He thinks the office ought to be salaried and that the change would to a maximum of $50,000 a year. He recommends that the legislature ought to authorize the publication of 10,000 copies of the session laws instead of 6,000 as now, and that all copies not required for distribution among state and county officers should be sold to the people at $1 a copy instead of $2 as now. He recommends a thorough revision of the cor-poration laws. He would make fees ficials for the purpose of deciding for filing charters greater, so as to whether the bids for the new issue of make them a considerable source of revenue to the state, and he would require exact compliance by corporations with the law in regard to annual reports. He would also require foreign corpora-t ons doing business in the state to file certified copies of their charters. For failure of any corporation to comply with the law he would fix a pen-alty of from $1,000 to $5,000 fine.

The Japanese Made a Concerted Rush With Twenty-Three Torpedo Boats. LONDON, Nov. 26.-A dispatch received here from Shanghai asserts that twenty-three Japanese torpedo boats made a concerted rush upon the entrance of the harbor of Port Arthur and that at the same time the Japanese land forces attacked the place from the rear, while a heavy artillery fire was poured into the Chinese forts. The Japanese infantry then stormed defense after defense. The Chinese resisted feebly. There were a few hand to hand fights, but finally the Chinese became panic-striken and the Japanese carried everything before them.

A dispatch to the Times from Shanghai confirms the Times' dispatch from Che Foo, that the Japanese troops are re-embarking at Port Arthur for further operations

Another dispatch from Shanghai says that the third Japanese army corps, which left Japan on November 20, is supposed to have been sent to attack Wei Wei, where a portion of the Chinese navy remains. The dispatch adds that the place will be easily captured, as the Chinese soldiers who were encamped for its defense at Chi Li are deserting in thousan is. The whole place is said to be in a state of utter collapse and coafusion.

THINGS LOOK BRIGHTER

Trade Improvement Still Continues, Though Slowly.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 .- R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: There is some change for the better. The gain is slow and in some directions not very distinct, but the signs of it are a little more definite than last week. The most important of them is the larger employment of labor, answering a better demand on the whole for manufactured products. The wheat market has lost this week the cent it gained last week, receipts being larger and the Atlantic exports are also larger, 576,771 bushels, against 703,026 last year, but these are of small account compared with the great visible supply. Foreign reports this week have been rather more promising, though the fact remains that the world's crop outside the United States is probably the largest ever grown. Corn has declined half a cent, receipts having much increased.

The mother followed and gave battle for the possession of her child. After a terrible struggle Mrs. Golobie suc- arated by the Gulf of Pe Chi Li. ceeded in striking the ferocious animal with a stone and regained possession of the child, but it was so badly injured that it died. Brilliant Generalship Displayed by the Japanese Commander in Leading His Army of 30,000 on to Victory-Cut Roads Through Forests to Avoid Chinese Powder Mines.

CHEE Foo, Nov. 26 .- Dispatches have been received here stating that the Japanese captured Port Arthur on Wednesday last, after eighteen hours fighting.

The second Japanese army, under the command of Field Marshal Count Oyama, minister of war, consisted of about 30,000 men, and when this force arrived off the Regents' Sword promontory it was divided into two detachments, one of which, aided by directed its movements against Kin paper. Chow, on the western side of the promontory, some miles north of Port Arthur. Talienwan and Kin Chow were both captured, after which the army again combined and the march on Port Arthur was com-menced. Several engagements of minor importance took place along the route, but according to the reports the Japanese were invariably successful. The roads leading northward from Port Arthur were supposed to have been mined by the Chinese and the Japanese commander therefore declined to take the risk of marching his troops along them. Consequently, they were compelled to cut roads through the forests to allow the passage of their artillery, ammunition trains, etc. The march was thus necessarily slow. Dispatches received a few days ago stated that the Japanese were close to the city, and had attacked ford to make this offer. Address, the Chinese outposts, driving them back to their entrenchments. It was also said that the Japanese attacked the entrenchments three times, but were repulsed each time. It is evident that later attacks must have been made and that the outposts Port Arthur. Several times the town is reported to have been captured, but later dispatches have shown that these reports were inaccurate, and that the Japanese were conducting were compelled to fall back upon that the Japanese were conducting their operations against the place with great carefulness, and that they intended when the real attack was made that it should be successful. Che Foo, from which place the dispatch announcing the fall of Port Arthur is sent, is a Chinese city on the north coast of Shang Tung Promontory, some ninety miles south of Port Arthur, from which it is sep-
