

FROM OVER THE SEA.

Into the silence of the silent night He passed whom all men honor; and the sun Arose to shine upon a world undone.

OLD BRINDLE'S BELL.

Late in the summer of 1887 the few families living at Clark's Crossing, in Western Wisconsin, were thrown into great excitement by the ringing of a cow bell.

Clark's Crossing had been named after the wealthy owner of the largest farm in the township. It is doubtful if this name would have been chosen if the man who had first applied it to the cluster of houses that stood near the spot where the railway crossed the main road had supposed that his neighbors would adopt the name.

Feeling thus toward Jim, it was not strange that when Widow Garrett's cow was run over on the track just below the crossing where the railway ran through a portion of Mr. Clark's farm, there should be a number ready to say that he had let down the fence and driven the animal on to the track.

Later still, when the express train went by, several had been aroused from sleep by its short sharp danger whistle; but the train had gone on, and afterwards the cow had been found by the section men beside the track, dead. They notified Mrs. Garrett, and to save her any trouble or expense buried the carcass where it was found.

Tommy Garrett, freckled, undersized, big-eyed Tommy—Mrs. Garrett's dull, common-place fourteen-year-old only son—went over and stared at the cow.

None of the predictions were realized and now the question is often and properly asked, Why did we fail? With your permission I will undertake briefly to answer and also to make some suggestions with reference to future improvement.

My first reply is that too much was expected. The independent party as a national organization dates from July 4th, 1892, and hence at the time of election was but about four months old.

It has been rumored that the Journal and Call will combine. What a rattling of the rat tails there would be.

It is thought that if the Journal and Call do not quit so assiduously supporting Senator Paddock that the old man may fall into a dish of rat tail soup.

Rat-tat-rat-tat rat-tat-ta sang the poor old Journal. "Rat-tatte-de-malion" echoed the Call. "Rat"—"O, give us a rest," yelled the public. "We will do it!" said the long lalled creatures, and they jumped pell into the soup dish of oblivion, from whence nothing but their tails now protrude.

It would perhaps be a good thing to remark at this stage of the game that the successor of Senator Paddock must have no affiliation with the g. o. p.

Since the Lincoln asylum thieves have been indicted, it would perhaps not be out of place to remark that there are several other republican leaders that would grace the inside of the penitentiary as much as they have disgraced the whole state outside of it.

AFFECTS MUCH PROPERTY. A Land Decision of Importance Handed Down at Guthrie.

GUTHRIE, Ok., Jan. 11.—Chief Justice Green yesterday rendered a decision in the district court which, if it is sustained by the higher courts, will involve a change in title of property in Oklahoma worth over $1,000,000.

At the opening of the territory, Deputy United States Marshal Ransom Payne, who was then, and is still, stationed here in an official capacity, filed upon a quarter section of land for a homestead, but the same land was staked off in lots by other settlers and claimed as part of the townsite of East Guthrie.

PARISIAN STREETS.

How They Are Kept so Beautiful—An Ohioan Arrested.

A Boston banker bought in Paris for three cents two delicious pears, felicitating himself upon his cheap acquisition for three cents of what at the hotel dinner was served at one franc.

The banker insisted upon his right to eat his fruit whenever he chose, and began munching the second, when the officer called a cab, invited my friend into it, and informed me upon my offering to accompany them that I could follow in another cab.

A similar fate to the Bostonian's and a fine, also overtook a broad-shouldered, bull-necked, tow-headed Ohioan, who insisted upon standing in a tramway car when it was "complete."

The city has twenty wards, each governed by a mayor and two deputies. On a superficies of about 45,000 square yards it has some 83,000 houses, containing 2,250,000 inhabitants.

For some reason best known to himself, perhaps he had chosen to seat himself facing the railway and with his back to the farmhouse. His eyes were on a level with the top of the wheat, he could hardly fail to see anything that might come within the fence, either before or on either side of him.

All was still, and at last he decided to go back to the house. But as he arose from his cramped position and turned, with his back to the field, he found he had worked himself into the condition of the frightened boy, who had seen a ghost.

What, O, what has become of you? How's boom for U. S. senator.

The principal director of most of the corporation influence these days seems to be North. This is not intended for a pun, but is a solemn fact. Things have been chilly in their vicinity ever since a week ago last Tuesday.

North, Mattes and Babcock! Three of a kind. Who can draw another to match 'em? That is the question with the g. o. p. just now.

Plattsmouth people are wishing with all their might and main that the recent fire in the B. & M. depot in their city may be the means of the erection of a more commodious one, suitable to an ambitious and growing town.

W. R. Bartnors, the Nebraska City baker, who shot at the lady in whose house his family had taken refuge from his fury, must answer in the district court for his serious breach of the peace.

The Fullerton Journal gives it out that a large number of citizens were intoxicated Christmas eve, although the city had no saloon and even the drug stores are barred from selling anything more intoxicating than Harter's famous digestive fluid.

Will Tatroe brought to our office last Friday the head of a chicken he had that day killed at Baker's poultry packing house on Oak street, which was a curiosity, being an almost perfect counterpart of a skunk's head.

POPULIST KILLED.

Shot by a Democratic Officer Without any Cause.

Dr. Gilmore of Glascock county, Ga. was assassinated on the streets of Spauldine, that state, one day last week. The only cause of attack, so far as known, was that of his being a stalwart peoples party man.

The Peoples party paper, of Atlanta Ga. says: "It is singular that of the several homicides recently reported in Georgia, people's party men should have been killed, always by democrats."
