You think that but you ought to see the condition of the wage-earner here and listen to him for a while. Then you could appreciate confronts a man here is the extreme ignorance of a great many of the laboring class. If you tell them of their condition and show them the remedy they will laugh and say 'Oh well, that is all right but you cannot bring it about." I have been in the Chicka-aw nation among the cattle barons, noticed the working of the men on the ranches and conversed with the foreman. It really makes me feel as if I had got out of Nebraska for reducing local rates. of America. I saw men at work th ir for $4 per dry week working from 5 very improbable that o'clock in the morning until 8 in the following reasons: evening, with an overseer just the same as in the old slavery days, cursed and in some instances beaten and then go to the ranch and sit down to a meal of fat bacon and corn bread and mik, sleep in a vermin-infested bed that no self-respecting northern hog would use self-respecting northern nog would use I asked the foreman, Mr. Wilhelm, if it will arouse the people as never before, and will saffer at the hands of future like that. He said, "yes, but what can you do? They do not know any more than the mules they drive. We have a system here, we must live up to it." You have got to treat them like negroes. He admitted that the labor performed by them was not satisfactory. When I explained the way a Nebraska farmer would work hands, he said: "Well you have to do it, because they know more."

I though: "My God what will be the future of these people! Though kept in The dense ignorance, the time may come when they will wake to realize their condition Then who can control them? God give us light now so we may avera reign of terror when the people awake. T. B McBride.

Editor ALLIANCE-INDEPENDENT:

In a recent debate between local re publicans and independents, the republicans asserted that the freight law passed by the last legislature raised freight The people here are at last awaken- rates to the amount of 4 cents per cwt. between Mo. River points and Chicago. is the above assertion true?

If not please reply through columns of

In our opinion a successful refutation the wage earners of Lancaster county of this charge will do the independent are in a bad way which is true enough; party much good. S. HOSTERMAN. GEO. CROW.

ANSWER.

The law certainly does not and can the difference. The first thing that not directly affect rates on readsoutside of Nebraska The N-braska rate-law has nothing to do with in erstate rates It only establishes maximum rates of charge on shipments from point to point within Nebraska.

The only basis for the claims which corporation lawyers put into the mouths of their republican dupes and tools, is that the corporations might raise through rates to retaliate on the people

This they have not done. And it is

1. There are several roads from the Missouri River to Chicago which have no interest in Nebraska local rates, and would not join in this retaliatory action hence it would fail. 2. The corporations know that should they at empt retaliation, they legislatures 3. The interstate commerce law will prevent the through lines from practicing any discrimination against Nebrasks Hence if they undertake to retaliste, it must be against the whole west. Competition will prevent this.

EDITOR.

Hub of Lincoln a Clothing House of Wide Spread Popularity.

"The Hub" 104 and 106 North 10th St. is a clothing concern THE ALLI-ANCE-INDEPENDENT takes pleasure in recommending to its readers. It is widely known through its extensive advertising and especially because of the complete and well illustrated catalogue which it issues Spring and Fall Thousands of customers have been made all over the state and from the commendatory letters, "The Hub" has on file. This army of Nebraska patrons astrous. must be well pleased with their pur chases. With every catalogue sent out samples of fourteen different suits and pants are enclosed to show exact styles and qualities. This requires the cutting up of over three hundred yards of cloth for a single edition and twelve girls are kept busy for a week in plac-ing the samples in the books. A type writer rattles away for ten days addressing the big envelopes that are to encase the "cats," and two persons find steady work for six days inspecting the books putting them in envelopes, stamping and delivering at the post office. This is an outline of the efforts made by "The Hub" to make it possijoining states to buy cheaply and intelligently without having to make a pilgrimage to Lincoln to do so Read 'The Hub' adv. in another column and write them for full particulars of their vast mail order business You can rely on them for correct representations and strict business integrity.

NSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

J. T. M. SWIGART, Secretary of the Sebraska Mutual Cyclone, Tornade and Wind ftorm Insurance Company, EDITOR. Al-communications on Fire, Cyclone or Hail Insurance should be addressed to him at Cincoln, Nebraska.

STATE ALLIANCE FIRE INSURANCE CO.

There are so many counties in this state in which it seems almost impossible to get a fire and I ghtning company started, and we have been urged so many times by alliance men to encourage a state company, that we have concluded to make the following proposal:

As soon as we have the names of fifty men who will insure $50,000 or more we will submitarticles of incorporation and bylaws for their consideration and approval. If such articles do not meet the approval of the proposed member, he is thereby released from taking a membership in the proposed company.

We will endeavor to make this company one that can be endorsed by all alliance people and in fact we ask that presidents and ex-presidents of county very improbable that they ever will for alliances lend us a helping hand. We d - not want to start this company ws a money making concern for any one, but because we are asked to do so by men in counties that have no county fire and lightning company but are being harassed by un-crupulous agents for money making companies The State Alliance has only endorsed one company and that is the Nebraska Cyclone, Tornado and Wind Storm Insurance Company. We so not want to interfere with any county mutual insurance c mpary, because there are many advantages that they have over a state company, while a state company also has some advantages over a county we hope to hear from many within this month in counties where there is no local company.

A HELPING HAND.

As soon as there are members enough to organize a local company they may withdraw from the state company and organize a company of their own.

CYCLONE Hundreds of men in all parts of the state are in need of insurance against damage by wind if some one would only call their attention to the fact that they could get their insurance at actual cost in the Nebrasia Cyclone company, and no high salaried officers to pay either.

The company is now over one year old, has nearly $300,000 insurance and has not had a loss. Our insurance is scattered through thirty-nine counties, consequently could not be very distance.

HAIL. In the Alliance Mutual Hail Associ ttion the rate is 15 cents per sere. Membership tee 50 ceats for less than one hundred acres, one hundred acres or more $1.00. Write us for instructions to insure your own crop. We do not employ any agents and if any one claims to travel for us he is working without one cent of pay, unles you make him a present. But be sure the application is not the application of some other company.
