

On Getting One's Own Way.

Young people who have been habitually gratified in all their desires, will not only more indulge in capricious desires, but will infallibly take it more amiss when the feelings or happiness of others require that they should be thwarted than those who have been practically trained to the habit of subduing and restraining them, and consequently will in general sacrifice the happiness of others to their own selfish indulgence.

The Way the Wind Blows.

The supreme court has recently decided that a railroad or a manufacturer has the right to require his hands to sign a contract not to hold the company responsible for any personal injury whatever while working for such company. The decision of this court is that such contracts are valid. This will put every railroad man or employe of any manufacturing establishment under the necessity of signing such contract before he can obtain work to support his family. This is a demonstration of where the sympathy of our courts are in this movement. They are against the rights of the people. This decision will be a decided surprise to many laboring people in Georgia and elsewhere and will teach them a lesson if they will only study it.—Southern Alliance Farmer.

Mrs. Peter Auldheim of Lebanon, Mo., is the proud mother of triplets. The astonished neighbors suggest that they be named Grover, Frances and Ruth.

A Sure Crop.

Rye is a sure crop—in both dry and wet seasons. The farmers of southern Nebraska will verify this statement. Considering the price of rye and the certainty of the crop, it is the most valuable and desirable to raise.

In the vicinity of the paper mills in Illinois rye is planted very extensively and the straw sold to the mills. The Lincoln paper mills will use five thousand tons of straw during the next year. Rye straw averages one ton per acre as against one half ton of oat straw. To encourage the raising of rye the Paper Mill company will furnish seed to responsible parties, and invite the farmers to call and make inquiry, at their office, 736 O street, Lincoln, Neb.
