JEALOUSY'S AWFUL WORK.

A Nevada Husband Kills Two Men—Is in Turn Shot by His Wife.

LOVELOCK, Nev., July 16.—Mrs. Robert Logan of this place, recently applied for a divorce from her husband, who was insanely jealous of her. A few days ago she went to Cottonwood to visit her mother. Logan followed, and that night attacked and severely wounded Dan Lovelock, the stage driver. Mrs. Logan brought the stage back Wednesday she went to Cottonwood to bring Lovelock home and drove with the wounded man on the seat beside her. Fred Sullivan, a stranger, was on the rear seat.

About dusk Logan rode up on horseback. He was armed with a Winchester and ordered his wife to leave the stage and go with him. She refused, saying she was going home. Logan then said he would go too and rode on behind. About two hours later Mrs. Logan heard a shot and, turning, saw Sullivan fall with a bullet through his heart. Then the murderer shot Lovelock, who was too weak to defend himself, and he fell dead in Mrs. Logan's lap.

Logan then got into the stage and taking the reins from his wife drove to the well, into which he said he intended to throw the bodies of the murdered men, and then would kill his wife. She persuaded him to water the horses first and as he stooped to secure a bucket from under the stage she took a pistol from Lovelock's pocket and when he arose she shot him. He begged for mercy, but taking aim, she fired again and he fell behind the stage. She dismounted and fired one more shot into her husband's prostrate form to make sure that he was dead.

Leaving Logan's body lying in the dust, the plucky woman drove into town with the other dead men and told the news.

SHOT THROUGH THE HEART.

Two Men Ambush and Assault a Third, When Murder Resulted.

MOBERLY, Mo., July 16.—Alex McCambridge and Bert Kimball, brakemen here, ambushed and assaulted Charlie Clark, a brakeman, who has been working during the strike, yesterday afternoon, striking him in the mouth and nose. Clark shot Mr. McCambridge through the heart. Kimball took hold of a by-stander and, keeping him between Clark and himself, backed away until Clark was arrested. Clark was hurried to the depot heavily guarded, and a few minutes later placed on a train and taken to Mexico for safe keeping. Clark and McCambridge each have a wife and two children. Clark's parents live at Laddonia and are highly respected.

Mrs. Cleveland at a Wedding.

BUZZARD'S BAY, Mass., July 16.—The wedding of Charles Archibald Brown, son of Edwin Lee Brown, the Chicago glass manufacturer, to Miss Hester Wentworth, niece of Mrs. Joseph Jefferson, took place at noon to-day at "The Crow's Nest," Mrs. Jefferson's country home. The Rev. A. Edward Horton of Boston, performed the ceremony. Mrs. Grover Cleveland and Commodore and Mrs. E. C. Benedict were among the guests.

LATEST TARIFF REPORTS.

Iron Likely to Remain on the Dutiable List—Concessions to the House.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—It was announced to-day that the tariff conferrees had agreed to scale down the cotton schedule about five per cent from the senate rate and the woolen schedule also has been brought down a considerable per cent, making it more in accordance with the house rates while the tobacco schedule has been brought back to the house rate on the important item of wrappers, the rate being $1 instead of the senate rates of $1.50 and $2.25.

The metal schedule has not been materially changed from the rates fixed by the senate. Neither iron nor steel has been carried back to the free list as in the house bill and while the decision is not final there is every reason to believe that the senate rate of forty cents per ton on each will stand.

The income tax has not yet been reached but there is little disagreement except on the item of limiting the tax to five years and on this the conferrees have not yet come together. The issue between the ad valorem and specific rates thus far has not resulted in as much of a return to the house ad valorem rates as was expected, as it has been found that in some cases the ad valorem rates were greatly in excess of the specific.

The whisky schedule has been a source of determined contest for two days, the main effort being to secure a compromise on the basis of $1 per gallon and an extension of the bonding period to five years. This is resisted on the ground that while it is an apparent increase of ten cents in the tax, it will, in fact, yield the government no additional revenue.

The house conferrees are willing to grant an extension of two years over the time fixed by the house bill for the bonded period on whisky, but the senators are holding out for the entire period of eight years and for the full twenty cents a gallon increase of the tax.

THE ENDEAVORERS.

More Enthusiasm Than Ever at the Convention—Features of the Day.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 16.—The oppressive heat of yesterday was followed by a refreshing lake breeze to-day, increasing the enthusiasm, if such a thing were possible, of the great multitude attending the sessions of the Christian Endeavor convention. The big tent meeting which was presided over by Rev. B. B. Tyler, D. D., of New York, was opened with the usual praise and prayer service. An open discussion came next upon "What are the benefits of international fellowship," conducted by Dr. James Lewis Howe of Louisville, Ky. After many brief reports from the denominational rallies and prayers for brothers and sisters in other lands, the Rev. Wayland Hoyt of Minneapolis spoke upon the topic "Interdenominational Fellowship."

The morning exercises at Saengerfest hall were largely devoted to the junior society, followed by brief reports, presentation of diplomas, praise service and short addresses.

CHAMP CLARK HEARD FROM.

The Missouri Violently Attacks the Civil Service Law.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—After passing a bill for the construction of a bridge across the Mississippi river at Eagle Point, Dubuque, the house went into committee on the whole to consider the bill for the creation of a retired list for disabled officers of the revenue marine service.

Mr. Clark of Missouri in the course of his remarks, made a general assault on the civil service system, which he declared was the most monumental fraud of the century. "Not ten men in this house," he said, "could stand an examination for a $900 clerkship. Why, they asked one man over there how many British soldiers were sent here during the revolutionary war. The applicant replied that he did not know the exact number, that he knew a— more came over than went back."

DEMOCRATIC PRAYER.

No. VIII.

This week we take up our regular political devotional services which were left off some weeks ago, Mr. Morgan having consented to do the praying for several weeks yet, or until a substitute can be found. This series of "prayers" is taken from the National Reformer, a bright Populist paper published at Hardy, Ark.

Prayer.

Our political father which art in Washington, Grover be thy name. Thy congress come. Thy will be done in the regular session, as it was in the extra one. Give us this day our usual cussing. And forgive us our political sins as we forgive the republicans who have sinned against us. Lead us not into the temptation of riches, but deliver us into poverty. Thy name is great, most gracious master, and like thy stomach, growing greater every day.

Thou surveyest the coming storm and thy eye quaileth not, nor dost thy hand, which is trained to hold the falshole, tremble a little bit. Thou sittest serene upon thy throne, and ruleth thy people with an eye single to thy pocketbook. Thou art like the duck that spreadeth its downy wings and swimmeth upon the glassy bosom of the lake to ally unconscious of the thousand fathoms beneath.

Panics come and go, but they harm not a hair of thy head. Thou holdest out thy hand, and the golden shekels fall into it like drops of ran on a summer's day.

Thou stretchest out thy leg, and lo, the newspaper correspondents break their necks in their wild scramble to see which leg it is thou stretchest, that they may report it to their papers. Thou takest snuff, and every mother's son of us sneezes. Thou stumpest thy toe, and lo, we all limp.

Thou gettest on a howling drunk, and heaven and earth are bent to keep it a secret.

Oh, mighty Cleveland, we are proud of thee.

Thou art our king, our savior, our prophet, our all.

When thou sayest come, we come. When thou sayest go, we go.

When thou sayest stop, we break short off.

We are democrats.

It is the business of a democrat to do as he is told.

Whatever thou tellest us to do, that we will do.

We belong to thee.

We would rather bask in thy frown, and be patted on the back by the fellow who wants to be a democratic sheriff or clerk for $3,000 a year, than to see our wife "all smiles to-night, love," and our children clothed and well fed.

Already, most worshipful master, the local politician has twisted his face into a radiant smile. We got two smiles and a drink yesterday, and, oh, mighty Cleveland, our heart leaped for joy.

Most worshipful master, the Populists sorely distress us. They ply us with questions, and talk about principles and platforms.

What do we know about principles? What do we care about platforms? We only know that there is one kind of democrat, divided into two classes.

The duty of one class is to hold office and draw salaries. This is patriotism.

The duty of the other class is to vote as they are told. This is democracy.

We are expected to get our salary out of 40-cent wheat and 7-cent cotton.

This is business.

That is all we know. That is all we want to know. Sticking to the party while we go ragged and hungry, both us and our children, is proof of our democracy.

We glory in our faith and firmness. We will work it out on this line if it takes our lives, our farms, and all we have.

We see glory enough in one campaign to last us to another.

We would rather carry a torchlight in a democratic procession than to dwell in a house of plenty with our wife and children.

We would rather wear a democratic rooster in our hat than to be clothed in fine raiment and take our tired wife a buggy ride.

We see now, oh, most gracious master, the benefits of thy gold policy. It has removed money; "the love of which is the root of all evil," from our midst.

No more can the jingle of the dangerous stuff be heard in the land. It has stopped trade.

The fellow that was cheating us—robbering us—can rob us no more. We are at rock bottom.

It has made us content with that station of life to which it has pleased God to call us.

We are now in a fit condition to vote the democratic ticket.

We don't know any better. We don't want to know any better. We were promised good times. We didn't get them.

That is no reason we should forsake thee, most worshipful master. Do as it pleaseth thee.

Lie like a dog.

Promise that which thou don't intend to give.

Coax us up with a smile, and fire us away with a kick.

We will still worship thy name.

We will still prove that we are good democrats by voting the ticket.

We love thee.

We worship thee.

We adore thee.

Take us.

Take our wives.

Take our children.

Take our farms.

Take our manhood.

Turn us out of home, with hungry wives and children, but we will ever worship and adore thy name, and vote the democratic ticket forever and forever. Amen.

CHA GED AGAINST MR. COXEY.

We print below the precise charges brought against Coxeey, Browne and Jones, in order that the public may know the exact situation. The subsidized press have misrepresented this matter to such an extent that the plain facts seem necessary.

The information filed by Assistant District Attorney Mullenwey states that "Carl Browne, Christopher C. Jones and Jacob S. Coxeey, on the 1st day of May, with force and arms, did unlawfully enter upon the grounds of the United States capitol, and did then and there display a certain flag and banner designed and adopted to bring into public notice a certain organization and movement known and described as J. S. Coxeey Good Roads Association of the United States and Commonwealth of Christ," against the form of the statute in such case made and provided and against the peace and government of the United States.

The second count declares that the three defendants on the same day "did unlawfully enter upon the grounds of the United States capitol and injured certain plants and shrubs and turf then and there being and growing, by stepping and trampling upon the same."

We want every man and woman in this country to read the above carefully, that the real crime for which these men were held in $500 bonds by a court in this city may be understood. There were fully 30,000 people in this gathering who trampled on the grass, and not one of them has been arrested.

After all this blaze of trumpets and call to arms to drive off "the enemy," as the Washington papers designated this army of the commonweal, the only breach of peace committed was trespassing on the grass plat about the capitol. The cry of "Shame! Shame!" should go up from every one.

PULLMAN LABORERS.

An Effort Made to Have Them Return to Work.

The local officials at the Pullman shops are making a strong but quiet effort to get enough of the strikers to agree to return to work to justify them in opening up the works again.

A mass meeting has been called for to-morrow night at Roseland hall, One Hundred and Eleventh street and Michigan avenue, at which the question of returning to work will be discussed and a vigorous effort made to carry the meeting in favor of that move.

The reason for beginning the work of winning back the strikers in Roseland is a curious one. The great majority of the Pullman employes who live in Roseland belong to the First Reform Holland church, of which Rev. Baister Van Ess is the pastor. Mr. Van Ess has a strong influence with his congregation and holds some peculiar views on social and economic questions. He has always preached against her labor unions on the ground of his opposition to secret societies and the administering of oaths to members in the ceremony of initiation. Relying upon these facts the agents of the company have concluded that their best chance to effect a breach in the ranks of the strikers is by means of the Roseland contingent.

Many of the Roseland men own their own homes, and those who rent pay little more than half as much as is charged by the Pullman company for its houses. They would consequently be able to make their meager wages go much farther than the men who rent from the company.—Chicago Times.

A POPULIST COLONY.

Not content to await the slow progress of reform in politics, leading Iowa Populists have organized to make immediate practical application of their theories in a "model community" or colony. The present secretary of the Populist state committee, Mr. E. B. Ga-ton of Des Moines, is the secretary of the new organization.

The plan, which is unlike anything ever before proposed, combines the "single tax" or George theory with regard to land; the initiative and referendum; equal suffrage; paper money; public operation of public utilities and co-operative distribution or exchange—all under the law of equal freedom. "Every man has freedom to do all that he wills, provided he infringes not the equal freedom of any other man." A committee is now in the south in search of a location.

GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE To Texas, The "Fixed Star" State. GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE WORLD FAIR LIMITED 6 TO THE EAST. BEST DINING CAR SERVICE IN THE WORLD! Nothing can be clothed with more facts than the statement that thousands of farmers and fruit-growers will leave the more northern climes and locate in Texas. This was evinced by the excursion of January 9th, over the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific to Texas, and the hundreds that availed themselves of the low rate were well repaid for the trip, and if each one could be heard on the subject, the unanimous verdict would be, "It is better than I expected to see, and just suits me." Many thousands will avail themselves of these coming excursions and low rate offered, as did the hundreds on the last one, and everyone who desires to secure a farm of 100 acres, or a 20 or a 40 acre fruit tract in that land of mild climate, should not stand on the order of their going but "Go" the first excursion possible.
