Man-Made Heat Exceeds Sun's

Without knowing it, man has been creating artificial heat greater than that on the surface of the sun. This was discovered recently by the General Electric company which developed an accurate measuring device to record the temperature of the hottest of electric arcs. It was found that the common carbon arc light used in movie theaters, searchlights and for other high-powered illumination produces a heat up to 9,400 degrees Fahrenheit. The temperature on the surface of the sun is 9,000 degrees Fahrenheit. The tungsten arc produces even greater heat, as much as 11,900 degrees Fahrenheit. Some welding arcs have gone as high as 13,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

Site Selected for New United States Mint

UNCLE SAM'S old mint in San Francisco, at Fifth and Mission streets, is out of date, so a new one will be erected on the block pictured here, now occupied by a rock promontory. The site is at the intersection of Duboce and Buchanan streets at Market street, the other sides being bounded by Hermann and Webster streets.

ANOTHER GAME OF HIDE AND SEEK

YOU remember the game of hide and seek Danny Meadow-Mouse played with Buster Bear? You remember what a very dreadful game it was for Danny? But hard as it was for Danny, it didn't begin to be as hard as the game Lightfoot the Deer was playing with the hunter in the Green Forest.

In the case of Buster Bear and Danny, the latter had simply to keep out of reach of Buster. As long as Buster didn't get his great paws on Danny the latter was safe. Then, too, Danny is a very small person. He is so small that he can hide under two or three leaves. Wherever he is he is pretty sure to find a hiding place of some sort. His small size gives him advantages in a game of hide and seek. It certainly does. But Lightfoot the Deer is big. He is one of the largest of the people who live in the Green Forest. Being so big, it is not easy to hide.

Lightfoot Listened and Watched.

Moreover, a hunter with a terrible gun does not have to get close in order to kill. Lightfoot knew all this as he waited for the coming of the hunter of whom Sammy Jay warned him. He had learned many lessons in the hunting season of the year before and he remembered every one of them. He knew that to forget even one of them might cost him his life. So, standing motionless behind a tangle of fallen trees, Lightfoot listened and watched.

Presently over in the distance he heard Sammy Jay screaming "Thief, thief, thief!" A little sigh of relief escaped Lightfoot. He knew that screaming of Sammy Jay was a warning to tell him where the hunter was. Knowing just where the hunter was made it easier for him to know what to do.

A Merry Little Breeze came stealing through the Green Forest. It came from behind Lightfoot and danced away toward the hunter with the terrible gun. Instantly Lightfoot began to steal softly away through the Green Forest. He took the greatest care to make no sound. He went in a half circle, stopping every few minutes to look and listen and test the air with his wonderful nose.

Can you guess what Lightfoot was trying to do?

He was trying to get behind the hunter so that the Merry Little Breezes would bring to him the dreaded man-scent. As long as he could get that scent he would know where the hunter was though he could neither see nor hear him. If he had remained where Sammy Jay had found him, the hunter might come within shooting distance before Lightfoot could have located him.

So the hunter with the terrible gun walked noiselessly through the Green Forest, stepping with the greatest care to avoid snapping a stick underfoot, searching with keen eyes every thicket and likely hiding place for a glimpse of Lightfoot and studying the ground for traces to show that Lightfoot had been there.

Some Folks Are Contented

"Football Practice"

By ANNE CAMPBELL

WALTER'S got a grand excuse when he's late for dinner now. Father says: "Oh, what's the use?" Noting Mother's frowning brow. "You know fellows have to play! Why were you so late today?" "Football practice!" Wait will say!

Wish I were as big as he! When I'm late I get a look That would slay you! Wait can be Late at anything. . . "Why cook if you're never here?" . . . Pell-mell Wait comes in! Dad says: "Well! Well!"

I am proud of Walter, too. Just as Mother is, I know. Though she scolds the whole day through, Keeping meals annoys her so! But I notice that a grin Follows Wait when he comes in! "Football practice? . . . Hope you win!"

Through A WOMAN'S EYES

by JEAN NEWTON

TAKE A TIP FROM THE GYPSIES

IN EUROPE, particularly in Central Europe, gypsies are a more familiar element of the population than they are in this country, where they are regarded as a curiosity.

In Slovakia, near Kosice, there is a permanent settlement of gypsies so well thought of that they were permitted by the state authorities to have their own district council and mayor.

And recently the council tried a man who had beaten his wife.

Do you conjure up visions of red tape, of laws designed to protect the accused, of a bedlam of witnesses and talk of evidence as to how he hit her and where he hit her and what constitutes a blow un-tilled the victim began to doubt her own injuries.

Not with the gypsies. There was no Gordian knot. The man was brought before the council and immediately sentenced to crawl home on hands and knees, carrying his wife on his back, and to publicly beg for forgiveness. As a further punishment he was ordered to stand all night before his hut, bearing a pail of water on his head, stirring the water to prevent its freezing!

Those gypsies have imagination.

havent' they, in their way of making the punishment fit the crime? And the chances are that that particular man will not again commit that particular crime—while after all is the test of the efficacy of a punishment.

I could think of several popular crimes which might be more appropriately dealt with if we could take a tip from the gypsies!

QUESTION BOX
by ED WYNN, The Perfect Fool

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I am in love with a young lady and asked her to marry me. She said she would marry me if I promised to love her "forever." What shall I do?

Truly yours,
B. HIVES.
Answer: Don't promise that. You may not live that long.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
There's a man lives next door to me who has a peculiar habit. Every time he reads of a rich man dying he cries for hours. Can you tell me why he cries, as none of the rich men are related to him?

Sincerely,
U. SEYMOUR THANME.
Answer: That is very simple. You say when a rich man dies, though he is no relative of the rich man, your neighbor cries? He cries because he is not a relative.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
If "time" is money, why don't they make watches and clocks to run fast?

Yours truly,
ANN L. TOBUSINESS
Answer: You guess.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I am a man thirty-five years of age. I am a manager of the hair net department in a 5 and 10c store. I rode my bicycle way out in the country last Sunday. A wild cow chased me for two miles. I found out later the cow was mad because she lost her calf, but why did she chase me?

Yours truly,
I. NEVERSHAVE.
Answer: The cow most likely took you for the calf.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
How is it that in some apartment houses you will find when they live above the sixth floor married couples haven't any children?

Yours truly,
MISS SHONARY.
Answer: That only happens in apartment houses without elevators. People living on the top floors don't have children, as there is no way to raise them.

Corn Roast High Above New York

A CORN roast from corn grown in the vegetable garden on the eleventh floor roof of the RCA building in New York was held in the Gardens of the Nations. The corn was roasted by 12 Girl Scouts over a hunter's fire built by them on a terrace of the gardens. The girls roasted the corn to fulfill one requirement for their cook's badge—the preparation of an outdoor meal. Miss Mary Margaret McBride, nationally known food authority, judged their cooking abilities.

OVER ROMAN STATION

Uncovered by the low tide, 32 oak piles 1,700 years old have enured the discovery that the modern Durham village of Piercebridge has been planted over the site of a once large and important Roman station.

The modern village is located where the Roman road known as Dere Street crosses the Tees and excavation has revealed that the Roman camp was a few paces west of the road. Nearby has been discovered the site of the Roman bridge. The 32 oak piles were to be seen in the bed of the river when the river was low, and fragments of Samian were found in the bank nearby.
