

WILL FIGHT FOR FOOD

Several Women and Two Little Girls Are Injured in the Battle for Provisions to Sustain Life

New York, Nov. 21.—There was a scene today at the home of the relief committee of striking cloakmakers that will not soon be forgotten by those who witnessed it. This place is a small store with a narrow door at 112 Ludlow street. Herebefore the committee has been giving out nothing but rye bread and stale bologna sausages, but yesterday it was announced that every Wednesday and Saturday hereafter the committee would give out groceries to those holding relief tickets and who have families who are really in a destitute condition.

The place is under charge of George W. Jones, a cutter by trade, who thoroughly understands these people and knows, consequently, how to deal with them. Long before the doors opened today an excited multitude of men, women and children, most of them bearing boxes and baskets, blocked the east side of Ludlow street for more than a block about 112. The near-by grocers whose entrances were choked by the crowd looked daggers at the poor wretches standing almost shoeless in the mud with their rain pouring down upon their unprotected heads and shoulders. It was a pitiable sight.

When the door finally opened at 9 o'clock there was a rush that completely upset all of Mr. Jones' plans and he was perfectly helpless in trying to restrain the seething, steaming mass of hysterical humanity, who made a concerted rush for the interior of the place. Those who arrived first, however, fared badly, for they were forced up against the rude counter placed across the store by pressure of the mob behind, until their breath was all but crushed out of them.

There were loud screams of pain, when, luckily for the injured ones, the counter gave way with a crash and at least fifty people were precipitated to the floor and there mingled with bread, potatoes, herring and sugar. In the wild scramble which immediately took place to secure the coveted food the animal in the human being came to the surface. Each struggler for food seemed for a moment to forget its presence on the floor and had only in mind the fearful possibility that his or her nearest neighbor would secure it first, and almost by common instinct each of the half-starved wretches turned fiercely upon the other and a general riot followed.

Then Mr. Jones and his lieutenants charged on the invading army and after some hard usage succeeded in driving them back and restoring order. Several women and two little girls were more or less injured, but none seriously. The other women and children made the air ring with their cries of fright. When the distribution began everyone holding a yellow ticket was supplied with two quarts of potatoes, one pound of loaf sugar, one quarter pound of coffee, four herrings in brine, and one or two loaves. A meeting of the strikers was held this evening at Walhalla hall, at which Mr. Barondess presided. There was no change in the situation, and the committee reported everything quiet.

The Christian Life

To begin a Christian life is to quit living for self and to begin living for others. It is to take up the cross, which is the measure of sacrifice and suffering required in entering fully into the Christian life. To follow Christ is nothing less than to bear this cross daily. The cross is the emblem of the suffering and sacrifice involved in the redemption of the world. The sufferings and sacrifice of Christ while on earth were not all that is required in the salvation of the world. Every man who becomes a Christian becomes a member of the body of Christ. "If one member of this body suffers the whole body suffers with it." Christ being the head of this body, of course suffers with every member, feels every pain and tastes every sorrow which is experienced by every member of the body.

Paul in a letter to his fellow Christians at Colosse, said: "I rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the church." This body, the church, embraces all the saved, and fills up to its fullness the "cup of suffering" which is necessary to complete the work of atonement and redeem the world. Paul felt that to save the world, so much suffering and sacrifice was necessary, and he seemed to be filled with an ambition to drink more of the cup and make more of the sacrifice than any other member of the body. Christ is always omnipresent in this body, every member is crucified with him, every member is filled with his spirit and has his mind, every member has fellowship with his suffering and with the afflictions that afflict every other member of the body.

The members of this body are harmonious. There is no competition between them; they co-operate and serve each other completely, just as the hands and feet and different members of the natural body serve each other. They bear one another's burdens and so fulfill the will of the head of the body which is Christ. Such a church is the light and only Savior of the world. There is no room for controversy. The only question is how to realize such a visible church. Is it possible under our system of competition? Is there any room and chance under present industrial conditions to set up such a church and give liberty to manifest itself.—Cedar Rapids Republican.

CAPT. CREEDEN REINSTATED.

The New York Police Board Revokes Its Suspension.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—When the police commissioners met to-day two resolutions were offered by Commissioner Murray, one providing for the release from suspension of Captain Creeden and the other called for a conference between the police board and Chairman Lexow of the senate committee concerning Creeden's case and other matters. Commissioner Sheehan cast the only vote against the first resolution, the second being carried unanimously.

The Large Lies

Editor WEALTH MAKERS: When SIMON PETER denied being even acquainted with Jesus, after being his student for years, listening to his just and gentle teaching. Christ did not send swift death to him. It was only a look that sent poor Peter out to weep bitterly until the resurrection morn, when he sent the tender-of-heart women to tell "my disciples and Peter that I am arisen." O what a sweet pardon to be again considered a disciple of the master, and he did outrun the rest, never again would he consider personal safety more than the truth.

When Ananias and Sapphira his wife sold their worldly possessions and fearing that the method of Christ's disciples "having all things common" might prove a failure, kept back a part and denied the fact and instant death followed each denial, why was there no compassionate pardon for them? Because their lying was against the Holy Ghost, the mother side of God's nature, the Life, Truth and Love principle about to establish on earth a true family of God, the mother nature presiding over and leading mankind to see that the family of one father must know only one heart one soul's interest, as the heart and soul interest of all; that not a necessary need for any one go unsupplied. And it was this lie of purely self interest against the common interest, and ultimate establishment of God's will done upon earth as in heaven, that could not be pardoned, but must die. To be in harmony with God is heaven in life now, and not in some far away locality. Jesus' obedience brought down the loving dove and approval of God, and descending again over heads and hearts ready to obey for the sake of, righteousness covering the earth as a garment.

The Proposed Currency Scheme

The weakness of the president's plan is not that it would not greatly increase the volume of the circulating medium of the country, for it would. It is radically wrong because it delivers over to a single privileged class, the bankers, the enormous profit on this addition to the circulating medium, and, furthermore, because it leaves the currency still upon the insufficient single-gold basis. In the ultimate under the president's plan all this vast addition to the nation's currency would be redeemable in gold, and bankers would still have it in their power to demand a bigger gold reserve and to set in motion "that endless chain constantly depleting the treasury gold and never near a final rest" which the president deplores in his message.—Chicago Times.

DON'T WAIT For a Cold to Run into Bronchitis or Pneumonia. Check it at Once WITH AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

"Early in the Winter, I took a severe cold which developed into an obstinate, hacking cough, very painful to endure and troubling me day and night, for nine weeks, in spite of numerous remedies. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral being recommended me, I began to take it, and inside of 24 hours, I was relieved of the tickling in my throat. Before I finished the bottle, my cough was nearly gone. I cannot speak too highly of its excellence."—Mrs. E. Bosch, Eaton, Ohio.

Two Additional Villages Destroyed and Many Peasants Maltreated.

ATHENS, Dec. 17.—The Armenian refugees to-day received information that Bakri Pasha, the Kurd governor of Van, went, November 14, to the district of Erdjeki and laid the Armenian villages of Bohazseken and Zohar in ruins. His troops, it is also said, committed excesses and then seized and cruelly maltreated 123 peasants and imprisoned them on the ground that they were insurgents.

Irrigated Farm Lands

FERTILE SAN LUIS VALLEY, COLORADO.

THE SAN LUIS VALLEY, COLORADO, is a stretch of level plain about as large as the State of Connecticut, lying between surrounding ranges of lofty mountains and watered by the Rio Grande River and a score or more of small tributary streams. It was the bottom of a great sea, whose deposits have made a fertile soil on an average more than ten feet deep. The mountains are covered with great deposits of snow, which melt and furnish the irrigating canals with water for the farmers' crops.

The Climate is Unrivaled.

Almost perpetual sunshine, and the elevation of about 7,000 feet dispels all malaria, nor are such pests as chinch bugs, weevil, etc., found there. Flowing artesian wells are secured at a depth, on an average, of about 100 feet, and at a cost of about $25.00 each. Such is the flow that they are being utilized for irrigating the yards, garden and vegetable crops. The pressure is sufficient to carry the water, which is pure, all through the farmers' dwellings.

Irrigation.

Already several thousand miles of large and small irrigating canals have been built and several hundred thousand acres of lands made available for farming operations. Irrigation is an insurance against failure of crops, because success is a question only of the proper application of water to them. The loss of a single corn or wheat crop in Nebraska, for instance, would more than equal the cost of irrigating canals to cover the entire state, so important is the certainty of a full crop return to any agricultural state. The San Luis Valley will grow

Spring wheat, oats, barley, peas, hops, beans, potatoes, vegetables and all kinds of small fruits and many of the hardier varieties of apples, pears and all kinds of cherries.

In the yield of all these products IT HAS NEVER BEEN SURPASSED BY ANY OTHER SECTION ON THE CONTINENT.

Forty Acres Enough Land.

FORTY ACRES IS ENOUGH LAND for the farmer of ordinary means and help. Besides the certainty of return, the yield, under the conditions of proper irrigation, will average far more than the 160-acre farms in the Mississippi and Missouri Valleys, and the outlay for machinery, farming stock, purchase money, taxes, etc., are proportionately less. There are a hundred thousand acres of such lands located in the very heart of the San Luis Valley, all within six miles of the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, convenient markets and shipping stations, for sale at $15.00 per acre. Most of these lands are fenced and have been under cultivation and in many instances have wells and some buildings,—everything ready to proceed at once to begin farming. A SMALL CASH PAYMENT only is required where the purchaser immediately occupies the premises, and long time at seven per cent. interest is granted for the deferred payments.

A Specially Low Homeseekers Rate

will be made you, your family and friends. Should you settle on these lands the amount you paid for railroad fare will be credited to you on your payments; and REMEMBER the land is perfectly and THOROUGHLY IRRIGATED, and the land and PERPETUAL WATER RIGHTS are sold you for less than other sections ask for simply the water rights without the land. NO BETTER LANDS EXIST ANYWHERE ON EARTH. For further particulars, prices of land, railroad fare, and all other information call on or address,
