Limited Coinage and the Issue of Gold Bonds the Latest-Silver Repeal Discussion in the Senate.

Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.-Last night it was reported positively that as a result of the speeches yesterday of Messrs. Harris and Morgan, the Democratic silver purchase repeal senators had given up the idea of unconditional repeal and decided upon a compromise. The story was that Senator Gorman was the head of the compromise movement which involved concessions from both sides and included the repeal of the purchase clause, the coinage of 2,000,000 or 2,500,000 of silver dollars per month until the total should reach $700,000,000, the coinage of all bullion in the treasury and the issue of gold bonds to increase the gold reserve sufficiently to maintain gold and silver at a parity. It was said that Secretary Carlisle had sgreed to the compromise.

This morning, however, the administration men in the senate insisted that there would be no compromise on the pending bill, but said that if there should be any compromise it must be by the introduction of another bill after this one should be passed. They held that they could pass the bill in its present form and there was no reason why they should yield to the minority. They held that the proposed measure affecting so many interests and making such radical changes in the currency of the country as this pro-posed ought to be very carefully con-sidered in all its bearings and ought not to be tacked onto the pending bill without long discussion in each house of congress.

The silver men, also, oppose the compromise, holding that gold bonds are not necessary and that the proposed coinage is too small. The compromise work will, however, continue.

On the house side the proposed movement to ally the silver and tariff interests to prevent adverse legisla-tion in both cases attracts little attention. Mr. Outhwaite of Ohio, one of the Democratic leaders, declares that if such a combination were to defeat tariff reform legislation it would create such a tremendous outcry from the people that would eventually result to the deteriment of both in-ublicans were concerned to solidify the anti and free silver Republicans in the defense of protection it could not be made effective because there was no Democratic strength favorable to protection to be arrayed on one side of the interior.

of the movement "I do not believe the repeal of the tax on state bank circulation will be accomplished by this congress," said Congressmon springer, chairman of the committee on banking and currency, after the committee had listened to the argument of Representative Oates of Alabama in favor of his measure looking to that end." In the first place the committee is divided, and no doubt the house is even more at variance upon the subject. It is my belief that the committee on banking and currency will favor the proposi tion to give national banks par value of circulation upon bonds deposited as an independent measure and that it will ultimately be passed. The Bryan bill to tax national bank deposits is meeting with great opposition."

SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

Mr. Chandler Criticizes the President's Action in Various Matters.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.-When the senate met this morning the resolution offered by Mr. Chandler of New Hampshire, calling for information as to the commission now investigating the New York custom house, was brought up and Mr. Chandler attacked the commission as illegal and declared that it was intended to evade the civil service rules in the interest of anti-snappers of New York. The president, he thought, was given too much to disregarding the provisions of expressed law and to make a law unto himself and in the White house when he reached a determination to attempt to carry out that de-termination whether he saw law for

Mr. Chandler referred to "the message to the senate communicated to Governor Northen of Georgia" and said he was with the justice of a criticism he had seen in a a recent London paper that there was a singular resem-blance between the letters of President Cleveland and those of the emperor of Germany. Going back to the Hawalian episode, he read from the letter of the president to the provisional government of Hawaii the sentence: "May God have your excellency in his wise keeping. What a beneficent air of royalty the extension of the good wishes of his majesty the president of the United States," said Mr. Chandler, "through his personal commissioner, Mr. Blount, who has a paramount authority to the provisional government of the Ha-wallan islands."

Mr. Chandler said the appointment of Mr. Blount was a grosser violation of the constitution than had occurred n the appointment of officials in a hundred years. It was time the president and heads of departments ould be brought to a rigid observance of the constitution. The resolution was then agreed to.

The repeal bill was laid before the senate at 1 colock as the unfinished business and Mr. Caudia of West Virginia spoke in advocacy of it after which Mr. Petter of Kausas resumed his opposition argument began ThursELECTION BILL DEBATE.

Congressman Patterson of Tennessee Eqlogizes Abraham Lincoln.

Debate on the bill to repeal the fede-ral elections law was then resumed, Mr. Patterson of Tennessee speaking Mr. Patterson of Tennessee speaking in support of it. In the course of his speech he said: "The greatest calamity that ever happened to a free people was the assassination of Lincoin. Had he lived and been permitted to carry out his policy there would have been peace and prosperity in the South twenty-five years ago. The excitement and hate engendered by Lincoin's assassination made it possible for the ambitious Republican leaders to place their heel on the neck of the South."

If, the speaker went on, the Republican party had pursued the policy blazed by Lincoln in his letter to Governor Kent of limited suffrage for the negro it would have been vastly better for the negroes and for every section of the country. [Prolonged Dem-

Mr. McCaul, Republican, of Massachusetts followed in opposition.

Mr. Richards of Ohio made a care-plly prepared and forceful argument election laws.

At the conclusion of the speech Mr. Dockery presented a partial report of the commission to investigate the ex-penditures in the departments. Then at 3:30 the house adjourned.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 2.-Oklahoma, or 'No Man's Land," situated between this city and South Omaha, hav beer the favorite place for the careless element of both cities for some time. Sunday brawls have not been of infrequent occurrence there. Especially has this proven to be the case in s saloon located upon the strip of ground where Justice O'Connell received a death blow some six months ago and where a stabbing affray recently occurred. Yesterday afternoon Sheriff Reprett was notified that a small Bennett was notified that a small sized riot was in its incipiency in that locality and that the keeper of the dive, where 90-cents-a-gallon whisky is dispensed, was about to be annihilated. Jailer Bennett and a deputy were dispatched to the scene and found about thirteen men congregated who had evidently partaken liberally of firewater until they were ready to don habiliments of war. One man, in particular, had threatened to put an un-timely end to the saloon keeper for some fancied or real grievance. Inas-much as talk was all that was indulged in the officers saw no authority to take the crowd in and therefore returned without making any arrests.

Think He Will Die.

LINCOLN, Oct. 2.-August Klein, who exhibited the condition of his mental functions by jumping from a third story window in the Lancaster county bank building a few days ago, is be-lieved to be in a critical condition. On first examination at St. Elizabeth's hospital where the insane man now lies, it was thought that he had sustained no serious injuries and his miraculous escape was commented on by all the pa-pers. Dr. Giffen made an examination of the man yesterday in which he dis-covered that his chest—bone was badly fractured and that he had sustained other injuries. While not apparently in great pain Klein is not expected to ive through another twenty-four hours. He is receiving the best of care, however, and his friends still hope for the best.

THE IRISH FLAG.

Hauled Down From One of the World's Fair Buildings on Ireland's Day. CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Chief Barrett of the world's fair department of electricity ordered the green flag of Ireland hoisted on the Electricity building this morning in honor of Erip's day. F. D. Millet, who has charge of the colors of the exposition, saw this and at once ordered James Hunt, one of his men, to pull it down. This was

When Hunt left Barrett's men again rar up the colors. Then Millet and three of his men ran to the Electricity building and Hunt cut the hal-yards and the flag fell at the feet of the crowd, which had gathered re-gardless of the rain. A company of guards, fearing trouble, was dis-patched to the scene, but Chief Bar-rett withdrew his men until President Higinbotham should arrive and issue specific orders regarding the affair. Millet explained that no flags except those of recognized nations were run up at the exposition.

Nothing could be done for the res-

The question of flying the Irish flag on Ireland's day was considered recently by the council of administration. The council left it to the discretion of the director general who discussed the matter with Mr. Millet and they decided adversely.

SILVER MINES RESUMING. Hundreds of Men Have Gone Bick to Work in Colorado.

DENVER, Col., Sept. 30 .- Between 1,200 and 1,500 silver miners have resumed work this week in the Colorado mines which closed with the big slump in the price of silver last June. This makes a total of not less than 3,500 miners who have gone back to work during the past ten days and scores of other mining properties are expected to reopen soon. Resumption has been aided by the recent increase of from $10 to $12 per ton in the price of lead and a reduction of fifty cents per day in the wages of workmen. The large smel-ters of Denver and Pueblo had almost exhausted their reserves of ore, and now their requirements have created a demand and a market for ore which the mine owners will attempt to meet. Fully 1,000 miners have resumed work at Leadville, 300 at Creede, 500 at Rico, 250 at Aspen, 700 in the Red Mountain, San Miguel and Ouray dis-
