kind, act with the unerring providence of instinct; man, the while, who possesses a higher faculty, abuses it, and, therefore, goes blundering on. They, by their unconscious and unhesitating obedience to the laws of nature, fulfill the end of their existence; he, in willful neglect of the laws of God, loses sight of the end of his.—Southey.

Her Sympathy.

Little Margaret was enduring a visit from her bolsterous cousins from the west. One evening after the children said their prayers, their talk turned on heaven. Henry, Dick and Bob wished to know if they would go there when they died. When an affirmative answer was given, little Margaret exclaimed with heartfelt sympathy: "Poor Dad."—Life.

English Postmistress' Travels.

Miss Trimmingham, a postmistress and letter carrier of Fishlake, near Doncaster, has been "postman" for 37 years, and in charge of the postoffice for 23 years. Her journeys total 6,186 miles in 12 months. During the whole of the time she has been off duty for only seven days, and has walked over 200,000 miles.

Misplaced Kindnesses.

Kindnesses misplaced are nothing but a curse and disservice.—Ennius.

Or the Lubricating Oil.

Love makes the world go round, but money buys the axle grease.

CENTRAL LABOR UNION.

Will Elect Delegate to National Convention at Next Meeting.

At its next meeting, which will be a week from next Tuesday, the Central Labor Union will be called upon to elect a delegate to the national convention which will be held in Denver next month. The official call for the convention is out and the local central body is entitled to one delegate. To date the Lincoln Central body has been represented but once at a national convention, and then only for a few minutes. The occasion was when the editor of The Wage-worker went to Minneapolis to invite the American Federation of Labor to hold its next convention in Lincoln. And, by the way, if the invitation had been properly backed up at that time by the men who would have profited most, the convention could have been secured for Lincoln.

There are as yet no avowed candidates for the position of delegate to the Denver convention. Whoever goes will have the pleasure of paying his own expenses.

W. H. Hardy has announced that he will appear before the next meeting and make a few remarks of a business and personal nature.

It is expected that the newly organized Bakery Workers' Union will be represented by duly elected delegates at the next meeting.

A CARD OF THANKS.

We take this method of thanking the many friends who so kindly assisted our little daughter during her long illness, and who sympathized with us so deeply in our bereavement. We wish also to extend our heartfelt thanks to those who sent flowers.

MR. AND MRS. G. M. WATHAN.

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION.

Will Meet Next Sunday and Transact a Big Grist of Business.

Lincoln Typographical Union No. 209 will meet tomorrow afternoon at Fraternity hall, it being the date of the regular monthly meeting. The usual amount of routine business will be transacted, and some matters of especial importance will be given attention.

The printers who read Alfred Henry Lewis' story in Human Life, in which he told of the visit made by himself and Humphrey O'Sullivan to the home of Elbert Hubbard, have been watching for that "page ad" that Lewis was so evidently fishing for. To date they haven't seen it. The explanation may be found in that fact that "Human Life" is not on the fair list of the International Typographical Union.

"I never knew it to fail," complained "Doc" Righter the other day. "Just as sure as a fellow shows up with a nice little letter telling what a fine printer he is, he turns out to be a barnstormer of the worst description. I've been bamboozled by the letter dodge for the last time."

"Billy" Bustard is at the Righter shop, where three machines are being worked two shifts on account of rushing business.

The Daily Nebraskan has made another machine situation and another ad and make-up sit.

Wells Compton talked to the Lincoln Ad club last Tuesday noon, and he told them a few things that will benefit them and the printerman—if the ad men will only give heed.

JERE'S SAGE ADVICE.

If there is a labor paper in your city help it along by subscribing, and helping it with whatever advertising you can turn its way; the fellows that are running labor papers are fighting your battles and are therefore entitled to whatever assistance you can give them. Boost printers' ink, and it will help you every time; tell the public at intervals that you are on earth by advertising either your label or button.—Jere L. Sullivan, in Mixer and Server.

WRONG LOCATION.

For the terrible crime of stealing a pair of pants worth one dollar, 17-year-old Antonio Parenti was sentenced to ten years in state prison by Judge Crain of New York. He ought to do his stealing in Pittsburg, where two bank officials only got ten years for stealing $1,500,000.—Philadelphia Trades Unionist.

BRYAN'S HOT SHOT.

One of the best shots Bryan has handed to the Roosevelt-Taft combination was to ask the president if he would remain in the White House during the next four years to see that Taft kept the Roosevelt promises—provided Taft was elected. An entitled presidency will hardly appeal to the American people.—Detroit Union Advocate.

THE LABOR MOVEMENT WAS BORN OF HUNGER—HUNGER FOR BREAD IN THE BEGINNING. IT IS STILL A HUNGER, BUT NOW IT IS FOR THE BETTER THINGS OF LIFE—BETTER EDUCATION, BETTER IDEALS, HIGHER POSSIBILITIES AND A HIGHER PLACE IN THE SCALE OF CIVILIZATION.—SAMUEL GOMPERS.
