

APPLICATION FOR A CHARTER.

We the undersigned citizens of... Precinct... County, Neb., desiring to organize an Independent Club in conformity with the constitution and by-laws issued by the State Central Committee of the People's Independent party of Nebraska, do hereby apply to the Secretary of the State Central Committee for a charter for the same, and for all necessary papers and instructions.

[When seven names have been secured forward to C. H. Pirtle, Secretary, Lincoln, Nebraska.]

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES.

The fact is fully demonstrated that Nebraska democrats will do nothing out of the ordinary of the dictation of Boyd and his crowd of railroaders, and the stinkers for the eastern capitalists. This was fully demonstrated in the recent democratic convention in Omaha when Boyd got almost a unanimous vote for delegate to the national convention, and a plank in the platform declaring for free silver was defeated. Democratic farmers, if you want justice and right you will have to cut loose from your democratic party.—St Paul Photograph.

Now that Church Howe has been endorsed by the Nebraska county republicans for congress, we would like to ask the gentleman if he proposes to run on his free silver platform of two years ago or upon the so-called "honest money" platform of Saturday's convention?—Nemaha County Herald.

The FARMERS' ALLIANCE and the NEBRASKA INDEPENDENT have been consolidated and Mr. Thornton of the Independent is the editor of the combined paper with Mr. Pirtle and Mr. Thompson as assistants. Both papers have been ably edited and managed heretofore, but from this union of forces the people may expect one of the ablest journals in the country, and they will not be disappointed.—Alma Reporter.

There is a difference between the old party platform and that of the people's party. The new party's platform says something that means something; the old party platform says something that means nothing.—Bartlett Independent.

The Oxnards now want the bounty placed on the raising of beets and not on the production of sugar. And if it should be done they would at once proceed to raise their own beets and get the bounty. Those Oxnards are a thirty set.—Lincoln Herald.

The protective tariff argument that the starving condition of Russia's peasantry is due to the McKinley bill will hardly bear inspection. According to the McKinley idea we make paupers of foreigners and then expect to sell them our truck when they are dying of starvation. It is under these conditions that our protective tariff bars importation of labor to take the place of American workmen at lower wages. See?—Beatrice Arbor State.

Should Judge Gresham be the nominee of the independents it would mean a great deal. It would justify every voter who is dissatisfied with his party in casting his ballot for a change. It would stamp the new party with permanence and respectability. It would make the movement formidable at this election and fix its status for the future. It would put both the old parties on the alert to find out and grant what the people want. It would altogether and in every way be a grand good thing for the people of the country. And if the leaders of the independent party are honest and patriotic, if they are what they pretend to be, they will at the earliest moment ascertain whether Judge Gresham can be induced to enter the field. If he can no other name should be heard at Omaha.—Lincoln Herald.

"Free silver is all right, but the east won't stand it. Let the east go to Canada then. The west and south have laid down and rolled over before east-ern money mongers about long enough.—Texas Stockman.

The independents have nominated strong candidates for municipal offices in several places. Particularly is this so of St. Paul, Minn., where, according to the Pioneer-Press, all the best citizens will rally to its support. The example is worthy of emulation.—Omaha Republican.

The democracy of Nebraska has thrown away its last car. If it had had the courage to take a brave stand for free coinage and an increase of circulation, the party might have had some chance for favor with the people this fall, but now the democracy of the state has gone on record as opposed to the one great reform which the farmers and many of the business men are demanding, and the doom of the party in Nebraska is sealed.—Lincoln Daily Sun.

An editor of an Iowa paper being asked, "Do you pay?" says a great many do not. They take the paper for several years and then have the postmaster send it back marked, "refused; gone west."—Ex.

The consolidation of the Alliance and Independent is a wise and sensible move. It will strengthen the cause they both so ably advocated, and it cannot fail to become a financial success. It will be a journal that will wield a powerful influence.—Clay Center Progress.

The crop of politics to be harvested next fall should interest every farmer to a greater extent than his crop of cereals because if legislation is unfavorable to him he will not be benefited beyond a living even if he reaps a larger harvest than ever before. Every farmer should help plant political reform and let the harvest be twofold next fall.—Ellwood Independent.

Lincoln's daily Call had an "element" half column write-up of a new school started there. This is something out of the usual order for the Call to do such advertising, but we suppose its "owl" right if they are paid enough for it.—Superior Guide.

The Texas legislature has passed a bill gerrymandering the congressional districts so badly that it is denounced even by the democrats themselves. One democratic member of the legislature

INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

J. Y. M. SWIGART, Secretary of the Nebraska Mutual Cyclone, Tornado and Wind Storm Insurance Company, EDITOR, All communications, Fire, Cyclone or Hall Insurance should be addressed to him at Lincoln, Nebraska.

Since the article on Hall Insurance which we published March 31st, we have received many letters on that subject, but as there are no funds on hand to pay postage with we will answer through this Department.

We are using our utmost energy to organize an exclusively wind storm insurance company, but as there were so many wanting hall insurance we have formulated the following plan as the only feasible one by which we could recommend any one to insure.

While this plan may not be perfect, it will do for an experiment and will give us a nucleus upon which we can build a permanent company next year.

The cost will be very small even if every cent is collected. All losses and expenses will be reported in this Department as they occur and each member will receive an itemized statement of all transactions at the time the assessment is made, Nov. 1st. No losses will be paid until Dec. 1st, because we want all losses reported in this Department by all members of the company; further we do not want to go to the expense of making more than one assessment.

Any member may insure any or all of his crop, but must insure all he has of the variety he asks insurance on.

A member is only asked the small fee of fifty cents which we think is amply sufficient to pay all office expense and pay for actual work done.

You could not expect any one to go into the field and make a business of soliciting; therefore if each one who is interested in this class of insurance will carefully read this article and send a card to me stating number of acres and kind of crop you will insure, and then tell your neighbors what you have done and let them read this Department, and when we have 100,000 acres promised we will mail you a blank contract, similar to the one below outlined, and each one can be his own agent. Remember that only fifty cents is paid at the time of insuring and nothing more until Dec. 1st.

We do not think it best to make insurance good before we have $10,000 promised and that must be well distributed over the state so that a single storm would not use up all of premium.

We now leave it to you whether you have the insurance or not. Each of you must put in a little time to secure postal card promises from your neighbors right away or the company will go by the board.

Bro. J. M. Thompson, secretary of the state alliance, has consented to act as treasurer, and as there is no use for any other officer except secretary we will do that work or have it done at a cost not to exceed two dollars per day. When writing be sure to name the county and direct communications pertaining to insurance to J. Y. M. Swigart, Lincoln, Neb.

We here give you a form of contract similar to the one that will be sent to each one who wants insurance:

I hereby apply for insurance against loss or damage by hail in the Nebraska Mutual Hall Insurance Company on the following number of acres:

Total No. of acres insured: For which I hereby agree to pay a membership fee of fifty cents in cash and further agree to pay ten cents per acre on the first day of Nov., 1892, for the total number of acres above enumerated; or as much thereof as may be necessary to pay losses and expenses of the company.

The applicant also agrees to be governed by the following rules:

1st. All losses in small grain will be adjusted during July, August or September, and losses on corn will be adjusted during October.

2nd. After the total amount of losses and expenses have been ascertained the secretary will make an assessment on all members in proportion to the amount he has insured, and the amount thus collected will be apportioned to those who have had losses.

3rd. No member shall be paid more than five dollars per acre.

4th. In case the amount of losses exceeds the amount collected, each member hereby agrees to accept in full payment of his adjusted claim his proportionate share of said amount collected.

5th. The member further agrees to pay his assessment within fifteen days after Nov. 1st.

6th. All losses will be paid December first.

I have read or heard read the foregoing contract and I hereby agree to the same. Dated this ___ day of ___, 1892. Section ___ Town ___ Range ___ P. O. ___ County, Nebr. Signed ___ Witness ___

Cyclone. We have now $120,000 insurance on file in the Cyclone insurance company and therefore hope to be able to place the company on its feet by May 15th at the farthest. But if all who have promised to send us some applications will fulfill their promises we will be able to make the insurance good before that time.

The farmers should take pride in the country schools, should build up and improve them. They should not be in haste to take their children out of the country school and send them to the graded school of the city. If the farmers themselves discredit their own schools, is it any wonder that the farmer's boys and girls become ashamed of the humble schools and the simple life of the country and turn their faces toward the city? A revival of interest in country schools is needed throughout Nebraska.

DEAR people of Saunders county: The State Journal is disgusted at you. It can't understand why you run off after every "fad and ism" when you are so well fixed. In the old greenback days you listened to the harangues of Thompson Bissell and Bill Dech, and have never fully recovered. You have fine farms, good houses and plenty of lead; still you have actually taken the lead in this alliance craze. You have actually helped elect some of the cranks to office, and you don't seem to get any better—if anything, worse. You are clear beyond the pale of the Journal's philosophy. If you don't change your ways soon, it will set you down as a political monstrosity.

WHOM SHALL WE NOMINATE?

In response to our request of last week a large number of cards have been received. Below we publish as many as we have room for.

DONNELLY AND POLK. My first choice for president is Ignatius Donnelly; for vice-president, L. L. Polk. They represent the north and south, besides being good strong timber.

FRED LILLIBERG. Wayne, Nebr.

WEAVER AND POLK. Weaver of Iowa for president and Polk of N. C. for vice-president; Donnelly, Powderly, Watson, Loucks of Dakota, Peffer and Jerry Simpson for members of the cabinet.

REYNOLDS, NEBR. C. E. BULLOCK. LINCOLN AND BRECKINRIDGE.

We want a man for president who can carry the west and one for vice-president who can carry the south. To my mind the best men, if measured by their chances to win, are Robert T. Lincoln and Congressman Breckinridge of Kentucky, providing they will endorse our platform. I believe they are honest men and sure to be elected. The son of Abraham Lincoln will destroy prejudice in the north, and the son of the democratic nominee of 1860 will destroy it in the north.

STODDARD, NEBR. NORMAN DOWDIN. WEAVER AND POLK.

The "north and south" rather than the "east and west," for obvious reasons. Weaver and Polk. Weaver, the vigilant and unchangeable, the able and distinguished veteran of unwavering loyalty, mature experience and national fame. Polk a paragon of purity and power, of whom all pure patriots and people's party promoters feel proud.

L. P. CUMMINS. Rushville, Neb.

WEAVER AND POLK. are my choice for the head of our ticket. Both are sound true and tried on the supreme issue, the money question. Also it is good politics and sound statesmanship to thus recognize and if possible reunite on new issues and interests the once divided sections of our common country. This union can never be accomplished, nor the present evils overturned, so long as either the democratic or republican party remains in power.

JOHN JEFFCOAT. Omaha, Neb.

WEAVER AND POLK. My reason is: They are and have been the leaders of the two largest labor organizations in our country, and can bring to their adherence more of the laboring people than any other persons. It is the votes of the masses we need.

JOHN S. MAIBEN. Palmyra, Neb.

FAVORS GRESHAM. The candidate should have an honorable reputation with unquestioned ability, conservative, honest and just. I know of no man who stands higher with the masses of the American people or more truly represents them than Judge Water Q. Gresham, the soldier, the citizen, the just judge.

A. H. BOLTIN. Kearney, Neb.

WATSON AND SIMPSON. My choice for president is Watson of Georgia for the reason that we are the only party that dares nominate a southern man. We have no bloody shirt to ding. Jerry Simpson is the man for second place.

R. A. ROCK. Oakland, Nebr.

WEAVER AND POLK OR POWDERLY. MARK me down for Gen. J. B. Weaver for president, the man who has never flinched and who dared to stand up almost alone and do battle for the masses. He has ever been found on the side of right, truth, honesty, justice, and ever will be. For the second place we have a host of good men: T. V. Powderly or L. L. Polk either one would be a power. But I am for the ticket to be named next 4th of July at Omaha.

H. B. MILLER. Winside, Neb.

WEAVER AND POST. My choice is James B. Weaver for president, and C. C. Post of Georgia for vice-president. We must have a man for president that knows no north and no south, and above all things stands square on the money question. I know that Weaver is all right in that respect.

P. B. OLSON. Malmo, Neb.
