Conducted by J. Y. M. SWIGART. Correspon dence solicited. Fire, cyclone or ball.

HAIL. We have had but two losses so far this year in our hail company, both of which will be adjusted by the time this is read. There are many who wish they had insured with us since they have had a loss, one man wanted one of our assistant secretaries to take his application and date it back two or three days. This same man had a chance just as all other farmers had to insure at a cost of 16 cents per acre, but as he had aever had any hail in his neighborhood he did not called upon to throw away 16 cents per acre; but as soon as a loss occure all are ready to admit that it would have been wise to have had some insurance. CYCLONE.

So far this year our company has had but one small loss ($10.00.) We now have a little over $800,000 insured, and hope every agent will make an effort to increase it to $1,000,000 by January 1.

In the fire department it seems to work very slowly. We have not yet received the required $100,000 in applications. We do not want any money with the applications, hence there is no risk to run unless you get your policy and be-fore we send you your policy we will give you notice to pay your fee and if at that time you do not want your policy issued you need not pay for it. Therejore, you see there is nothing for you to lose except a postage stamp.

CONVENTION. As the convention is here in Lincoln on the 28th, inst., I hope to meet many who are interested in mutual insurance. I would like to meet and get acquaint-ed with every secretary of local fire insur ance in the state.

WEST LIBERTY, Ia., July 23rd. 1895.

Stock Fountain Co., Lake City. Ia.: Gentlemen.—We are pleased to say that we have in operation on our two hog farms 12 of your fountains, and some of other make, but all things considered, the Lake City is as far ahead of them as a Self Binder is superior to the old Cradle.

We are pleased to note that the majority of stock breeders and farmers are now using them to the exclusion of all others, as undoubtedly the best. We wish you could convince all to try one, as the great saving of time, labor and food and increase of fat by giving fresh water, is wonderful. We have followed very carefully your directions and used our own judgment regarding the watering of stock the same as feeding. A great many hog raleers pay too much attention to feeding and not enough to watering. We find old and young pigs work them in a few hours, and we never think of watering our chickens when using the fountains. Rings in hog's noses do not inconvenience them from using the fountain. The fountains are Multym in Parvo, par excellence.
