Modern Logging Methods in Washington State

Heavy power machinery and other mechanical equipment has largely revolutionized logging methods in the past decade. An example is in the Naylor logging camp near Ravensdale in western Washington. A 110-horsepower caterpillar tractor is able to pull a 10-ton load of logs on a flat car which runs on wooden rails. Huge logs are thus hauled a distance of more than two miles, from where the trees are felled to the saw-mill.

TREACHERY of Ethiopian Chief Who Deserted to Italians Is Duly REWARDED

A sight disgusting to all true patriots is this little drama, enacted somewhere in Ethiopia. The duke of Bergamo, nephew of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, is shown turning over a reward to an Ethiopian chieftain who, with his followers, deserted his emperor, Haile Selassie, and went over to the Italian side to aid in the slaughter of his countrymen.

Michigan Solar Tower Is Almost Completed

Inspired by the achievements of an amateur astronomer, the sixth solar tower of its type in the world is rapidly being completed near Lake Angelus, Mich. Its construction was planned and is being completed under the direction of Robert R. McMath, Detroit engineer and amateur astronomer, whose success in making moving pictures of cyclonic disturbances on the sun has made him world famous in the astronomic field

City Over 3,300 Years Old Bared by Archeologists

An entire Egyptian city, built 1,300 years before the birth of Christ, for the first time in history has been laid bare in all the splendor of its careful town planning. It was built between Cairo and Luxor by the great Pharaoh Akhenaten, who here tried to rid the Egyptian religion of its abuses. But the city, with its processional way, coronation hall, and temple of the shining spirit, lasted no more than ten years, passing with its founder. The new pharaoh moved the capital of Egypt to another site, and now John Pendleton heads a party of British excavators who are completing the discovery of this ancient city.

Ours a Big Rich World to the Ungrasping Man

Ours is a big, rich world, if we don't ask too much, and fill the storehouse of every man who is content with enough, and we cannot lay any legitimate claim to more, though we like to know, or to feel, that there is always a loaf in the cupboard, if only to be generous with at times!
