

UNIQUE GRIDIRON SQUAD

Football in Denmark made history when a German team composed entirely of brothers met a Danish eleven near Copenhagen. The brothers are named Muntze and they hailed from Brauchhausen. They walked onto the field led by their father who, himself an enthusiastic footballer, initiated his sons into the game as soon as each could toddle. It was the first time the team had left their own country, though they had traveled much in Germany; and both father and mother Muntze accompanied the boys. Many at the game found the critical anxiety and swelling pride of father Muntze and the wistful absorption of mother Muntze at least as pleasant and diverting to watch as the game itself. They were genuinely sorry when the gallant eleven, in spite of excellent team work, was beaten 7 to 2.

ASK YOUR DOCTOR FIRST, MOTHER

Before You Give Your Child an Unknown Remedy to Take

Every day, unthinkingly, mothers take the advice of unqualified persons—instead of their doctors—on remedies for their children. If they knew what the scientists know, they would never take this chance.

Doctors Say PHILLIPS' For Your Child

When it comes to the frequently-used "milk of magnesia," doctors, for over 50 years, have said "PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia—the safe remedy for your child."

Remember this—And Always Say "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" When You Buy. Your child deserves it; for your own peace of mind, see that you get it—Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Also in Tablet Form:

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at all drug stores everywhere. Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Veteran Dredge Is Busy on Another Big Job

WHEN throngs gathered at Pot Holes, near Yuma, Calif., to celebrate the starting of the All-American canal they watched with interest the operation of the walking bridge dredge shown in the illustration as it shoveled up ten cubic yards of earth at each swoop. The dredge is a veteran on big projects, having been used first on the Panama canal and later in Mississippi flood control work.

PETER FINDS ANOTHER FRIEND

"DID you and your relatives come down from the Far North alone?" asked Peter of Dotty the Tree Sparrow.

"No," was Dotty's prompt reply. "Slaty the Junco and his relatives came along with us so that we had a very merry party."

Peter pricked up his ears. "Is Slaty here now?" he asked eagerly.

"Are You Here to Stay All Winter?" Cried Peter.

"Very much here," replied a voice right behind Peter's back. It was so unexpected that it made Peter jump. He turned to find Slaty himself chuckling as he picked up seeds. He was very nearly the same size as Dotty but trimmer looking. There was no mistaking Slaty the Junco for any other bird. His head, throat, and breast were a clear slate color. Underneath he was white. His sides were grayish. His outer tail feathers were white. His bill was flesh color; it looked almost white.

"Are you here to stay all winter?" cried Peter.

"I certainly am," was Slaty's prompt response. "It will take pretty bad weather to drive me away from here. If the snow gets too deep I'll just go up to Farmer Brown's barnyard. I can always pick up a meal there, for Farmer Brown's boy is a very good friend of mine. I know he won't let me starve, no matter what the weather is. I think it is going to snow. You know I am sometimes called the Snowbird."

Peter nodded. "So I have heard," said he.

"By the way, Slaty, what do you make your nest of and where do you put it?" asked Peter.

"My nest is usually made of grass and moss and rootlets," replied Slaty. "Sometimes it is lined with fine grass. When I am especially lucky I line it with long hairs. Often I put my nest on the ground and never very far above it. I am like my friend Dotty the Tree Sparrow in this respect. It always seems to me easier to hide a nest on the ground than anywhere else. There is nothing like having a nest well hidden. It takes sharp eyes to find my nest, I can tell you that, Peter Rabbit."

Just then Dotty, who had been picking seeds out of the top of a weed, gave a cry of alarm and instantly there was a flit of many wings as the little feathered folk sought the shelter of the bushes along the edge of the field. Peter sat up very straight and looked this way and looked that way. Crouching flat among the weeds he saw Black Pussy the Cat. Peter stamped angrily, then with jumps he started for the dear Old Brier Patch, lip-perty-lip-perty-lip.

Haymarket Riot

The Haymarket square riot occurred in Chicago, May 4, 1886. The police attempted to disperse an anarchist meeting. An unidentified person threw a bomb which killed seven policemen and wounded 27. Four men were hanged as accomplices, three were imprisoned, but pardoned later, and one committed suicide.

QUESTION BOX
by ED WYNN, The Perfect Fool

Dear Mr. Wynn:

There is a man living across the street from me who is acting queerly. The first day I saw him he was running around his back yard drinking from a medicine bottle. The second day I watched him he was still running and still drinking from the medicine bottle. Now, the third day I looked over I saw him skipping around the yard and still drinking from the same medicine bottle. Can you account for these strange actions?

Yours truly,
D. ZERTER.

Answer: Yours is a difficult problem, but I will help you: First, write to the United States government and tell them you wish to enlist in the army and, as you want to be near your brother, who's in the Seventy-fourth regiment, you wish to be put in the Seventy-fifth.

Around the Dining Room Table

By ANNE CAMPBELL

AROUND the dining room table, A brown head and a fair Are bending above their school-books, And doing a lesson there.

And I remember another Round table long ago, With a china lamp in the center And two dark heads bending low.

We helped ourselves to the apples That lay on the copper plate, And we munched on a bowl of popcorn While we learned to conjugate.

The old clock ticked on the mantle, A kitten lay on the rug, The stove burned wood in the corner, And the room was warm and snug.

When the clock struck nine, our mother Smiled in her wise sweet way, And we climbed to the attic bedroom To dream of another day.

The crocheted spread and the bureau, The pictures in rosewood frames, The books about Elsie Dinsmore, The lamps' uncertain flames;

I see the whole humble picture, As, catching my daughter's eye Above the dining room table, I dream of the days gone by.

take his medicine two days running and then skip a day.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
My brother is in the regular army and I have decided to enlist in the army also, but do not know what to do. You see the only condition under which I will join the army is that I must be near my brother. How shall I go about joining the army and being close to my brother? He is in the Seventy-fourth regiment.

Truly yours,
C. SICK.

Answer: That merely demonstrates the gratefulness of the American people. The reason Scotland is full of Americans in summer is simply to pay them back for the Americans being full of Scotch in the winter.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
Can you tell me why it is that Scotland is always full of Americans in the summer?

Answer: I do not wish to advise against your doctor, but if water rains your rubber, what is it going to do to your stomach? Not for me.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
My doctor has advised me to drink lots and lots of water and says that is the only thing for my stomach. Is this true?

Truly yours,
P. NUTZ.

Through A WOMAN'S EYES

WHEN WE WAKE UP

LONDON neurologists recently carried on an interesting experiment with three soldiers of the British army. They tested the soldiers as to the effect of their mental attitude on their physical strength. This was measured by a device which the men gripped with all their might, registering as they gripped.

It was found that in their normal state the men had an average grip of a hundred and one pounds. Then, hypnotized and told they were weak, their greatest efforts registered only twenty-nine pounds. Still hypnotized and told they were very strong, their strength returned to the normal hundred and one pounds and then jumped to a hundred and forty-one!

So, the men were weaker, in the relation of twenty-nine to a hundred and one, when they BELIEVED they were weak, but BELIEVING they were strong, they actually registered strength of a hundred and forty-one against a normal best of a hundred and one!

Sure enough people are constantly hypnotizing themselves into one thing or another. Some allow a few disappointments or defeats to hypnotize them into accepted failure. Of most of these it is true that if they believed better of themselves they could do better. It is also true, as enthusiastic "encouragers" point out to us, that most of the unusual achievements in the world went hand in hand with the supreme confidence—which is self-hypnotism—which convinced some men and women they could not fail.

However, kill-joy though it brands me, it must be pointed out that self-hypnotism can be a two-edged sword. How about the man who would have made a perfectly good carpenter who hypnotized himself into confidence that he was cut out for the law—and lived the life of the "also ran" and the failure? How about the farm lad who found self-expression and joy in making things grow out of the earth, but who hypnotized himself, or allowed a fond parent to hypnotize him, into belief that he was called to "go to the city and make good"? How about the woman who would have made a good accompanist, but who hypnotized herself into belief that she must not be lost to the concert stage? That story of heartbreak and defeat is a not uncommon one.

The experiment of the soldiers proves how belief in ourselves can hypnotize us into strength. The question is, can we follow through when we wake up?

Jelly Hint.

Use the fruit left in the bag when draining for jelly to make jam. If carefully looked over and the fruit is fresh, it will make most acceptable jams. By adding an orange, a few nuts, one will have a nice conserve.

Creamed Finnan Haddie.

There should be one and one-half cups of the fish, flake or break into small bits, after soaking in water. Remove all bone and skin. Make a white sauce as usual, add the fish and simmer for ten minutes. Halve crosswise large, fresh, green peppers and remove the seeds and veins. Scald with boiling water and drain well. Fill with the creamed fish, cover with buttered crumbs and place the peppers in gem pans to hold their shape. Bake ten minutes or until well heated and the crumbs are well browned. Salmon, tuna, or cooked fresh fish well seasoned may be used in place of the haddie. Garnish with r'e, hard-cooked egg and chop the whites and use a border around the edge of the pepper for a more fancy and nutritious dish.

Chic and Practical Is This Ensemble

PATTERN 1943

Here is a practical idea which is at the same time devastatingly chic—it is, as you see, an ensemble consisting of skirt, blouse and jacket. Make it up of black satin and wear it on warm days without the jacket. The contrasting bodice frill and collar are delightfully fresh looking and becoming. The trim linked jacket is a stunning addition, and the whole smart affair goes with the best possible grace under a top coat. Of course it would be a very nice thing in wool, as well.

Pattern 1943 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 16 takes 3 1/2 yards 39-inch fabric and 1 1/4 yards contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Write plainly name, address, style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE. Address orders to Sewing Circle Pattern Department, 243 West Seventeenth Street, New York City.

QUEST OF INFORMATION

"Why are you going to the public library, Mrs. Brown? Taken up science?"
"The doctor told my husband he was bibulous, and now he's torn the page out of the dictionary."

Wanted That Settled

"He told me he could live on my love forever."
"How romantic! And are you going to let him?"
"Not until I find out what I'm going to live on."

Really Simple

"What," asked Bertha's mother, "has four legs but never runs about?"
"I couldn't tell you," said Bertha.
"Well," explained her mother, "a table, of course."
