In applying manure the nature of the soil should be studied. For heavy, clay soils, manure from the horse stable is best, as it loosens and warms the soils. For sandy or light, warm soils, manure from the cow stables and hog pens produce the best results.

HAVING THE EVIL EYE.

Familiar Superstition Among the Italians. Shortly after his election Pius IX.,

who was then adored by the Romans and perhaps the best-loved man in Italy, was driving through the streets an open window at which a nurse was standing with a child.

A few minutes afterward the nurse let the child drop and it was killed. No one thought the pope had wished this, but the fancy that he had the evil eye became universal and lasted till his death. In C rniola, if you tell a mother her baby is strong and large for its age, a farmer that his crops are looking well, or a coachman that his team is good, all three will spit at your feet to avert the omen, and, if you understand the custom. you will do the same as an act of politeness.

A person who wandered through Upper Carniola and praised everything he saw would soon come to be considered the most malevolent of men. In Naples the same feeling exists. The terms of enlearment which mothers of the lower class used to their children and the pet names they call them by are often so indecent that it would be impossible to reproduce them in English and always so contemptuous that they would be of-

The well known habit of Neapolitans to offer a guest anything he may praise has probably the same origin. It is, of course, now to a very large extent only a form of courtesy; but even now another feeling lurks behind, at least in a good many cases. Your host has been delighted at your admiration of his possesions; he would have been disappointed if it had not been so warmly expressed as it was; but still he is a little afraid of the ill luck the kind things you have said may bring. By offering the objects you have liked best to you, and receiving your certain refusal t) accept them, he puts them in a bad light, and thus counteracts the evil effects of your praise. He says to fate, you see their value is not great, after all.

This superstition, however, is by no means confined to Naples or Italy; it is said to be common in China and Japan. and among negroes and red Indians. Even in England it is not unknown. In fact, in all countries when visiting a sick acquaintance it is better to say. "I

The way to do this is to ship your Butter, Eggs, Poultry, Veal, Hay, Grain, Wool, Hides, Beaus, Breom Corn, Green and Dried Fruits, Vegetables, or anything you have, to us. The fact that you may have been selling these articles at home for years is no reason that you should continue to do so if you can find a better rearket. We make a specialty of receiving shipments direct from FARMERS AND PRODUCERS, and probably have the largest trade in this way of any house in this market. Whilst you are looking around for the cheapest mar-ket in which to buy your goods and thus economizing in that way, it will certainly pay you to give some attention to the best and most profitable way of disposing of your produce. We invite correspondence from INDIVIDUALS, ALLIANCES, CLUBS, and all organizations who desire to ship their produce to this market. If requested, we will send you free of charge our daily market report, shipping directions and such information as will be of ser-vice to you if you contemplate shipping. Let us hear from you.
