

PE-RU-NA

For Cramps in the Stomach of Six Years' Standing.

"I was troubled with cramps in the stomach for six years. I tried many kinds of medicine, also was treated by three doctors.

"They said that I had nervous dyspepsia. I took the medicine for two years, then I got sick again and gave up all hopes of getting cured.

"I saw a testimonial of a man whose case was similar to mine, being cured by Peruna, so thought I would give it a trial. I procured a bottle at once, and commenced taking it.

"I have taken nineteen bottles, and am entirely cured. I believe Peruna is all that is claimed for it."—Mrs. J. C. Jamison, 81 Marchant St., Watsonville, Cal.

CHILD ATE CUTICURA OINTMENT.

Spread Whole Box of it on Crackers—Not the Least Injury Resulted.

Cuticura Thus Proven Pure and Sweet.

A New York friend of Cuticura writes:

"My three year old son and heir, after being put to bed on a trip across the Atlantic, investigated the stateroom and located a box of graham crackers and a box of Cuticura Ointment. When a search was made for the box, it was found empty and the kid admitted that he had eaten the contents of the entire box spread on the crackers. It cured him of a bad cold and I don't know what else."

No more conclusive evidence could be offered that every ingredient of Cuticura Ointment is absolutely pure, sweet and harmless. If it may be safely eaten by a young child, none but the most beneficial results can be expected to attend its application to even the tenderest skin or youngest infant.

The Secret of Success.

The motto of success was given in this tale, told at a banquet:

A Swede among the miners in the west was noted for always striking pay dirt. His fellows thought that there must be some secret to the unusual success of the Swede and questioned him as to how he always succeeded in finding the spot where the gold cropped out.

"Well, Ay don't know ef Ay can tell anyt'ing 'bout dat," answered Ole. "Ay only know dat Ay stay keep on diggin'."—Milwaukee Free Press.

Value of Aspirations.

VETERAN CATCHERS WORK AS COACHES

FORMER DIAMOND STARS VALUABLE IN WHIPPING YOUNGSTERS INTO SHAPE.

TRAINING OF COLT PITCHERS

Those Who Show Promise in Need of Careful Watching, So That They Do Not Injure Themselves—Old Hands at Conditioning Game Round Into Form Slowly.

Veteran ball players who have retired from active work on the diamond and who have proved their ability to handle promising recruits to the major league ranks are being signed each year by enterprising managers of the big-league teams as special coaches for the young players under trial.

Last year Manager McAleer of the Browns inaugurated the innovation by appointing Jack O'Connor as assistant manager or special coach for the St. Louis team, and so successful did the plan prove that this season three other major league clubs have signed veteran catchers to coach the young twirlers, and Manager McGraw has gone a step further by signing Arlie Latham to coach the New York team during the game. This is not Latham's first job of this kind, however, as he held the same kind of a position with Cincinnati while John T. Brush, now president of the New York club, was the principal owner of the Reds.

"Kid" Gleason of the Philadelphia Nationals, Charlie Farrell of the New York Americans, Jim McGuire of the Cleveland Americans, and Wilbert Robertson of the New York Nationals, are the four who hold positions as special coaches of the players.

The training of the young pitchers in the spring is one of the duties which every manager gives his strictest attention to, for it means a great deal to the club as well as the pitcher. Every year each club in the major leagues has several pitchers on its list who never make their appearance in a regular championship game. But this does not mean that they have been found worthless. Many of them are not ripe for big-league company, and when they are sent back to the minor leagues for another year of seasoning the manager of the team that sends them back generally has a pretty good line on what may be expected of the youngsters in the future.

In selecting the promising material and picking out the men who are worth carrying on the regular pay roll it is the wisdom of the veteran player that shows itself, and this is where veteran players like Gleason, Farrell, Robinson and McGuire come into play. When the team goes south for its spring practice the young players need to be watched. Ambition to show up in good shape before the manager, with the hope of landing a permanent place on the team, often causes the young player to injure himself, so that he is of little use to the club for several weeks, and this means heavy expense to the club, and probably the loss of a job to the player.

The reports from the southern training camps are generally filled with what the young players are doing and how fast they are working. But one seldom reads of the veteran players killing themselves getting into condition in a hurry. They have been through the mill, and know what it is to take care of themselves until the time comes to let out their true form. With a trained man in each camp to watch over the over-anxious players the chance of having the hospital list full all the time is greatly lessened, and this is one of the things figured out by Manager Bresnahan when he decided to hold Billy Gilbert to watch the Cardinals in their work.

SOFT JOB FOR FORMER TIGER

Eddie Siever.

Eddie Siever, formerly with the Detroit American league team, has signed up with the Aberdeen club of the Northwestern league, better known as the Pacific-Northwest, at a fat salary with a non-reserve clause. His salary is to be better than he received in Indianapolis last year, though the league is class B. Aberdeen finished third last year, its last pennant winner being in 1907, but with the crack left hander hopes to land the bunting this coming season. This is the eighth year the league has been under national protection.

THE CRACKING OF PAINT.

Property Owners Can Save Money by Learning the Cause.

Do you know what is wrong when paint peels, or cracks, or otherwise necessitates re-painting?

Well, sometimes it hasn't been properly applied—the surface being damp or there being too much turpentine or too much drier.

But, nine times out of ten, the trouble is caused by adulterated white lead.

To avoid all such trouble, every houseowner should know in a general way, when a surface is in proper condition to receive paint, what kind of primer and finishing coats different surfaces require, and how to avoid adulteration in materials.

A complete painting guide, including a book of color schemes, specifications for all kinds of painting work, and an instrument for detecting adulterations in painting materials, with directions for using it, can be had free by writing National Lead Company, 1902 Trinity Bldg., New York, and asking for Houseowner's Painting Outfit No. 49.

This company, the largest makers of pure white lead, invites tests, by means of the blowpipe (included in outfit), or in any other way, of the purity of the white lead sold under their famous "Dutch Boy Painter" trademark. That trademark on a keg of white lead is in itself an absolute guarantee of purity and quality.

The Strenuous Blanche.

One of Blanche Bates' most intimate friends is telling a rather funny story about this clever actress.

"She came into my house one evening very much excited, and I said to her: 'Blanche, for heaven's sake, what is the matter? You seem to be all gone to pieces.'"

"'Matter enough,' she answered, as her voice shook with anger. 'I have been accosted by a man in the streets.'"

"'What did you do?' I asked.

"'I hauled off and hit him in the face,' she answered, and I said to him: 'You dirty dog, would you speak to a defenseless woman?'"

"'And where was he when you said this?' I again inquired.

"'Rolling in the gutter where he fell when I hit him,' she said, in a surprised tone at my question."—Toledo.

Presents and Souvenirs Distributed on Casey's Birthday.

"Yis," began Mrs. O'Toole, "ye see, it was Casey's birthday yesterday, an' Casey brought home two bottles of rale stuff—one inside an' one outside—to silybrate the occasion, an' they jist had the toime of their lives last evenin'. Iv'rybody happy an' iv'rybody handin' out presents an' souvenirs of the evint to iv'rybody else!"

"Casey gave his wife an' his mother-in-law a black eye apiece; his wife give Casey a punch in the bread basket; his mother-in-law give him a side swipe with a skillet; an' Casey give the old lady another black eye to keep company with the first one; an' the police come an' give Casey a ride to the station house; an' this mornin' the judge took a hand in the game, an' give Casey ten days!"

"Oh, 'twas a gran' silybration they had all 'round, wid remembrances an' souvenirs handed out regardless of ix sense or who they happened to hit!"

Paddy's Cat.

An Irishman, fresh from the "ould sod," secured a job with a lumbering crew in the Minnesota woods. While sound asleep in his bunk one night a lynx slipped in at the open window, espied Paddy's brindle whiskers, and promptly pounced on its supposed enemy. A terrific contest ensued, during which Paddy's clothing was reduced to ribbons, but ended happily, when the brawny son of Erin secured a half Nelson on the beast and heaved it bodily through the window.

He was instantly surrounded by a score of excited and admiring woodsmen. After examining himself critically, Paddy straightened up slowly, and remarked with distinct emphasis:

"'Bedad, if I knew the dom mon that owned that cat I'd be after rammin' me fist down th' throat av 'im—I wud that!'—N. H. Crowell, in Judge.

Disraeli Long on Ancestors.

At a dinner party two or three men got into a somewhat tiresome talk about the antiquity of their families. Disraeli turned to a friend and said: "Think of these fellows talking about the antiquity of their families to me—to me, whose ancestor was the accepted lover of the queen of Sheba."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; also cases of tinnitus are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.
