

THE HINT GENTEEL.

Mr. Saphead—By Jove, it's nearly 12 o'clock. Perhaps I had better be gone.
Miss Smart—Well, they say "Never put off till to-morrow what you can do to-day."

Obedience.
Prompt and unquestioning obedience is the corner stone of the foundation of success in life. No man can give orders properly who has not learned to take them, and "save he serve, no man may rule." It will be found that the men who have won their way to positions of power and responsibility have invariably been the men who did not reason or argue or even "respectfully represent," but who promptly did as they were commanded without questioning. It is the large man, not the little man, who recognizes a superior authority.

Sheer white goods, in fact, any fine wash goods when new, owe much of their attractiveness to the way they are laundered, this being done in a manner to enhance their textile beauty. Home laundering would be equally satisfactory if proper attention was given to starching, the first essential being good starch, which has sufficient strength to stiffen, without thickening the goods. Try Defiance Starch and you will be pleasantly surprised at the improved appearance of your work.

Not Hard to Please.
"Woman may be uncertain and coy," remarked the boarding house philosopher, "but she isn't hard to please. That's where the poet is wrong."

"What new light have you had on that subject, Mr. McGinnis?" asked the landlady.
"She'll put up with almost any kind of stick for a husband and wear any old thing on her head for a hat."

His Professional Habit.
"How did that sculptor leave his affairs?"
"In a strictly professional condition."
"What do you mean?"
"In statu quo."

"Before I threw him over," said the third-year debutante, looking up from the face-steaming machine, "he shaved every day."

BURDENS LIFTED

From Bent Backs.
A bad back is a heavy handicap to those of us who have to work every day. Nine times out of ten, backache tells of kidney weakness. The only way to find relief is to cure the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills have given sound strong backs to thousands of men and women. Mrs. Wesley Clemens, 311

Marion St., Manchester, Ia., says: "Constant work at a sewing machine seemed to bring on kidney trouble. The kidney action was irregular and the pains in my back and loins so severe I could hardly endure it. Doan's Kidney Pills made me feel better in a short time, and I took them until entirely free from my trouble."

Prominent Women Aid Good Cause.
A large number of women occupying prominent positions in society, or on the stage, are taking an active interest in the anti-tuberculosis campaign. Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt has recently given $1,000,000 for sanitary homes for consumptives. Mrs. Keith Spaulding of Chicago has erected a sanitarium for the Chicago Tuberculosis Institute at a cost of about $50,000; Mrs. Collis P. Huntington and Mrs. Borden Harriman have given largely to the consumption fight. In Porto Rico, Mrs. Albert Norton Wood, wife of a prominent army officer stationed at San Juan, has stirred the entire island through the anti-tuberculosis crusade she inaugurated. Mrs. Emma Calve is a most enthusiastic worker, and has given largely of her talent and money for the relief of tuberculosis sufferers, and Miss Olga Nethersole has even lectured before the public on tuberculosis.

Couldn't Stand It.
A Raleigh, N. C., woman not long ago received into her house for "training" a "cracker" girl from the mountains.

Endeavor was made to inculcate in the girl a love for order and cleanliness, but suddenly this discipline ceased, for the "poor white" fled to her home in the fastnesses. Thither the Raleigh woman traced her after some difficulty.

"Why did you leave me, Mary Jane?" she asked.
"Mis' Morgan, I jes' couldn't stay!" exclaimed the girl. "I was jes' cloyed with neatness!"

Mar-vel-lous!

For Tender Meat.
Do you love to have your meats tender? Then never allow them to boil when cooking in water. Tough meats become tender by proper cooking, while the reverse of this is equally true. Indeed, hard boiling in salted water will toughen the best piece of meat ever sold. Consequently, always let the kettle simmer on the back of the stove and your meats will generally become nice and tender.

Savory Mutton with Carrots.
Boil a lean piece of mutton and, after skimming, add salt and three or four large carrots, cut in small cubes. When done remove the meat and brown in the oven. Cream part of the carrots for a side dish and leave the rest in the liquor, which makes delicate soup. If preferred, a little cream may be added to the soup, with butter and flour for thickening. Season to taste. The carrots take away the strong taste of the mutton.

New Bedford is again restored to the map by the report of the master of a whaling ship that was fitted out in that port and has returned with a record. The ship has brought back to New Bedford more than 2,000 barrels of whale oil of a value of more than $40,000. This means probably that Capt. Hagerty's crew captured 40 or 50 "leviathans of the deep," which is pretty good business when one considers that the whale oil fishing has been regarded as largely a thing of the past.

To Stew Tough Meat.
A tough piece of meat can be stewed in a double boiler in half the time required to cook it directly over the fire.

MAKES HOT RELISH

CURRY ADDS TO PIQUANCY OF VARIOUS DISHES.

Chicken and Veal Are Particularly Adapted for This Form of Seasoning—Curried Eggs for Luncheon or Sunday Tea.

Curry, the Cinghalese sauce or relish whose making is one of the mysteries of the orient, is the foundation, or at least leit motif, of all sorts of "curried" dishes, more particularly chicken and veal, by means of which the hostess or housewife can curry favor with her dinner-guests.

Onions, garlic, pepper, turmeric, ground cocoanut and fermented milk are only a few of the simples which enter into the composition of this hot Hindoo condiment—which, like most so-called national dishes, including our own American mincepie, owed its original invention to some accident, famine or emergency. It comes in powder form.

The average table-d'hot idea of curry is a watery chicken stew with a little curry-powder thrown into it at the last moment. The real thing is quite different.

Almost any flesh food can be curried to the queen's taste, but chicken is the most popular. For this dish procure a good-sized stewing fowl; also, if desired, a couple of pounds of veal cutlet. Skin the fowl and cut the meat in pieces. Slice an onion and fry in butter, to which a tablespoonful of curry powder has been added. Then put in the meat, pour in some water, cover the kettle and let simmer by the hour over a slow fire. It may be well to reinforce the curry flavor by adding another spoonful of powder, as the boiling proceeds. Keep it irrigated, so as not to burn or scorch. Just before serving put on a blanket of "thickening," made with either flour or cornstarch.

Rice is boiled in the eastern fashion as follows: Throw half a cupful of rice into a large kettle two-thirds full of salted boiling water; leave it to boil 20 minutes, strain through a colander, then steam five minutes over a tea kettle, until the separate kernels are light and dry. Rice, thus prepared, accompanies all curries.

The curry should be placed in the center of a large platter, with the rice piled around it as a border. Cut narrow stripes of sweet red Spanish peppers and place in crosses on the rice as a garnish. Green peppers also can be used to enhance the color scheme.

Serve also a dish of grated young cocoanut, a dish of chutney, some Madras pickles and possibly a scoop of guava jelly.

Bombay duck (which is no duck at all, but a small dried fish), is another Hindoostanee hot relish, which doubtless would be more popular with occidentals if it did not smell to heaven when warmed up in the oven.

In making beef curry the round is used, the process being the same as with chicken, except that a not-too-tart apple or two may be utilized for the thickening, being stewed with the meat after it has been boiling three hours.

An artful luncheon or Sunday tea dish is made by currying eggs. Make a white sauce, to which has been added a tablespoonful of curry powder, and pour it over hard-boiled eggs cut in quarter sections.

Almost all shellfish, too, can be curried in a way to make the most savage gastronome eat out of your hand.

Cream Tartar Biscuits.
One quart of flour, sifted; two cups of milk, butter size of an egg, two even teaspoons of cream tartar, one even teaspoon of soda; put butter in flour and mix until it disappears, then cream of tartar, then soda mixed in a little milk; stir and then take out and knead slightly, then cut with biscuit cutter.

Coffee Cream.
One and one-half cupfuls of hot coffee, one-half cupful of cream or milk, one tablespoonful of granulated gelatin, two-thirds cupful of sugar, pinch of salt, yolks of two eggs. Cook like a soft custard. When cool add the beaten whites of the eggs and one-half teaspoonful of vanilla.

Hot Wheat Gems.
Beat two eggs in a dish, with one-half teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of sugar, one pint of milk, two cups of flour and one teaspoonful melted butter, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Beat all together well and place in muffin pans and bake 20 minutes in a hot oven.

Small Side Dishes.
Small side dishes, once so numerous, are now used for nothing save, perhaps, a thin apple or rhubarb sauce. Rarely more than two vegetables are served with the meat course.

Fruit Icing.
A nice filling for any kind of layer cake is one-half cupful of raspberry or strawberry sauce, one cupful of sugar, and the white of one egg, all put in a pan at once and beaten until light.

Excellent Iron Rest.
A fire brick is an excellent iron rest. It will help to retain the heat in the flatiron much more than the ordinary metal iron stand.

SKIN ROUGH AS BARK.
Baby Boy Had Intense Itching Humors—Scatched Till Blood Ran.
Found a Cure in Cuticura.

"Our son, two years old, was afflicted with a rash. After he suffered with the trouble several weeks I took him to the doctor but it got worse. The rash ran together and made large blisters. The little fellow didn't want to do anything but scratch and we had to wrap his hands up to keep him from tearing the flesh open till the blood would run. The itching was intense. The skin on his back became hard and rough like the bark of a tree. He suffered intensely for about three months. But I found a remedy in Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. The result was almost magical. That was more than two years ago and there has not been the slightest symptom of it since he was cured. J. W. Lauck, Yukon, Okla., Aug. 28 and Sept. 17, 1908."
