April 25, 1895

THE WEALTH MAKERS.

for personal ends and the same disregard for party .- Chicago Express. LITERARY NOTES.

MacMillan & Co., are about to publish a work on Agriculture, Practical and Scientific, by Prof. James Muir. The next volume of the Economic Class edited by Prof. Ashley will be England's Treasby Prof. Ashley will be England's Treas-ure by Foreign Trade. Also, Mr. Zang-will's Children of the Ghetto will be issued in a new edition. The Columbia Univer-sity Biological Series is continued by work on Fishes, Living and Fossil. A German translation of Kidd's Social Evolution is about to be put out at Jena. Socialism will soon have another addition to its literature in An Everi addition to its literature in An Experi-ment in Altruism. Out of a list of books from 237 libraries of New York and other states conceded by the librarians to be the best twenty-five books of 1894 to be added to a village library, Mrs. Humphrey Ward's Marcella was in the lead and Benjamin Kidd's Socjal Evolution was next.

Number 75 of Houghton, Mifflin & Co's. Riverside Literature Series is George Washington—An Historical Biography by Horace E. Scudder. The book has for a frontispiece an excellent reproduction of Stuart's portrait of Washington. Mr. Cary's Life of George William Curtis was one of the six books most in de mand during February. Dr. Justin Winsor has prepared a volume entitled "The Mississippi Basin" to follow his Cartier to Frontenac.

Other books are Life of General Thomas Pinckney by Rev. Charles Cotesworth Pinckney, and Under the Man-Fig by Mrs. M. E. M. Davis.

OURBENT MAGAZINES

The School Review for April opens with a portrait of Hon. Chas. B. Skinner, superintendent of public instruction of New York. Paul Hanus then discusses a New York. Paul Hanus then discusses a Recent Tendency in Secondary Education: Rigid Courses Versus Optional Studies is good by Samuel Thurber. Roman Edu-cation by S. S. Laurie is concluded. There is an interesting account of Nomenclature in Secondary Schools by Fredk. E. Partington. Then comes, Why Not More Academies in New York State? The Book Reviews are good, as is the whole number.

The April number of the North Ameri-can Review is one of the best numbers recently issued. It opens with A Last Tribute by Ex-Speaker Reed. Admiral P. H. Colomb then discusses in an interesting article, The Future of the Torpedo in War. Two years of American Diplomacy, by Senator Gray, is excellent and shows up the disputed diplomatic ques-tions in a correct light. The Position of Judaism is a remarkable piece of writing and yet shows how a man may live in the present and draw his life from the distant past. Cyrus Edson, M. D. makes, areply to Lady Somerset and others on Nagging Womer

The Hawaiian minister writes on The Growing Greatness of the Pacific. Then follow The Physician and the Social Question by Paul Gibier, M. D., Does Fire Insurance Cost too Much? by George M. Crocker; and the Outlook for Parliamentary Government by Hon. Harris Taylor, minister to Spain.

seems no less novel, startling and "an-archistic" to the loyal, law and order loving soul of Brown than was to the court of King George the Third the e-The Personal History of the Second Empire is continued by Albert D. Van-

The Notes and Comments are good and altogether the number is to be commended to readers.

The Express has not been over enthusiastic in regard to keeping People's party headquarters located at Washing-people's control of the instruments of SCRIBES AND PHARISEES production, but do not the political conomists of high rank do the same? I hear the same sentiment in the San Francisco Half Million club, as well as in (Continued from 1st page.) the intelligent unions of those who have appropriated the word of labor for them-selves. It is time for somebody to think, for somebody else is thinking. This is not the time for saying nobody shall think except he thinks as we do." breathe it there and his children and his wife wet their feet every time they pass it, breathing its nasty malarial exhala-tions every time they open their windows It is not removed for him. His streets are not cleamed. His water tax is 200 Upon which Rev. Brown arose and re-marked:

"The paper was a study. It is really a revelation to me how Brother Pullen, with all his culture and good sense can be led off by a man like Herron."

things that goes on in our great cities and this is the lot of the unskilled labor-He then condemned Herron's socialistic cr. Now, gentlemen, we have got to face these things. The sooner we face them utterances, saying "Herron is worse than Debs. The striker said last week in this the better. And I am not simply speak-ing of New York. I know something city that if his wife needed clothes he would steal. Herron would not steal one about Pennsylvania. I have been over those coal and coke fields in Pennsylgarment, but a whole factory. Herron's utterances are those of an anarchist and I want to meet him where I can tell him vania, and I can tell you the very same story only the illustrations may be differthat I believe him to be an anarchist." ent. I have seen those narrow, little

How awfully shocked Dr. Herron would feel if he should learn that Brother Brown wattled houses-you can scarcely call them anything else, only hovels; and I have seen the people's poor furniture pushed right out in the mud there, when regarded him as an anarchist! Neverthe-less I rejoice that the leaven is at work in the church, where it was bound to work at last. Rev. Mr. Roumiger is right. Ingersoll and other agnostics, who deny there was no such thing as sidewalks or anything else; pushed out in the mud; those men not even allowed to own those Christ in their heads but frequently honor him in their hearts and daily lives are by no means the worst of infidels. hovels as homes, if you could venture to

The foregoing by a man whose wide The most deplorable and destructive infidelity of christendom may be sought The foregoing by a man whose while experience and sympathetic observation qualify him to judge correctly, and whose word cannot be impeached, may, perand found right in the church, and on the part of Pharisaical preachers who are tenaciously clinging to the Son of God in haps, open Dr. Brown's eyes-unless he willfully shuts them-to some of the methods by which rich men like the Ascreed and profession, but treating as an alien and outcast the Son of Man who stands outside the door of civil, commertors and other tenement house loanlords prey upon the poor. Of course Prof. Herron "means that incial and social institutions vainly knocking and pleading for entrance, while the priest and the Levite are unconcernedly terest is robbery," and that King Solopassing by on the other side, as though mon was right when he said: "The rich rule over the poor, and the borrower is servant to the lender." And did not Brother Brown's Savior mean about the it were none of their business. It is the old, old story reappearing in the modern familiar phrase and platitude of the Browns, and the strong, healthful and heroic utterances of the real doctors of same thing when he scourged the money changers from the temple and when he "Ye cannot serve God and Mamdivinity and of humanity, like Herron, mon?" And did not Moses and the proand yet as ancient as the walls and Temphets, without exception, regard usury in precisely the same light, and does not Rev. Brown look upon all these as auple of Jerusalem, or the words of Him who said: "O, Jerusalem! Jerusalem!— thou that killest the prophets and stonest thoritative if not infallible guides, whom to repudiate or disregard is infidelity, if them that are sent unto thee; how often would I have gathered thy children together even as a hen gathereth her chicknot eternal damnation? In short, does ens together under her wing, and ye he or does he not believe that Christ meant what he said in the parable of the would not." rich man and in the sermon on the mount? Or does he, like the puzzled red man, consider himself right and all these landmarks and mile stones of the ages

And the end is not yet. JAMES G. CLARK.

After The Bawi Is Over.'

How dear to our purse, is the state legislature Which this week, Thank Heaven, will vanish from view.

own hands and feet at the high priest's fire? It looks thus. But perhaps the crowning item in the bill of indictment With its "full line of samples" of weak human nature,

And more than a spice of wickedness too, How proudly they gathered, we all well remem

With what flourish of trumpets they rushed to the fray, Bright gleamed the new passes of old party members

For which the dear people, most dearly must pay

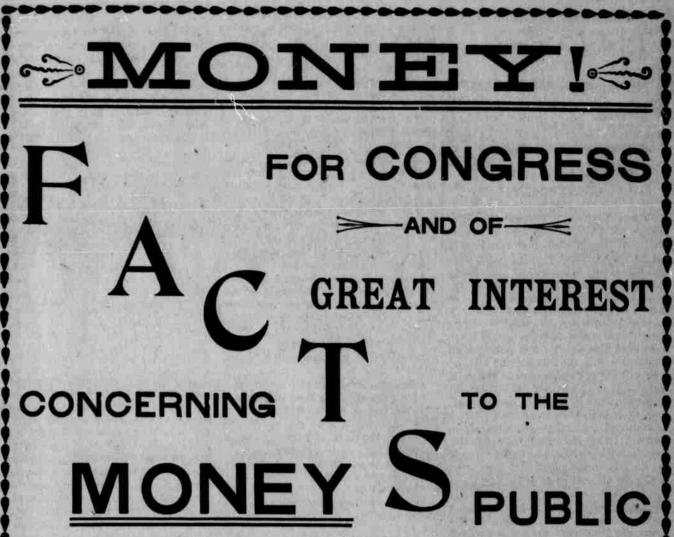

The long-talking Solons.

The brass-collared Solons,

The Pecksniffan Solons who gathered that day.

and endowed with an inalienable right to That moss-covered body sailed into our treasure life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.' And salaried illegal heipers galore. But if the producers themselves do not. They found it the source of an exquisite pleasure To grab all in signt and a sittle bit more.

by mutual inheritance and "the law of natural selection" possess the first right to the instruments of production, who, in the name of heaven does? If Mr. How gaily they seized on a chance to vote bounty On chicory bitter, or sugar so sweet, And the members from every republican county

The coming political issue. From sea to sea and lakes to gulf IT will be the absorbing topic of the # Seventy Illustrations!

GEO. E. BOWEN, a post of national reputation, on reading COIN'S FINANCIAL SCHOOL, wrote the following opinion, which was published in the Cancaco INTER OCEAN OF JANUARY 22, 1895.

Another book than "Trilby" is reaching out for fame, Across the sky it finshes high the signal of renown; Upon the thought of millions it stamps a burn-ing claim That glows and grows and brighter shows when Midas turns to frown.

A simple little story dressed up in youthful style, That comes to preach with happy speech a wisdom more than wise The critics lose their fury and stop to think and smile, And weigh the wit, and ponder it-their reason

A story with a moral that measures human peace, And strikes the knell of Rothschild's spell, bind-ing the hands of toll. A story that in every line tells of a glad release From chains of gold that firmly hold the free-men of the actu men of the soll.

Sing on, ob, famel Sing to the world "Coin's" story of the times: Of golden ropes that strangle hopes and fill the heart with dread. Sing to the jingling meter of the dollars and the book that will create a pro' -Chicago Times.

(coins/

It mercilessly scourges the money changers in the Temple of the Re-public. -New York Recorder.

This book is to the people of the present day, what Tom Payne's Common Sever was to the Colonies. —Chicago Searchlight.

ton. D. C., and it has been a question with us whether or not they should be maintained at that point, but all doubts are now removed and we can unhesitatingly say that it's time to move .- Chicago Express.

Requisition for Lamb.

Governor Holcomb has issued a requisition on the governor of Nevada for the return of Mike Lamb, a convicted cattle thief. Lamb was a resident of Boone county at the time the crime was committed, but on a change of venue was tried in Platte county. The verdict of the jury in the lower court was sustained and a new trial refused. This was two years ago. Lamb jumped his bail and fled. He has just been located at Battle Mountain, Nevada, and Sheriff Kavensugh has left with the papers to bring him back.

Arrested for an Old Murder.

Fairhaven, N. Y., April 13 .- Robert E. Wright, Jr., 22 years of age, was arrested by officers from Emporium, Pa., for the murder in 1888 of Christian Drum. Robbery was the motive of the crime.

Store and Warehouse Burn. Fairhaven, N. Y., April 15.-Robert e of Benjamin T. Stanley, at Berlin Center, ten miles northeast of this city. Loss, $12,000; insured for $4,000.

Illinois Creamery Destroyed.

Alliance, O., April 15 .- Fire destroyed Mount Morris, owned by Robert Mc-Credic, burned early with a loss of $8,000, partially covered by insurance.

New Catalogue of Buggies, Etc.

One of the most elegant and complete illustrated Catalogues of Carriages, Harness, Saddles and Bicycles it has ever been our good fortune to examine, has just been issued by the ALLIANCE CAR-RIAGE Co., of Cincinnati, O. It is quite beyond! our comprehension how such beautiful and stylish goods can be manufactured and sold for the remarkably low prices named. This free book will certainly be appreciated by every horse-owner. Our readers should send for one it once, if they have not already done so. Please mention the name of our paper when you write.

WANTED.

Every farmer to be his own painter and absolutely pure paint for sale by the Standard Glass and Paint Co., Corner 11th and M St., dealers in paints, oils, painter's supplies, glass, etc., Lincoln, Neb.

Personal.

IF ANY ONE who has been benefitted by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will brite to J. H. Dobson, 1120 M St., Lincoln, Neb., they will receive informa-tion that will be of much value and interest to them.

How everybody may have money. See "Money Found," for sale at this office. end 25c.

drum to his own satisfaction, perhaps he will then be able to reveal to the world what outside party has a lawful right to own the paper, ink, desk, fingers and brains through which are evolved Dr. Brown's sermons. We can now account for the origin of the proverb, "Afraid to say his soul is his own.

In fact, is not Rev. Brown in reality denying his Master in order to warm his drawn by Dr. Brown against Professor

Herron is the one that involves the terrible social heresy that the party of the second part actually "believes that the people should own the means of produc-

This overwhelmingly awful proposition

qually revolutionary and reasonable one that "All men are created free and equal per cent; his coal is $15 a ton; his banker is the pawnbroker and charges him 50, 60 and 80 per cent. This is the state of

call them homes

said:

lost?

Finally, the most withering blast poured out by Brown upon Herron is the charge that Dennis Kearnsy and the Grinnell professor agree on certain cardinal principles of social and civil economy. Allowing this to be true, is it not just that much better for Dennis, while none worse for Herron? Or, to make the mat-ter clear to Brother Brown's vision, is a good thing or a self-evident truth any better or any worse because sand-lotters, or what Mr. Brown styles the "mob," discern and enjoy it in common with millionaires and their clerical champions? Because Dennis Kearney walks up and down Market street on his feet will Mr. Brown reverse the order of locomotion and walk on his head and hands, or slowly hitch along over the pavement in a sitting posture?

Rev. E. Pullen, in his defense of Proessor Herron before the Congregational club last Monday, speaks to the point when he says:

"Dr. Herron is regarded by some as a monster who is seeking to devour all that is good in the present order of things," said Mr. Pullen. "I know something of the difficulty of seeing clearly while the scales of prejudice are still clogging the organs of the soul-sight. But this is a time for clarified vision. Dr. Herron has been accused of pressing into foolish literalism the language of the sermon on the mount and at the same time showing no signs of literal obedience to it himself. Yet does anyone who has read him dare to say he is not ravenous for righteousness, private and public; in spirit and in society? Perhaps Dr. Herron is nebulous in expressions. Nebulae are not the least interesting objects to astronomers. Some of them have been resolved into star clusters and some are set down as glowing gas. So Dr Herron's writings appear to the critic. Nebulae are far away from our sphere-so is new thought sometimes beyond our range. Nebulous bodies must be hot-Dr. Herron's words are not icicles; they made some of the members of this club pretty hot last Monday. A great hope is beginning to grow that out of the 'glowing gas' of such men as Her-ron will come a solid system unlike any-thing our present Christian civilization has yet known.

"It I read Dr. Herron as he desires to be read, he believes in a living God, in the righteousness and love of God and in Christ. He believes in the awful fact of human sin and he does not stop to make distinction between individual sin and socialized sin; he believes in sin done by sinners and sin done by saints: he believes in redemptive love.

"What has condemned Dr. Herron in so-called judicious minds is his thrusting the pointed staff of his polished rhetorical thought into the slime that lies at the bottom of the muddy stream of social existence.

"Brief statements of his which more than squint toward socialistic theories were quoted here last week. It is true Haymarket bomb-throwers and nihilistic assassins voice utterances too about the ed a kindly regard for all kinds But the long-talking Solons, The brass-collared Solons, Voted never a bounty on live stock or wheat,

They sat down, ker plunk, upon vile bogus butter, But nice bogus coffee, protected, you see On one crowd they great maledictions still utter For the other lay taxes on you and on me, They pass bills to cherish Mongolian pheasants They make law to call this a tree-planter state But do not protect the American peasants From paying the railroad four prices for freight. A dog law. a Day law, A bad A. P. A. law;

But for good legislation the people must walt-

At this point the poetry machine got to jumping cogs, but we rise to remark that you will not only have to wait two years, but you will have to do something else besides waiting; if you are sick and tired of a party that in the midst of poverty and misery caused by bad laws, makes no effort to better them; does not try to enact anything to benefit the workers; fools away its high priced time limiting the number of dogs a man can own; naming Nebraska the tree state; adopting the golden-rod for a state emblem; encouraging Mongolian pheasants and counterfeit coffee companies; providing new offices and relieving the people by increasing salaries; if you grow weary of working your life away for railroads and alien sugar corporations. If you are disgusted with congressmen who to relieve your afflictions insist on your paying for work they did not do and have the same round of puttering bills for forestry and reindeer culture; if you are ready too repudiate once and for all in state and nation, this useless body of political fakirs and faith-healers do a little wise and reasonable voting as you wait .- Hamilton County Register.

The Cats Have a Show

New York is to have a cat show. Not the kind that can be observed any moonlight eve in a city backyard, but a spick and span, nobby, genteel, aristocratic cat show, where the petted and pampered darlings of New York's most exclusive sprinters can be viewed to the best advantage. Mice in all forms, roast, boiled, stewed, fried, fricasseed and on the half shell will be served at all hours. Toms and tabbies, Tortoise shells, Maltese, sil-ver, blue, red, black and white, Manx cats, Angoras, long haired and short haired cats will all be there. The only cats not admitted will be those of the Kilkenny variety, which are tabooed for obvious reasons, and no cat will be adboltous reasons, and no cat win be ad-mitted who cannot show proper creden-tials of good breeding. A cat orchestra will play every night from twelve o'clock till dawn. Bachelors will be admitted free of charge. All dogs must be left in the ante-room in charge of an attendant. Old maids, uuaccompanied by cats, will have to obtain special permission before entering. The Concatena-ted Order of Associated Sprinters will hold a convention during the progress of the show.-Farm, Field and Fireside.

Whiskers that are prematurely gray or faded should be colored to prevent the look of age, and Buckingham's Dye ex-cels all others in coloring brown or black.

That win the sp in the spoil of honest toil-but fail give it bread. The pendulum is swinging back by nature's force impelied, And righteous fate will compensate a long unequal rule. The doubts and fears of cruel years are happily dispelled By truth enlightening the world in "Coin's Fl-

70 ILLUSTRATIONS.

The great battle of the ballots in the coming Presidential election will be fought on these lines. How are you going to vote? Is your mind made up, is it based on prejudice or reason?

More facts and instructive information than was ever before furnished in a single volume on the subject of money.

The tuition at COIN'S FINANCIAL SCHOOL is 25 cents (including book). More knowledge acquired than ever before for the same money.

Absolutely non-partisan.

A HUMOROUS AND INSTRUCTIVE VOLUME,

(Profusely Illustrated.)

192 pages. Can be read in the family circle with profit and amusement.

DON'T WAIT! 0

SEND 25 CENTS AND SECURE THIS BOOK IMMEDIATELY.

ADDRESS.

0

THE WEALTH MAKERS. LINCOLN, NEB.