The most complete line of wood and steel pumping and geared up and geared mill machinery in use. It will cost you nothing to let me give you a good deal of time. I would not be wiser to let you see anything if I had not got a new one every year. I can grow 20 bushels an hour with it. AT THE WORLD'S FAIR

PEN PICTURES OF SOME OF THE NOTABLE EXHIBITS.

The Wolverine State Making an Attempt to Eclipse Her Sisters—Lovers' Wife Done in Salt—Michigan Expects Much.

THE MICHIGAN exhibit at the World's Fair is among the most interesting. The State building, a picture of which accompanies this article, was erected at a cost of $50,000. In addition to the building Michigan will have a logging camp on exhibition, displaying the workings of one of the chief industries of the Wolverine State. The State building is 104x144 feet in ground dimensions, and three stories high, with a tower containing two stories more. It is surrounded on three sides by an elevated piazza twelve feet wide, and fronts to the north and west. The first floor contains the offices, men's reception and club rooms, a ladies' parlor, reading and reclining rooms, toilet and check rooms; also a barber shop, cigar and news stand, a post-office, bureau of information, where every Michigan visitor is expected to register, giving both his home and Chicago addresses. The general reception room is being finished and will be furnished by Saginaw County at an expense of $4,000, and Muskegon County is doing the same thing with the club-room, spending $3,000. The ladies' parlor and reading-room have been decorated and furnished by the leading society women of Grand Rapids at a cost of $6,000. The main corridor, 50 feet long and 40 feet wide, has a large fireplace at one side, around which is placed a $1,000 mantle furnished by the Widdicombe Mantel Company of Grand Rapids. There will also be fireplaces in the ladies' parlor and the Saginaw and Muskegon rooms. The floors of the corridor and hallways are made of Michigan tile, all the wood used in the building came from Michigan, and most of the construction work was done by Michigan workmen. When passing up the broad stairway leading to the second floor the visitor will be confronted at a half-way landing by an elegant marble bust of Gen. Cass. On the second floor will be found a newspaper exhibit in a large room fitted and furnished with chairs, tables, and other conveniences for the comfort and convenience of newspaper people. The exhibit will contain the last copy of every paper in the State printed prior to May 1, as well as subsequent copies of every paper giving an account of the opening of the fair. On this floor is also a large assembly-room furnished with a pipe organ by Farrand & Volty of Detroit. Here will be held the meetings, social gatherings, and banquets; and there is also a room for State exhibits, 40x70, in which the university at Ann Arbor is making a natural history display, and where exhibits from the various State institutions will be made in glass cases. A prospective map of the State, 12x14 feet in size and costing $15,000 is a feature of the show. The third floor will be devoted to sleeping rooms. The tower carries an illuminated clock having a six-foot dial.

BIG LOAD OF LOGS FOR THE MICHIGAN EXHIBIT.

It attracted a great deal of attention. This one is expected to create a sensation. Near the camp will be a log train of five cars and all about the place specimens of the tools used by lumbermen from the opening of the first camp in Michigan down to the present time.

A Claimant of an Immense Fortune. The Bessarabian News publishes the following extraordinary story of an immense fortune shortly to be claimed from the Bank of England.

According to this circumstantial statement, the widow of a rich English Jew, Ovsley Levi, deposited her capital in the year 1803. This capital, with its interest, now amounts to 600,000,000 roubles, or 600,000,000. The News says that numerous claimants have from time to time appeared, but only one, an American lady, Miss Humeric, succeeded lately in proving her title to one forty-fifth part, the whole of the remainder going to a Russian subject, Anna Finkelstein, nee Levi, at the mouth of the Danube. According to the News she has only to produce certificates of the birth of her father and his uncle, through whom she is the direct heiress. These certificates are stated to be easily procurable from Furth, in Bavaria. The fortunate Anna Finkelstein is of middle age and childless.

Paid His Forfeit. About a year or so ago the Grand Duke Michael of Russia was visiting Paris, and chanced to dine in the company of Rosa Bonheur, the great animal painter. They got on very well, and at dessert they ate a "Philopona" together—that is to say, they shared a double almond. But the Duke, when next day they met, forgot to say "Philopona," and lost the bet. He asked the artist what present he should give her, and she replied, laughingly: "Any animal that would do to paint; something pretty, you know."

The Duke smiled and departed. Nothing more was heard of him, and the lady had quite forgotten the whole affair, when some months afterward, the royal forfeit arrived—to wit, three enormous Polar bears. A New Dancing Grip. The Philadelphians are astonishing the people in general by exhibiting their latest fad in the way of dancing. It is known as the "crab-claw grip," and is most suitable for the waltz. The gentleman places his right arm around his partner, putting his hand as high as possible between her shoulders. She elevates her left arm until it is at right angles with her body and bends her arm until her fingers rest on her shoulder instead of her partner's arm. With his left hand he takes hold of her right wrist, her right arm being in a similar position to her left, and holds it nearly under her chin with her hand flapping. After this position has been secured they proceed, in true Philadelphia style, to dance without any regard to the musicians.

A Novel Match. Two well-known Paris fencers—M. Rose and Chevillard—have arranged a novel kind of match. The champions will run a race of 100 kilometers—sixty-two miles—on bicyclettes, after which both fencers will jump from their machines and see whether their ride has impaired the cunning of their wrists. Foils will be handed to the two athletes immediately after the velocipede race has been run, and a fencing match commenced.

Lobster Law. Lobsters enjoy a special section of a statute to themselves. To have in possession, to sell, or attempt to sell, to expose or consign for sale any lobster which measures less than eight inches from the tip of the back to the end of the tail, when spread as far as possible flat, is an offense punishable with a fine of $2 in the first instance, $10 for every subsequent one. There has been started in Denmark an Old Maids' Insurance Company. Spinsters can insure themselves by a small sum on reaching the age of thirteen, and if still unmarried at forty are entitled to a regular allowance. If they marry, however, they forfeit all claim.

His Downfall Very Great. New York, May 9.—The Rev. William Michael Hicks, a clergyman of the church of England, was before the Yorkville police court Saturday morning charged with begging on the streets. He was at one time private chaplain to the German empress, and labored for a time in Missouri under Bishop Tuttle.

St. Joseph Scandal Closed. St. Joseph, Mo., May 9.—George Blisco, late cashier of the German-American bank, was today granted a divorce from his wife, Salina Blisco, with President John Donovan, Jr., as respondent. There was no defense

LEO TAKES A HAND. HE APPEALS TO EUROPE FOR DISARMAMENT. IS PREPARING AN ENCYCICAL. His Holiness Foresees an Inevitable Crisis to Which the Crushing Military Charges of European Countries Are Bringing Them and Points Out the Means by Which to Escape It.

PARIS, May 9.—From authentic information it would appear that the pope is preparing an encyclical to the European nations on the inevitable crisis to which the crushing military charges condemn them. He will call the attention of the masses to the necessity of introducing the idea of pacification into their general policy, as well as the appeasement of the anger of the working classes consequent upon their misery. He will ask for a resolution of the question of disarmament, which may be the result of an agreement come to in his interview with the emperor of Germany. The governments of Austria, Italy, Spain, Belgium and Russia are said to be already informed of the agreement and are willing to accept it. Russia has made certain reserves, but it intends, it is believed, to adhere to the general decision, in which case she would be charged with the mission of bringing pressure upon France to induce her to join the other nations.

A TERRIBLE WRECK. Ten Men Meet Instant Death on the Big Four at Lafayette, Ind. LAFAYETTE, Ind., May 10.—One of the most horrible wrecks in the history of railroading occurred on the Big Four road in this city at 1:15 yesterday morning, as a result of which ten men are now dead and eleven more injured. The train was the east-bound passenger leaving Chicago at 9 p. m. The accident was caused by the failure of the air brakes to work. The engineer undoubtedly discovered this before reaching the cut beyond the Wabash river, as vigorous whistling of the engine for brakes could be heard when the train was still a mile east of the city. The engineer's desperate efforts to stop the train was shown by the large amount of sand thrown by him on the bridge through which the train came just before the fatal crash.

The engine dashed out of the bridge over the Wabash river at a speed of not less than sixty miles an hour, crashing into the depot building and carrying off a portion of the depot and train sheds several hundred feet. The engine when it left the track, followed by the baggage car, two postal cars and express car, was piled in one promiscuous mass, a total and complete wreck, burying a score or more of victims in the awful pile. Several victims of the wreck were persons standing in the depot waiting for the train, among them a hackman, a mail cart driver and some passengers.

THE HOME RULE FIGHT ON. Chamberlain Leads the Opposition in Dilatory Tactics—Gladstone's Stand. LONDON, May 9.—In the house of commons to-day Prime Minister Gladstone stated in reply to Joseph Chamberlain that he would propose that the ninth clause of the Irish home rule bill be retained without alteration. This provides for the retention of Irish members in the imperial parliament. The speaker ruled that the instructions to the committee on the home rule bill offered by Lord Randolph Churchill and others a view of defeating the bill, were out of order. The house then went into committee on the home rule bill, when Joseph Chamberlain moved to postpone clause one of the bill, which simply provided that on and after the appointed day there should be a legislature in Ireland. This brought on a sharp discussion between Gladstone, Chamberlain, Balfour and the Unionists. Chairman Mellor put an end to the squabble by calling the disputants to order and Mr. Chamberlain's amendment was rejected. CLEVELAND VERY TIRED. Hereafter He Will See No Office-Seekers Except by Special Appointment. WASHINGTON, May 9.—The following has been issued by the president for publication: EXECUTIVE MANSION, May 8.—It has become apparent after two months' experience that the rules heretofore promulgated regulating interviews with the president have wholly failed in operation. The time which under these rules was set apart for the reception of senators and representatives has been almost entirely spent in listening to applications for office, which have been bewildering in volume, perplexing and exhausting in their iteration and impossible of remembrance. A due regard for public duty which must be neglected if present conditions continue and an observance of the limitations placed upon human endurance oblige me to decline, from and after this date all personal interviews with those seeking appointments to office, except as I on my own motion, may especially invite them. The same considerations make it impossible for me to receive those who merely desire to pay their respects except on the days and during the hours especially designated for that purpose. I earnestly request senators and representatives to aid me in securing for them uninterrupted interviews by declining to introduce their constituents and friends when visiting the executive mansion during the hours designated for their reception. Applicants for office will only prejudice their prospects by repeated importunity and by remaining at Washington to await results.

THE MICHIGAN STATE BUILDING. nothing in comparison with the one that will be made at Jackson Park this year. The State will have in Horticultural Hall a large and varied display of winter apples, pears, canned fruits, jams, and jellies that are being kept in cold storage. There will also be a show of wax models of every variety of fruits, berries, and vegetables raised in the State. During the summer months additional space will be devoted to exhibitions of all kinds of new fruit, each specimen in its season. Arrangements have been made to bring the shipments by boat across the lake and have them arrive fresh every morning. This no other State can do. As a result Michigan expects to tempt the mouths of visitors with the most luscious berries,
