SOUTHWEST BREEZES

Miss Lavada Bly visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hazelbaker a few days last week.

Miss Arlene Downs, of Josie, was the guest of Miss Doris Carpenter the early part of the week.

James Bilstein was up from the lake Wednesday and Thursday hobnobbing with Derold Carpenter.

Swan lake and Amelia ball tossers went to bat Sunday at Amelia. The lake boys had nothing to say as to the result of the game when they got home.

Last week E. E. Young sustained the loss of a valuable and needed mare, dam of a young foal, thru an injury inflicted by another horse.

Last week Floyd Adams sold his Ford "pick-up" to C. F. Gillette, of Chambers, who will make use of the same in his garage business for towing in the lifeless motors.

Mr. and Mrs. William Carpenter were entertained for dinner Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roblyer near Atkinson.

A Saturday night band concert at Atkinson is drawing some from the southwest who have a fancy for the blare of the horns and roll of drums.

Sunday afternoon baseball games draw larger attendance than Sunday morning sermons. A preference for action rather than talk—seeing rather than hearing.

After the heat of the day Tom Baker went to Atkinson Saturday night for a cake of ice to cool off. By morning the weather had done a more extensive work of refrigeration. Some rain fell during the night.

Doc and Bud Clemons and Ned Saunders went to Atkinson Saturday night for a little variation from the daily round of duties at home. Atkinson is going to touch off the fireworks the Fourth.

Mothers' Day, Fathers' Day, Flag Day, Better Housing Day—they have passed again. What next? The Fourth, Thanksgiving and Christmas are enough to set aside for special observance. Days for this and days for that are becoming so common most of them are sized up for what they are—propaganda.

A Salvation Army gentleman with the title of Major was in Wyoming and Swan precincts last Friday soliciting cash, checks, chickens and food supplies he said were to be used to help reestablish the flood sufferers of the Republican valley.

Seed buyers hunting out the Kentucky blue grass seed in this county have overlooked this community, which this season is highly favored with luxuriant growth of blue grass, now in full head.

When Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Arbutnot, of Cedar Rapids, guests in this community over night Sunday, June 9, reached their home they found things badly wrecked by a wind storm. A roof of one building lay up against their house and outbuildings had been toppled over and rolled around. Holt county has such steady blows that there is scarcely opportunity for a wrecked building.

It is stated that there are 11,000 murders annually in the United States. That is between three and four thousand more than the entire population of all the towns in Holt county. Or to put it another way, the annual harvest amounts to every citizen of our municipalities lying dead some morning, and a few thousand more out through the county. Abolishing the death sentence for murderers would probably not reduce their numbers.

A hundred years ago there was no national debt and Chicago was the size of Chambers but not as good a town. Wars have been fought and won, large things done in making of farms and cities. Our federal government has become involved the past two years in so many billions of bonded debt that nobody pretends to see the way out. In the sixties a sea and a half a day was spent to maintain the Union armies in the field, but these old timers were pikers compared with our present day spenders at Washington.

GORDON EUGENE LINTT

The communities of Inman and Page were grieved Friday morning to hear of the death of Eugene Lintt who passed away at an Omaha hospital Thursday night. Gene, as he was known to all his friends, had been in poor health for some months, but his condition was not thought to be serious until Tuesday when he suddenly became very ill and was taken to a hospital in Omaha.

Gordon Eugene Lintt was born at Neligh August 8, 1915, and passed away June 13, 1935, at the age of 19 years 10 months and 5 days. When yet a small baby his parents moved to Cody. When he was three years of age his father passed away. His mother then moved to Battle Creek at which place she was later married to Milo Benson. He was a splendid student and took a prominent part in the High School athletics and was a general favorite among the student body. His last two years of High school was spent at Plainview and he graduated with the class of 1934.

During the past year Gene had been making preparations for a home of his own. He was to have been married to Miss Ruth Fraka this spring, but because of his failing health the wedding date had been postponed.

Funeral services were held at the Inman M. E. church Saturday afternoon, the Rev. W. T. Taylor of Rising City was in charge. Rev. Mr. Taylor had also been asked to perform the wedding ceremony. Rev. Taylor was assisted in the service by Rev. Mertie E. Clute, pastor of the church. Misses Gayle Butler, Lois Killinger and Mr. Curtis Smith, former school mates, sang. Pall bearers were also former school mates, Robert Jackson, Leonard Leidy, Walter Roe, Billie Harte, Cecil Keyes and Vere Butler. The floral offerings were many and beautiful.

Gene leaves to mourn his departure his mother, Mrs. Milo Benson, one sister, Gretchen, one brother, Burdette, his grandmother, Mrs. Pierce, of Battle Creek; his grandfather, Mr. Lintt, of Cody; his stepfather, Milo Benson, a number of step-brothers and sisters; his fiancée, Miss Ruth Fraka, a host of other friends and relatives. The body was taken to Cody for burial beside his father.
