Pete Todsen drove down to Grand Island last Sunday, taking down his father-in-law and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Blain, who had been visiting at the Todsen home for the past two weeks. Pete says there is not as much snow in the vicinity of Grand Island as there is in this section of the state.

L. A. Whaley and Dede Murphy, living northeast of this city, are becoming regular winter travelers. They have been in town three or four times the past week, coming in with a four horse team attached to a bob sled. Each time they come to town they take back with them mail and a few of the necessities of life for their neighbors, who have no sleds and therefore are unable to get to town.

Melvin Ruzicka, local manager of the Gamble Store, left last Sunday for North Platte, to attend a meeting of the managers of the various Gamble stores in the state. He was accompanied by Thomas Slatery, manager of the Gamble Agency at Atkinson and the managers of agencies at Ainsworth, Valentine, Bassett and Plainview. This meeting will be attended by all the head officers of the organization from St. Paul and was to be held Monday and Tuesday.

Ben and Pat Harty received a message this afternoon that their father, James Harty, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ray Moon at Galena, Illinois, this morning at the age of 92 years.

Mr. Harty was a former resident of this city coming here in 1909 and returning to Shullsburg, Wis., his old home the following year. He had visited his sons here several times since then and was quite well known in this city. Along in 1879 Mr. Harty came to this county with a bunch of relatives from Wisconsin but only remained a short time, returning to Wisconsin. Burial will be at Shullsburg, Wisconsin, where the family lived for many years and W. H.

Harty intends to leave tomorrow to attend the funeral.
