

THE HOOSIERS IN LINE

A Grand People's Party Convention Held at Indianapolis May 27th.

A Full Ticket Named—Platform Adopted—Etc.—News of the Movement in Other States.

The Convention.

Not less than eight hundred enthusiastic people's party delegates met at Indianapolis Friday, May 27, to set the ball rolling for that state.

Samuel W. Williams of Knox county was named permanent chairman, and W. W. Prigg of Henry county, secretary.

A platform was adopted, reaffirming the St. Louis platform, condemning Harrison's scheme for an international monetary conference, and demanding some much needed state reforms.

The ticket nominated is as follows: For governor, Leroy Templeton, of Benton county; Lieutenant Governor, Dr. J. A. Houser, of Marion; Secretary of State, Joseph L. Hobson, of Wabasha county; Auditor, L. Lewis C. Kastan, of Fort Wayne; at present state Master Workman, Knights of Labor; Attorney General, D. H. Fernandez, of Madison county; State Treasurer, Townsend Cole, of Jennings; Statistician, Geo. C. Stahl, of Muncie; State Superintendent, Capt. J. H. Allen, of Vigo.

All these nominations were unanimously approved. Mr. Templeton is one of the best known and most trusted workers for reform in that part of the nation.

The election of this route means the location of a fine union depot at O and Twentieth streets, and its occupancy in the near future by several other railroads.

The final selection of this route makes A. D. Kitchin one of the happiest men in the city, as he has persistently labored for this location through thick and thin, and he surely has a right to rejoice over the settlement of the question.

Active work has been commenced on the public building at Beatrice.

O'Neill has voted $15,000 bonds for the construction of waterworks.

Ord has voted $12,000 bonds for the erection of another school building.

The June term of the district court at Beatrice has 264 cases on the docket.

Ed Drain, a B & M switchman at McCook, had an arm broken yesterday while coupling cars.

The Sunday school workers of this state are in session at Kearney, over 200 being present.

Monthly claims and salaries allowed by the board of education in Omaha amount to over $31,000.

C. H. Gere, delegate to the national convention, had his pocket picked at Minneapolis and thereby lost $50 and his railroad pass.

Ed Brooks, a prominent farmer living near Geneva, fell from a thirty-foot windmill tower, yesterday, and received injuries that will probably prove fatal.

Over one hundred druggists and pharmacists are now in Grand Island, preparing their exhibits for their convention, which will begin to-morrow night.

The board of education in Omaha elected one inspector of buildings at a salary of $125 per month and then allotted nineteen times for a second inspector without any election, when the choice was deferred until next meeting.

The Danes will have a great picnic at Lincoln City, July 30, at which representatives are expected from several adjoining states, and addresses will be made by Governor Boyd, ex-Senator VanWyck and Hon. J. C. Watson.

The crop report from Boswell observatory, Doan college, for the ten days ending June 8, states that corn planting is nearly finished in most parts of the state, but much replanting will be necessary.

Another Independent Club. A number of ladies in East Lincoln are talking of emulating the good example set by the Kearney county ladies in the organization of an independent club. Success to their efforts.

Creede Burned Up. The new mining town of Creede in Colorado, took fire Sunday morning, and almost all the buildings were consumed.

NEBRASKA PENSION. Original—James Marchel, Geo. W. Reinelt, Thos. Sears, Samuel Johns, Mordecai Pangle, Lewis Shaffer, Adolphus Kerwood, John W. Kimmon, Andrew Carlisle, William Spower, Andrew Anderson, Charles Howe, Andrew Ogden, Aaron E. Burlew, C. Eaton, Enosh Day, Christopher J. Dorems, J. P. Ford, Job McGou, J. Friend, Patrick Melvin, Adolphus E. Fairley, Restoration and increase—Thomas Lawyer, Increase Richard T. Friend, George W. Now, Charles H. Carlrow, E. W. Moore, Frank F. Gray, John Barrett, Reissue—Isaac Cuckley.

THE COMMENCEMENT

The High School Class of 1892—Fifty-Four Students Complete the Course.

Eight Good Orations—Melodious Music and Profusion of Flowers.

Good Bye.

The Nineteenth commencement of the Lincoln high school occurred last evening at the Lansing, with a class of fifty-four graduates of good strength, and an audience that completely packed that fine opera house.

Application has been made for the registration of $110,000 worth of bonds voted by Fremont citizens.

Articles of incorporation of the State bank of Murdock, Cass county, were filed yesterday, with A. H. Meeker, George W. Meeker and Robert Lyons as incorporators.

The National Lumber company vs. W. H. Bay, et al., in Lincoln county, and M. Randall vs. Carl M. Person, error from Hall county, are cases filed Saturday in the supreme court.

Gen. Viquain yesterday issued commissions to Captain Gilbert Palmer, First Lieutenant John A. Reed and Second Lieutenant E. C. Carroll.

The Union Stock Yards company of Omaha has appealed the damage suit brought by Charles M. Conover, administrator of the estate of William J. McCook, deceased, to the supreme court.

The Manufacturers' Accident Indemnity company of Geneva, N. Y., yesterday commenced mandamus proceedings in the supreme court to compel Auditor Benton to permit it to transact business in Nebraska.

School district bonds aggregating $25,120 were registered yesterday, with A. H. Boyer as clerk.

The following commissions were issued yesterday by Gov. Boyd to notaries public: A. H. Bower, Hastings; M. Donovan, C. P. Reynolds, R. V. Moore, Omaha; L. A. Seely, Fremont; R. F. Shorwood, Arapahoe; A. J. Hettlinger, Straugh; J. P. Saunders, F. H. Schmidt, Beatrice; C. H. Peck, Trenton; H. M. L. Jackson, Oxford; H. S. Evans, S. A. Chesney, Holt; J. H. McMurtry, Lincoln; F. J. Dover, Accacia; G. H. Rhodes, Hay Springs; A. F. Schaefer, Kennard.

The state board of health at its last session granted certificates to the following physicians: Charles C. Ailken, Benkman; Oscar F. Shoff, Axtell; W. A. Voss, Cheyenne; J. H. Kimbrell, Kearney; M. Addie, Baxter, Lincoln; A. J. McKinnon, Lincoln; Allen F. Miller, Randolph; Walter Key, Long Pine; Felix Behrendt, Rising City, H. T. Cooper, Lowell; H. L. Kimbrell, Hermann; M. W. Wilson, Hartington; Charles E. Dean, Arapahoe; Charles P. Hill, Lincoln; Nancy J. Stewart, Spring Branch.

The damage suit of Charles H. Olson against Max Meyer was filed in the supreme court yesterday.

Governor Boyd may in his discretion pardon on the Fourth of July two convicts who have served ten years in the penitentiary.

SEND FOR THE DAILY SUN. Already we have received a large number of responses to our appeal in last issue.

WE SHOULD NOT FORGET THE FACT that the independent party must expect a hard fight next fall.

THE BATTLE OF GIANTS IS NOW ON.

J. Sloat Fassett of New York Chosen Temporary Chairman Without Opposition.

EX-SPEAKER REED AND EX-SENATOR INGALLS GIVEN ORATIONS—Scenes and Incidents Attending the Opening.

NO BLAINE FOR THEM.

THE ORANGEMEN OF AMERICA WILL BITTERLY FIGHT THE BLAINE LEADER.

DETROIT, Mich., June 8.—W. J. H. Traynor, supreme grand master of the Loyal Orange Institution of the United States, sent the following telegram to Minneapolis today:

STEWART GAMBLE, Grand Master, L. O. L. 108, Bridge Square, Minneapolis: You are authorized to state for me to delegates of national convention that Thomas W. Palmer of Michigan or any other equally good American on either ticket will receive 1,250,000 votes, none of which will ever be cast for Blaine.

W. H. J. TRAYNOR. Traynor said: "The orangemen are not prejudiced politically. They are interested in politics only so far as to prevent the usurpation of political power by any religious denomination. They know no party, but they will not support Blaine for president. The principal objection they have to him is that he has shown partiality to Catholics in making appointments. He also attended high mass celebrated in the capitol building at Washington over the body of Senator Barber.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 8.—An angry threatening day and delegates in thorough fighting mood, ill-natured almost to the point of savagery were the marked features of the opening of the Republican national convention to choose a candidate for the presidency of the United States.

During all the morning outsiders had been crowding into the hall. Ex-Speaker Reed was the first notable to appear but soon withdrew. Then came New York's "Big Four" in a group and soon afterwards Governor McKinley of Ohio, who received a double ovation.

STATE HOUSE NOTES.

Gen. Viquain spent the past week in inspecting the national guard. He continues the work Monday.

Frank Hollgren et al vs Andrew Hawkenson is the title of a petition in error from Phelps county.

The case of Robert R. Kelly et al vs. L. B. Palmer, error from Adams county, was filed in the supreme court yesterday.

F. A. Barton of Pawnee City has been appointed by the commission to be superintendent of the educational exhibit to be made by Nebraska at the world's fair.

W. S. Pool chief grain inspector of the Lincoln department has filed his bond in the sum of $50,000, with N. S. Harwood, Fred L. Harris and John H. Ames as sureties.

Application has been made for the registration of $110,000 worth of bonds voted by Fremont citizens.

Articles of incorporation of the State bank of Murdock, Cass county, were filed yesterday, with A. H. Meeker, George W. Meeker and Robert Lyons as incorporators.

The National Lumber company vs. W. H. Bay, et al., in Lincoln county, and M. Randall vs. Carl M. Person, error from Hall county, are cases filed Saturday in the supreme court.

Gen. Viquain yesterday issued commissions to Captain Gilbert Palmer, First Lieutenant John A. Reed and Second Lieutenant E. C. Carroll.

The Union Stock Yards company of Omaha has appealed the damage suit brought by Charles M. Conover, administrator of the estate of William J. McCook, deceased, to the supreme court.

The Manufacturers' Accident Indemnity company of Geneva, N. Y., yesterday commenced mandamus proceedings in the supreme court to compel Auditor Benton to permit it to transact business in Nebraska.

School district bonds aggregating $25,120 were registered yesterday, with A. H. Boyer as clerk.

The following commissions were issued yesterday by Gov. Boyd to notaries public: A. H. Bower, Hastings; M. Donovan, C. P. Reynolds, R. V. Moore, Omaha; L. A. Seely, Fremont; R. F. Shorwood, Arapahoe; A. J. Hettlinger, Straugh; J. P. Saunders, F. H. Schmidt, Beatrice; C. H. Peck, Trenton; H. M. L. Jackson, Oxford; H. S. Evans, S. A. Chesney, Holt; J. H. McMurtry, Lincoln; F. J. Dover, Accacia; G. H. Rhodes, Hay Springs; A. F. Schaefer, Kennard.

The state board of health at its last session granted certificates to the following physicians: Charles C. Ailken, Benkman; Oscar F. Shoff, Axtell; W. A. Voss, Cheyenne; J. H. Kimbrell, Kearney; M. Addie, Baxter, Lincoln; A. J. McKinnon, Lincoln; Allen F. Miller, Randolph; Walter Key, Long Pine; Felix Behrendt, Rising City, H. T. Cooper, Lowell; H. L. Kimbrell, Hermann; M. W. Wilson, Hartington; Charles E. Dean, Arapahoe; Charles P. Hill, Lincoln; Nancy J. Stewart, Spring Branch.

The damage suit of Charles H. Olson against Max Meyer was filed in the supreme court yesterday.

Governor Boyd may in his discretion pardon on the Fourth of July two convicts who have served ten years in the penitentiary.

SEND FOR THE DAILY SUN. Already we have received a large number of responses to our appeal in last issue.

WE SHOULD NOT FORGET THE FACT that the independent party must expect a hard fight next fall.

THE BATTLE OF GIANTS IS NOW ON.

J. Sloat Fassett of New York Chosen Temporary Chairman Without Opposition.

EX-SPEAKER REED AND EX-SENATOR INGALLS GIVEN ORATIONS—Scenes and Incidents Attending the Opening.

NO BLAINE FOR THEM.

THE ORANGEMEN OF AMERICA WILL BITTERLY FIGHT THE BLAINE LEADER.

DETROIT, Mich., June 8.—W. J. H. Traynor, supreme grand master of the Loyal Orange Institution of the United States, sent the following telegram to Minneapolis today:

STEWART GAMBLE, Grand Master, L. O. L. 108, Bridge Square, Minneapolis: You are authorized to state for me to delegates of national convention that Thomas W. Palmer of Michigan or any other equally good American on either ticket will receive 1,250,000 votes, none of which will ever be cast for Blaine.

W. H. J. TRAYNOR. Traynor said: "The orangemen are not prejudiced politically. They are interested in politics only so far as to prevent the usurpation of political power by any religious denomination. They know no party, but they will not support Blaine for president. The principal objection they have to him is that he has shown partiality to Catholics in making appointments. He also attended high mass celebrated in the capitol building at Washington over the body of Senator Barber.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 8.—An angry threatening day and delegates in thorough fighting mood, ill-natured almost to the point of savagery were the marked features of the opening of the Republican national convention to choose a candidate for the presidency of the United States.

During all the morning outsiders had been crowding into the hall. Ex-Speaker Reed was the first notable to appear but soon withdrew. Then came New York's "Big Four" in a group and soon afterwards Governor McKinley of Ohio, who received a double ovation.

THE CONVENTION.

NATIONAL REPUBLICANS IN QUADRIENNIAL SESSION.

THE BATTLE OF GIANTS IS NOW ON.

J. Sloat Fassett of New York Chosen Temporary Chairman Without Opposition.

EX-SPEAKER REED AND EX-SENATOR INGALLS GIVEN ORATIONS—Scenes and Incidents Attending the Opening.

NO BLAINE FOR THEM.

THE ORANGEMEN OF AMERICA WILL BITTERLY FIGHT THE BLAINE LEADER.

DETROIT, Mich., June 8.—W. J. H. Traynor, supreme grand master of the Loyal Orange Institution of the United States, sent the following telegram to Minneapolis today:

STEWART GAMBLE, Grand Master, L. O. L. 108, Bridge Square, Minneapolis: You are authorized to state for me to delegates of national convention that Thomas W. Palmer of Michigan or any other equally good American on either ticket will receive 1,250,000 votes, none of which will ever be cast for Blaine.

W. H. J. TRAYNOR. Traynor said: "The orangemen are not prejudiced politically. They are interested in politics only so far as to prevent the usurpation of political power by any religious denomination. They know no party, but they will not support Blaine for president. The principal objection they have to him is that he has shown partiality to Catholics in making appointments. He also attended high mass celebrated in the capitol building at Washington over the body of Senator Barber.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 8.—An angry threatening day and delegates in thorough fighting mood, ill-natured almost to the point of savagery were the marked features of the opening of the Republican national convention to choose a candidate for the presidency of the United States.

During all the morning outsiders had been crowding into the hall. Ex-Speaker Reed was the first notable to appear but soon withdrew. Then came New York's "Big Four" in a group and soon afterwards Governor McKinley of Ohio, who received a double ovation.

Following came another numerous set that drew out cheering and much scrutiny, the Illinois delegation. Prominent among them was Abraham Lincoln's counterfeit, Senator Cullom, and whippers of "dark horse" were heard here and there as the senator took a seat well to the front with the other Illinois delegates.

The white and gold banner of the California delegation was brought right into their old time place to the right of the speaker's chair. A moment later a storm of cheering broke out in the back of the hall, whither a large number of people were now pressing. It certainly was the greatest outbreak of enthusiasm thus far and everybody looked to see the cause. It was a slim man with white, close cropped hair, peculiarly extending forehead and gold glasses—ex-Senator Ingalls of Kansas.

Hardly had the patriotic air of "The Star Spangled Banner" died away when Chairman Clarkson of the national committee rapped the tenth Republican national convention to order. Prayer was offered by Rev. William Bush, chancellor of the University of Dakota at Mitchell, S. D., who prayed that the deliberations of the convention might be free from partisanship to the end that the great good of the nation might be subserved.

"Preserve, O Lord," he said in conclusion, "the nation that is loyal to Thee and to the principles of Thy word."

Michael H. DeYoung of California, one of the secretaries of the national committee, read the official call for the convention, and five minutes were consumed in this and other monotonous proceedings.

"Gentlemen of the convention," then said Mr. Clarkson, "I am instructed by the national committee to nominate for your temporary chairman the Hon. J. Sloat Fassett of New York."

There was a momentary pause while the body awaited the action that might be taken by the Harrison wing in opposition to Mr. Fassett's selection. But the anticipated contest did not take place. No one was placed in nomination in opposition to Mr. Fassett, and when the question was submitted there was not an opposing vote to Mr. Fassett's election.

"Your temporary chairman, gentlemen," was the introduction with which Mr. Fassett stepped to the front.

Mr. Fassett's election was greeted with a double ovation. He then turned to the right and bowed to the delegates from Michigan and McKinley to swing Ohio votes in line. Informed that the Blaine men claimed that the McKinley movement had been started by the Harrison people he said that this was untrue and that the president would be the only man the Harrison people would bring up. The president, he was confident, would be re-nominated on the first ballot by a good majority. To the query whether he expected thirty or forty majority he responded that they would have more than that. He turned and beckoned commandingly to him that he finally arose from his seat. At the first sight of the distinguished son of Maine every delegate and every auditor arose to do him homage, and long after he had resumed his seat the cheering continued.

Of course the speech of the Republican leader of the national house of representatives was well received. His allusion to the sensitiveness of the Democratic party, excited the hilarity of the convention and uproarious applause punctuated nearly every sentence of his eloquent speech. His closing sentence was, "To have a nobler future is to give to every citizen of the United States the liberty of thought and action, and territories be called noble, but human liberty is magnificent. (Renewed applause.)"

The other officers selected by the national committee were then chosen.

The day's work soon over.

It was ordered that the permanent organization should be effected, the convention should be governed by the rules of the last preceding Republican convention.

EX-SENATOR W. J. SEWELL of New Jersey presented a resolution that the roll of states and territories be called and that the chairman of each delegation announce the names of the persons selected to serve on the committees as follows: Permanent organization, rules and order of business, credentials and resolutions. This was adopted and the roll call of states began.

The member of the Alabama delegation said that the contest in Alabama had just been settled and he asked that the state be passed until the delegates could hold a conference. This was agreed to and then each state as it was called, announced through its chairman the members it had chosen for service on the committees.

A TAND OF HONEY. There are more bees hives in the United States, where there are 2,000,000 than in any other country. Greece, famous for its love of honey, has only 30,000 hives.

THE CONVENTION.

NATIONAL REPUBLICANS IN QUADRIENNIAL SESSION.

THE BATTLE OF GIANTS IS NOW ON.

J. Sloat Fassett of New York Chosen Temporary Chairman Without Opposition.

EX-SPEAKER REED AND EX-SENATOR INGALLS GIVEN ORATIONS—Scenes and Incidents Attending the Opening.

NO BLAINE FOR THEM.

THE ORANGEMEN OF AMERICA WILL BITTERLY FIGHT THE BLAINE LEADER.

DETROIT, Mich., June 8.—W. J. H. Traynor, supreme grand master of the Loyal Orange Institution of the United States, sent the following telegram to Minneapolis today:

STEWART GAMBLE, Grand Master, L. O. L. 108, Bridge Square, Minneapolis: You are authorized to state for me to delegates of national convention that Thomas W. Palmer of Michigan or any other equally good American on either ticket will receive 1,250,000 votes, none of which will ever be cast for Blaine.

W. H. J. TRAYNOR. Traynor said: "The orangemen are not prejudiced politically. They are interested in politics only so far as to prevent the usurpation of political power by any religious denomination. They know no party, but they will not support Blaine for president. The principal objection they have to him is that he has shown partiality to Catholics in making appointments. He also attended high mass celebrated in the capitol building at Washington over the body of Senator Barber.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 8.—An angry threatening day and delegates in thorough fighting mood, ill-natured almost to the point of savagery were the marked features of the opening of the Republican national convention to choose a candidate for the presidency of the United States.

During all the morning outsiders had been crowding into the hall. Ex-Speaker Reed was the first notable to appear but soon withdrew. Then came New York's "Big Four" in a group and soon afterwards Governor McKinley of Ohio, who received a double ovation.

Following came another numerous set that drew out cheering and much scrutiny, the Illinois delegation. Prominent among them was Abraham Lincoln's counterfeit, Senator Cullom, and whippers of "dark horse" were heard here and there as the senator took a seat well to the front with the other Illinois delegates.

The white and gold banner of the California delegation was brought right into their old time place to the right of the speaker's chair. A moment later a storm of cheering broke out in the back of the hall, whither a large number of people were now pressing. It certainly was the greatest outbreak of enthusiasm thus far and everybody looked to see the cause. It was a slim man with white, close cropped hair, peculiarly extending forehead and gold glasses—ex-Senator Ingalls of Kansas.

Hardly had the patriotic air of "The Star Spangled Banner" died away when Chairman Clarkson of the national committee rapped the tenth Republican national convention to order. Prayer was offered by Rev. William Bush, chancellor of the University of Dakota at Mitchell, S. D., who prayed that the deliberations of the convention might be free from partisanship to the end that the great good of the nation might be subserved.

"Preserve, O Lord," he said in conclusion, "the nation that is loyal to Thee and to the principles of Thy word."

Michael H. DeYoung of California, one of the secretaries of the national committee, read the official call for the convention, and five minutes were consumed in this and other monotonous proceedings.

"Gentlemen of the convention," then said Mr. Clarkson, "I am instructed by the national committee to nominate for your temporary chairman the Hon. J. Sloat Fassett of New York."

There was a momentary pause while the body awaited the action that might be taken by the Harrison wing in opposition to Mr. Fassett's selection. But the anticipated contest did not take place. No one was placed in nomination in opposition to Mr. Fassett, and when the question was submitted there was not an opposing vote to Mr. Fassett's election.

"Your temporary chairman, gentlemen," was the introduction with which Mr. Fassett stepped to the front.

Mr. Fassett's election was greeted with a double ovation. He then turned to the right and bowed to the delegates from Michigan and McKinley to swing Ohio votes in line. Informed that the Blaine men claimed that the McKinley movement had been started by the Harrison people he said that this was untrue and that the president would be the only man the Harrison people would bring up. The president, he was confident, would be re-nominated on the first ballot by a good majority. To the query whether he expected thirty or forty majority he responded that they would have more than that. He turned and beckoned commandingly to him that he finally arose from his seat. At the first sight of the distinguished son of Maine every delegate and every auditor arose to do him homage, and long after he had resumed his seat the cheering continued.

Of course the speech of the Republican leader of the national house of representatives was well received. His allusion to the sensitiveness of the Democratic party, excited the hilarity of the convention and uproarious applause punctuated nearly every sentence of his eloquent speech. His closing sentence was, "To have a nobler future is to give to every citizen of the United States the liberty of thought and action, and territories be called noble, but human liberty is magnificent. (Renewed applause.)"

The other officers selected by the national committee were then chosen.

The day's work soon over.

It was ordered that the permanent organization should be effected, the convention should be governed by the rules of the last preceding Republican convention.

EX-SENATOR W. J. SEWELL of New Jersey presented a resolution that the roll of states and territories be called and that the chairman of each delegation announce the names of the persons selected to serve on the committees as follows: Permanent organization, rules and order of business, credentials and resolutions. This was adopted and the roll call of states began.

The member of the Alabama delegation said that the contest in Alabama had just been settled and he asked that the state be passed until the delegates could hold a conference. This was agreed to and then each state as it was called, announced through its chairman the members it had chosen for service on the committees.

A TAND OF HONEY. There are more bees hives in the United States, where there are 2,000,000 than in any other country. Greece, famous for its love of honey, has only 30,000 hives.

THE CONVENTION.

NATIONAL REPUBLICANS IN QUADRIENNIAL SESSION.

THE BATTLE OF GIANTS IS NOW ON.

J. Sloat Fassett of New York Chosen Temporary Chairman Without Opposition.

EX-SPEAKER REED AND EX-SENATOR INGALLS GIVEN ORATIONS—Scenes and Incidents Attending the Opening.

NO BLAINE FOR THEM.

THE ORANGEMEN OF AMERICA WILL BITTERLY FIGHT THE BLAINE LEADER.

DETROIT, Mich., June 8.—W. J. H. Traynor, supreme grand master of the Loyal Orange Institution of the United States, sent the following telegram to Minneapolis today:

STEWART GAMBLE, Grand Master, L. O. L. 108, Bridge Square, Minneapolis: You are authorized to state for me to delegates of national convention that Thomas W. Palmer of Michigan or any other equally good American on either ticket will receive 1,250,000 votes, none of which will ever be cast for Blaine.

W. H. J. TRAYNOR. Traynor said: "The orangemen are not prejudiced politically. They are interested in politics only so far as to prevent the usurpation of political power by any religious denomination. They know no party, but they will not support Blaine for president. The principal objection they have to him is that he has shown partiality to Catholics in making appointments. He also attended high mass celebrated in the capitol building at Washington over the body of Senator Barber.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 8.—An angry threatening day and delegates in thorough fighting mood, ill-natured almost to the point of savagery were the marked features of the opening of the Republican national convention to choose a candidate for the presidency of the United States.

During all the morning outsiders had been crowding into the hall. Ex-Speaker Reed was the first notable to appear but soon withdrew. Then came New York's "Big Four" in a group and soon afterwards Governor McKinley of Ohio, who received a double ovation.

Following came another numerous set that drew out cheering and much scrutiny, the Illinois delegation. Prominent among them was Abraham Lincoln's counterfeit, Senator Cullom, and whippers of "dark horse" were heard here and there as the senator took a seat well to the front with the other Illinois delegates.

The white and gold banner of the California delegation was brought right into their old time place to the right of the speaker's chair. A moment later a storm of cheering broke out in the back of the hall, whither a large number of people were now pressing. It certainly was the greatest outbreak of enthusiasm thus far and everybody looked to see the cause. It was a slim man with white, close cropped hair, peculiarly extending forehead and gold glasses—ex-Senator Ingalls of Kansas.

Hardly had the patriotic air of "The Star Spangled Banner" died away when Chairman Clarkson of the national committee rapped the tenth Republican national convention to order. Prayer was offered by Rev. William Bush, chancellor of the University of Dakota at Mitchell, S. D., who prayed that the deliberations of the convention might be free from partisanship to the end that the great good of the nation might be subserved.

"Preserve, O Lord," he said in conclusion, "the nation that is loyal to Thee and to the principles of Thy word."

Michael H. DeYoung of California, one of the secretaries of the national committee, read the official call for the convention, and five minutes were consumed in this and other monotonous proceedings.

"Gentlemen of the convention," then said Mr. Clarkson, "I am instructed by the national committee to nominate for your temporary chairman the Hon. J. Sloat Fassett of New York."

There was a momentary pause while the body awaited the action that might be taken by the Harrison wing in opposition to Mr. Fassett's selection. But the anticipated contest did not take place. No one was placed in nomination in opposition to Mr. Fassett, and when the question was submitted there was not an opposing vote to Mr. Fassett's election.