

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES.

While Uncle Sam lies dreaming under the anesthetic treatment of quack doctors attached to citizenship in this country, banking bloodsuckers are extracting the life-force from his veins while manufacturing microbes are gnawing away at his liver.—The Omaha Tocsin.

It is well understood by every man at all conversant with the political impulses of last year's campaign that the election of Gov. Boies was due to the fact that through the Railway Employees Association the vote of the railroad men of the state was cast practically as a unit for him. It was admitted by some members of the organization that their officers determined how they should vote and that their tickets were placed in their hands within 48 hours of election. We had occasion during the campaign to show the character of this organization and particularly to show that the railroad men were exactly the ones to be most benefited by the reforms urged by the men against whom they were being organized, and that they were being used by their employers as a weapon against the men to whom a kindred interest should ally them.—Farmers' Tribune.

Our Ruler's Occupations.

- Our eighty-four rulers (?) in the United States Senate have the following avocations by which to make a living—
- Sixty-four lawyers.
- Four capitalists.
- Three journalists (Peffer).
- Two lumbermen.
- Two railway officials.
- Two manufacturers.
- Two merchants.
- Two public officials.
- One miner (Jones).
- One miner and stock raiser (Shoup).
- One car builder (McMillan).
- One physician.
- One clergyman (Kyle).
- One real estate dealer.
- One banker.
- One planter.
- One marble quarryman.
- No farmers and wage workers, yet these same are eighty per cent of the nation. Are we represented or misrepresented? We are to blame.
- Our rulers (?) in the United States House of Representatives, have the following way of getting their living when out of office:—
- Two hundred lawyers.
- Forty-three farmers and planters.
- Fifteen journalists.
- Thirteen manufacturers.
- Thirteen merchants.
- Three lawyers and farmers.
- Three bankers.
- Three teachers.
- Two farmers and stock raisers.
- Two bankers and farmers.
- Two publishers.
- Two public officials.
- Two clergymen.
- Two real estate dealers.
- One lawyer and insurance agent.
- One lawyer and fruit grower.
- One farmer and speculator.
- One manufacturer and merchant.
- One merchant and banker.
- One banker and coal operator (Huff).
- One wool merchant.
- One cannor.
- One tanner.
- One physician.
- One printer.
- One literary man.
- One hotel man.
- One dairy man.
- One railroad manager.
- One warehouse man.
- One lumber man.
- One miner.

Thirteen without occupations, who if they were laborers would be called tramps—but now M. C. A. Labor ought to have two hundred and seventy out of the above number, but instead it is a plute house. The most that can be said is, that the Alliance has nine members, and the farmers have all told forty-five members. The lawyers and most of the balance are as a class the flegmen and retainers of the joint stock companies of the nation. What chance has labor in such a gang, personally considered? None. Yet it is its own fault, if labor allows this to continue. The present congress will work faithfully for their clients. Wall Street, even by doing nothing. Labor is already robbed, squeezed dry under the wage system and therefore has nothing to fear the scamps. And, next time?—B.

The prospects of a bounteous harvest of small grain throughout the state is excellent. The farmers of Nebraska have it within their power to strike a blow at monopoly and trusts in the selection of their supply of twine to be used in binding their grain. Forty-six of the largest twine factories in the United States are in a combination to control the product and advance the price of binder twine. One of the factories which has religiously refused to enter the combine is happily located at Fremont, Neb. vs. The Nebraska Binder Twine Co.

Their twine is made from hemp fibre, grown by Nebraska farmers, every acre of which reduces the acreage of corn, oats, wheat, rye, etc., of which there is an over-production. Money paid for Nebraska made twine remains in the state and thereby is kept in circulation among our citizens.

There is another important consideration in selecting binder twine, i. e., its length in feet per pound. Because of the superior strength of hemp fiber it can be spun more finely than foreign fiber, consequently a pound of hemp twine will bind more grain than foreign fiber and retain a sufficient strength to bind.

The greatest argument, however, in favor of the home-made article is the fact that the Fremont twine factory is selling its product direct to the consumer at manufacturers' prices, which are less than the jobbing trade can sell other twines to. In view of these facts it would seem that the duty of Alliancemen and farmers is very plain. The Nebraska Binder Twine Co. of Fremont should be supported.

The twine can be obtained from the Alliance State Agent, J. W. Hartley, Lincoln, Neb., or from the factory at Fremont.

Those of our readers who are anticipating buying a road grader will find it greatly to their interest to call on or address—

SHOULD BE READ IN EVERY HOME.

Secy Thompson received the following letter with reports a few days ago. We take the liberty of printing it entire showing as it does that the ALLIANCE-INDEPENDENT is appreciated in Burt county. Bro. Roth hasour thanks for kind words and for the successful efforts he is making to increase the circulation and influence of the paper. We are receiving dozens of similar letters from other counties:—

TEKAMAH, Neb., May 20, '92.
Bro. THOMPSON:—
Inclosed find reports of Golden Springs Alliance for March, '92, also dues.
I also inclose you a list of subscribers to the ALLIANCE-INDEPENDENT for one year, and include amount at club rates in the money order inclosed.
THE ALLIANCE-INDEPENDENT is no doubt doing great good work for our cause. I wish it abundant success. I will continue in the future as I have done in the past to work for an increased circulation.
It should be read in the home of every farmer. Our brave McKeligan's speech in the last issue was worth the subscription price for one year to me and a fact your number is full of reading matter of great importance to any true American citizen.
"In Farm Circles" is also of great value to farmers as many subjects of interest are to be found therein. The same good word can be spoken truthfully of the youths' department.
Powderly's and Wyn's letters are documents which should be read by all fair-minded laboring people.
Respectfully,
FRANK ROTH.

In Old Virginia.
The people of the Old Dominion are on fire with enthusiasm for the new movement. The legislative council of the Farmers' Alliance of the state have issued an address to the people which closes in the following words:—

We believe that the St. Louis platform embodies that for which our fathers fought, and for which we, the people, should earnestly contend, namely, the liberty of the individual and the life and perpetuation of the nation.
Washington proclaimed the people to be the rulers of America.
Open your eyes and behold!
The dollar has become your ruler.
Remember your great leaders—Washington, Patrick Henry, Jefferson, Mason, Madison, Nelson, and Marshall.
It was for liberty that they made their plea, and, fighting, won it.
Mark you well, fellow-citizens, here are no new-fangled ideas born of the vapors of the age, but the self-same grand old precepts of the fathers seven times tried by fire and never yet proved dross. They are our precious legacies, won by the swords and brains of our country's heroes and statesmen, and it is our sacred duty to maintain them in their purity, and hand them down unimpaired to our children.
Whether or not it suits us, is not at all the question. It is: Shall we retain our homes, build up our section, strengthen our state, perpetuate a government of the people, and hand down the liberties for which our fathers shed their blood, to our children and children's children for all time to come?
Be men to-day or be forever slaves.

Donnelly's Opinion.
The Great West quotes Mr. Donnelly, in an interview after the late committee meeting at Omaha, as saying:—
"On Monday, the 4th of July, the convention will name the next president of the United States," said Mr. Donnelly.
"Do you really think so?" asked the representative of the Great West.
"I do," replied Mr. Donnelly. "You have no idea of the revolution that is abroad in the land. Let me give you an instance. When we met at St. Louis, Feb. 22nd, Mr. J. H. Davis of Texas, 'Cyclone' Davis as they call him, was asked by me whether there was any hope of doing anything for the people's party in Texas. He laughed and shook his head. 'Why,' said he, 'Texas has 180,000 democratic majority.' But at our meeting at Omaha Mr. Davis told me that he actually believed that the people's party would carry Texas. He told me of one meeting he had addressed of over 900 voters—the whole neighborhood had turned out, and when he put the question for all who would support the people's party to rise, all but 34 stood up. He says that in whole counties the old parties have not enough left to constitute committees. The poverty of the people is great: cotton is 3 cents per lb. He told me of one young man who raised a whole crop for a year's labor, yielded him $45, and the man said to him, with tears in his eyes, that he had not enough, after paying doctor's bills and expenses, left to buy his wife a calico dress and a pair of shoes."
A Correction.
"Mistakes will happen in the best of families," sayeth the proverb, and so with the best of newspapers. In our issue of April 4th appeared an article on "poultry" by W. J. Hickox of Alma, Neb. At that time the poultry editor was out making speeches on the "immutability of truth," and the proof was read by the literary editor who is not well up in Mr. H's chirography, and knows very little of chickens, except the fried and stewed varieties. Hence the names of several fancy breeds were horribly mangled, and Mr. H. was made to say that pullets of the Leghorn species will "lay when two months old." Since then Mr. H.'s life has been made a burden by several hundred inquiries about those wonderful chickens, and in some cases giving him unmercifully, all of which goes to show that THE ALLIANCE-INDEPENDENT is the best advertising medium in the west. In conclusion we will say that the article should have read six months' instead of two.

D. M. OSBORNE'S Steel Harvesters and Mowers.

When D. M. Osborne built the first all steel Harvester and Binder in 1885 it marked a new departure that left all our competitors far in the rear. They have all complimented us by imitation.
The New Osborne placed upon the market this year is also a long stride in advance that places us at the head and proclaims us the leaders in all that pertains to cutting and binding grain.

THE NEW OSBORNE IS THE Lightest Strongest and Simplest Machine Made.

WHY?
BECAUSE its frame is all made of angle steel and put together with steel bolts. No round or square iron pipe about it.
BECAUSE it has the steepest deck, thus insuring a quick delivery to the packers, and avoiding all trouble from packing and choking.
BECAUSE it has the widest drive wheel, being over 10 inches on the face, thus avoiding all danger of sliding in dry or sinking in wet weather.
BECAUSE you don't have to elevate the grain so high.
BECAUSE all its parts are steel and malleable iron, thus insuring four times the strength at half the weight of cast iron.
BECAUSE its chain drive, front cut and straight pitman apply their power direct. No lost motion.
BECAUSE it is the easiest adjusted, easiest handled, and best built machine on earth. Don't buy a machine until you have seen the New Osborne. Two horses can handle it. Its use on a farm is proof of an intelligent farmer.
