

candidates. The News makes this lucid explanation. The county committee "fixed upon a specific sum to be given each of the dalks and one or two weeks and commi-sioned Chairman Bushnell to see the papers."

It is announced in the State Journal that all three of the Nebraska Republican Congressmen will be candidates for reelection. Why not elect them again?

The fine Outcalt residence still keeps on changing hands. Mr. Outcalt was the cashier of the Capital National bank. Since the failure of the bank it has been owned by Outcalt himself, his brother-in-law Frank Funk, his wife, Mrs. Outcalt, J. D. McFarland, the bank's first receiver, and now by Anna Hall, wife of F. M. Hall, McFarland's attorney.

RECEIVED FOR REVIEW.

UNION DOWN. By Scott Campbell. Published by the Arena Publishing Co. 308 pages. In paper, fifty cents.

MARCH AND APRIL PERIODICALS.

The Cosmopolitan for April is a finely illustrated number of 123 pages. Some of the articles are of great value as well as interest. W. D. Howells continues his series of Altrurian Traveler letters, the April letter showing how foolishly unchristianly, uncomforably and unhappily the well-to-do and their servants live in New York.

The Review of Reviews for April discusses at length the political changes and questions of England, sketching the great leaders, Gladstone, Rosebery, Harcourt and others; compares English and American methods of legislation; discusses the signiorage bill and the tariff bill, criticising Democratic inconsistency in the latter especially; gives a view of the Brazilian situation; takes us across to New Zealand and Australia and tells of their land loans on the part of the government to limit and eliminate Shylocks (what we as Populists propose to do); gives in black and white the principal cartoons of the month, going all over the world to get them; furnishes a record of current events; besides four original articles of great interest and a review of the principal reviews.

The Arena for April contains sixteen contributed papers and two by the editor on subjects of current interest, besides reviews of books of the day. "The Farmer and the Land," an article by W. D. McCrackan, A. M., answers objections to the single tax. Elbert Hubbard has a timely paper on "The Rights of Tramps." There is a symposium on "The Tenement House System," Prof. Wm. Howe Tolman of New York, our friend Mrs. A. P. Stevens of Chicago, and Rev. W. J. Swaffield and Editor Flower of Boston taking part in it.

The Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, issued bi-monthly, are almost a necessary part of the literature which well informed men and advanced thinkers must read. The March issue is a double number, the supplement being "A History of Political Economy" by Dr. Gustav Cohn, Professor in the University of Gottingen. Dr. Joseph Adna Hill is the translator. The regular issue contains the following papers, viz: "Idea of Justice in Political Economy;" "Classification of Law," by Russell H. Curtis; "American Life Insurance Methods," by M. M. Dawson; "Relation of Taxation to Monopolies," by Emory R. Johnson; "The Farmers Movement," by C. S. Walker of the Massachusetts Agricultural College, a very excellent paper; "The Grange in New England," by Florence J. Foster; "The Pennsylvania Tax Conference," by H. R. Seager and Personal Notes, Miscellany and a Book Review Department. These Annals are printed in five languages and six countries, viz. in America (Philadelphia), England, Germany, France, Italy and Spain. Per year $6.00.

Subscribe for THE WEALTH MAKERS

From a Connecticut Subscriber. GRANTVILLE, Conn., Mar. 23, '94. Editor WEALTH MAKERS: Your notice of the expiration of my subscription has just reached me and I hasten to renew; will enclose in this one dollar for the same. Am sorry that my age and health is such I cannot circulate about much to solicit subscribers for such an instructive political paper as yours. M. C. JOHNSON.

Another Republican Heart From BEATRICE, Neb., March 23, '94. Editor WEALTH MAKERS: You don't need to send me your paper, I don't believe in no such doctrines, further I don't want to belong where Alabama Rebels will go, I belong to a true party, for the good of everybody, we have seen the fruit of your & Dem. party already, dont send it any more. Yours, H. C. STOLL.

Thinks the New Name Immense. MYNARD, Neb., March 31, 1894. Editor WEALTH MAKERS: Enclosed find $1.00 for which please send me your paper one year. I am a subscriber of nearly four years and like your paper very much. I think the new name immense. Who creates the wealth? Your paper tells it all. Pound away at the good cause. J. M. KISER.

From a Chase County Subscriber. HIAWATHA, Neb., March 30, '94. Editor WEALTH MAKERS: I am well pleased with the paper. I am glad you are staying right with the party, and I am very sorry that I could not get you any new subscribers. But times are so hard that men can't get the dollar to send for the paper. There are lots of good Independents here and we are trying to do all we can to help the good work on. We stay in the middle of the road and mean to fight as long as we can, till the last dog is hung, and we will help hang him. Yours Resp. DAVID BENSON.

All Subscribers Well Pleased. ROCKVILLE, Neb., March 30, 1894. Editor WEALTH MAKERS: If you wish to continue my paper I will send you the money before long. Year before last I sent five and last year I sent six subscriptions. This year the people are so hard up with us it is almost impossible to get them to subscribe for papers. All these who have been taking your paper are well pleased the way you dish up the old parties' misrule. Yours Truly, A. J. WILSON.

A County Commissioner's Appreciation. COZAD, Dawson Co., Neb. Editor WEALTH MAKERS: Find enclosed one dollar for which continue my paper. I do not know just when my subscription expires. I do not want to miss one number. I have taken the paper since I first heard of it as The Farmers Alliance, and it has kept pace with the times and fought the battles with such bravery and success that from time to time we have been compelled to exclaim, that was a victory for the laboring people! And we have often wondered how these writers would be compensated for their trouble, as the class they are so earnestly working for are so deprived and money so scarce that it is impossible for them to express their appreciation in that way. Believing proper education will bring about the desired change, I am, Yours Truly, G. L. DITTO.

Likes the Paper Better Than Ever. ABBOTT, Neb., March 21, 1894. Editor WEALTH MAKERS: Please find inclosed a P. O. order for one dollar and seventy five cents. Renew my subscription to your valuable paper for another year, and three new subscribers for three months each. Two of the three used to read the paper when Mr. Burrows was editor, and dropped it for some cause. I have induced them to try it again a quarter each. Please send me sample copies of your paper of March 15th issue. I will place them in the hands of unprejudiced and conscientious people who will read and profit thereby. I have read this paper from its beginning. Like it new better than ever before. I like religion in politics and in business; the man who is not trying to be a christian seven days of a week, is either an ignorant sinner or a hypocrite. Send me another subscription blank, will send in a few new names. Yours ever for reform, W. WIERS.

From an Oregon Subscriber. HILLSDALE, Ore., March 26, 1894. Editor WEALTH MAKERS: Your kindly notice of the expiration of my subscription is at hand. I regret greatly that I'm unable to renew my subscription at present, not that I find it uninteresting for I have been reading for a number of years, have seen it change hands, and now find it one of the best reform papers of this country. But at present I have a number of bills coming due, and but little to pay them with. Even here on the coast the people are shaking themselves and wondering where they have been keeping themselves these last few years. A little over a year ago your humble servant, and a few others endeavored to organize a People's party club. We managed to get six, with great efforts. A short time ago we reorganized, and have at present a club, but of forty-six. This gives only a partial idea of what is going on in Oregon. Next June, if "the Lord is willing," we shall surprise some of the old "meas-backs." As soon as I am able I will renew my subscription, and at all times I will do what I can to aid you in this noble cause. Yours for Reform, L. A. LEGER.

Thinks the Paper Better Than Ever. CEDAR RAPIDS, Neb., Mar. 29, '94. Editor WEALTH MAKERS: As my subscription to your paper has expired, and not wishing to have the paper stopped, I thought I would write and give you my reason for not renewing, it is the same old cry, "Too Hard up." But if you will please to send me the paper I will make it satisfactory as soon as I can. I like the change in your paper and think it is better than ever before. Such a paper should be upheld by the people of Nebraska now as never before, because the time is near at hand when we will have to strike a decisive blow for home and liberty. Such a paper will, I think, be read with greater interest by the masses in the future than in the past, because the majority are getting their eyes open. So continue to give us the "Simon Pure" in a plain practical way. We have the Demo-Republicans on the run in Boone county, and expect to keep them in the "same fix" until Populist theories shall reign supreme. Yours for right and justice, LEROY YOCOM.

Miss Elsie Buckman writing from Popoka says: "Your paper was extra good last week. On with THE WEALTH MAKERS, and may it be successful." J. C. Gilbert of Hayden, Neb., writes: "Your paper is improving all the time. Both old parties are like the devil, between two fires. Give it to them."

SHARP SHAFTS FROM EXCHANGES. The bankers are all exclaiming that if the government goes to loaning money it will kill the banking business! Is that so?—Chicago Sentinel. The "middle of the road" cry appears to worry the Bryan crowd. They should not forget that a wild goose chase across-lots is not always the safest way home.—Custer County Independent.

Last year it was discovered that the immaculate Carnegie had been swindling the government with inferior ship-armor plate. Secretary Herbert assessed the damages at $410,000. Carnegie "appealed unto Caesar"—Grover, and H. A. Eggsency cut the fine down 75 cent. It is an outrage that congress should investigate.—Hartford City (Ind.) Arena.

The people or government of Washington city threatens to make it hot for Coxe's army, if it comes to the capital. We see no reason why 65,000,000 of our population should not go to Washington if they wish to. If they do anything that citizens should not do, they will be amenable to law. But Washington is Irish, very fresh, to threaten citizens who wish to come to the capital.—Farmers Voice.

The money power is now the supreme curse of the nation. Its blighting withering influence is felt in every community. It is responsible for nine-tenths of the evils which prevail in society. Between it and true Christianity there is an irrepressible conflict. The church of Christ has made all the progress it can until the control of this beast of iniquity is broken. The one all-important duty of the hour is to concentrate all the moral and patriotic influence to overthrow the money power.—Cedar Rapids Republicans.

The veto message with its bond recommendation will give a most serious shock to the party. It is too early to venture a prediction as to the results of such a shock. But it is not too early to say that it will cause a grave crisis in the affairs of the party. The organization has not been compelled to deal with many such cases, but those whose duty it will be to speak for the party and for its preservation will do well to speak boldly and to the point. The issue must be faced, and it will be well for those who stand on the platform and believe sincerely in democratic principles to face it like a man.—Atlanta Constitution.

Coxey asks for an issue of $50,000,000 in non-interest bearing greenbacks to be expended in public improvements, and his followers stand ready to exchange their labor at "gold basis" prices for said greenbacks. The Shylock steps in and says: "No you don't—we want a rake-off; issue interest bearing bonds and we will sell you our credit, see!" Well, the American people do see! The game is played out. Greenbacks are better for the people than bonds. We are glad to have them, and free charge of silver, but, BY THE ETERNAL GOD, THE FACE OF THE EARTH WILL BE PAVED EVER HIGH WITH THE DEAD BODIES OF THE USURERS WHO SAY NO! Go it, Coxey.—Denver Road.

A Special Offer To Our Readers

An advantageous arrangement, just made, enables us to present a most acceptable premium offer. It is this: To any subscriber who will send us $1.25 we will send THE WEALTH MAKERS one year and copy of "The White Ribbon Cook Book," by mail, postpaid. The publishers' price of the book is $1.00.

This is the Book! IT IS WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD!

What is the White Ribbon Cook Book? A Collection of One Thousand Original and Revised Recipes and Suggestions. Edited by Kathryn Armstrong. A handsome, compact volume of 320 pages, including 40 blank pages for additional recipes.

It is a first-class book of Cookery and Housekeeping, prepared by a practical housekeeper. It is entirely new; copyrighted 1894. While it is not claimed that it is in all respects superior to all other books, we do claim that any housekeeper, even if she have a dozen other cook books, will find this one worth to her more than the full retail price, and that the author has fully carried out her purpose, "To prove that wine, brandy and spirituous liquors of any kind may be dispensed with, and that no culinary requirement necessitates the introduction of these poisons into any household."

Orders will be filled in turn as received, and as quickly as the great amount of clerical work involved makes possible. Subscribers should wait two weeks before making complaint of non-receipt of the book. Address Wealth Makers Pub. Co., LINCOLN, NEB.

Cattle Robe Tanning Company, 1012 B Street, LINCOLN, NEB. HOW TO PREPARE HIDES FOR ROBS.—As soon as hide is removed from animal, trim off head and legs, spread out on floor, cover well with salt, (medium sized hides will require two and one-half gallons of salt, evenly spread), leave in this condition for ten to fifteen days, then roll up, fresh side out, tie well and ship. Charges for tanning will be from $1.50 to $3.00 on medium sized hides.

Sulpho-Saline Bath Co., LINCOLN, NEB., Aug. 19, 1893. Gentlemen—I have been a victim of rheumatism for several years past, I have suffered intensely at times, and have gone to the Hot Springs of South Dakota, and the Hot Springs of Arkansas five times, seeking relief. I have also taken much medicine under the directions of able physicians. About one month ago I suffered from one of the most violent attacks of the disease, and at once began taking hot salt water baths at your new and splendid bath house in this city. Under the care of one gentlemanly and efficient attendant, Mr. Henry Schmitt, I have, I think, entirely recovered. I believe your use and management of salt baths will prove a great blessing to the many victims of rheumatism in this vicinity, and I hope it will receive the liberal patronage it merits. I do not hesitate to not only to recommend, but to urge every person suffering from rheumatism to try a course of baths at your bath house under the directions of one of the physicians in charge. You have not requested of me any testimonials, but I deem it proper that I should acknowledge the great relief I have received at your baths, and you may use what I have said in such manner as may seem proper. Very respectfully, J. B. STROUB.
