REV. GILBERT de LA MATYR.

A grand man, a pioneer of the reform movement, a preacher who rose above the prejudices and bigotry of his time, has passed away. Personally we know but little of this great man or his work. but little of this great man or his work.

Hence we will quote the opinions of log about forty dollars in a tombstone some who are better prepared to do to mark his illustrious grandfather's him justice:

The Plow and Hammer says:

The talented preacher, the profound reasoner, the true Christian, the pure patriot, and progressive reformer has gone to his long home. Rev. Gilbert de La Matyr died at his home in Akron, Ohio, on Tuesday, May 17th, of euremic poisoning, in his sixty-sixth year. He was born in central New York, and at an early age identified himself with the Methodist Episcopal church. He was proud banner, which has cost so much admitted to the ministry soon after coming to manhood, and with the exception of two years spent in congress. dust at the feet of the British lion; has continuously occupied the pulpit of Awake! His position has been the target for many attacks, but he has always met and foiled them with marked success, and in all the fierceness of partisan rancor his personal character has never been successfully maligned. Dr. de La Matyr was essentially a pioneer in both thought and action. He never sought after the ease that pertains to things accepted and established. He was ever pressing on. There were plenty of men to fill common places and attained he was ever ready to lay the foundations in rougher and more advanced fields. Men counted upon him as an indispen-sable leader in the great work of industrial and political regeneration now upon us. It always speaks well of any sary parade: movement to give God's men a com-manding influence and an honored poscontamination. But God has taken Dr. de La Matyr. The work will miss him, but the work will go on. Dark indeed will be its day when no man of God will be left in the land to take the place of Gilbert de La Matyr.

IS IT A FAKE?

Many of the reform papers are publishwhich the ideas and plans of the plutocrats are outlined. Mrs. Emery quotes a portion of this dispatch in her new book on "Imperialism in America." We have read this dispatch with some care and must say that all the internal as well as external evidence indicates that it is a fake. We have no doubt that it truly sets forth the plans and sentiments to do pleasant duty, and when this was of plutocracy; in fact it sets them forth too plainly and systematically to be written by anybody but a reformer. Plutocracy never gives away its designs except by accident, or in piece meal.
