WRITE-INS MAKE A LIVELY CONTEST OF THE CITY ELECTION

George Bay Elected Police Judge Over Tom Coyne. Mayor Write-in Fails.

What promised to be a very quiet city election was enlivened Tuesday by a write in campaign, which had been brewing a couple of days prior to the election. General knowledge of the write-in campaign was not known until noon when some one, who was supposed to be right, gave the snap away. At that time there were but 13 votes cast in the First ward and it looked as if there would not be a handful of votes cast in the entire city, but things picked up after lunch and a fair vote was cast for any election where there was but one ticket on the ballot.

Those opposed to the administration of Mayor Kersenbrock picked on one of the most popular citizens of the city as their candidate for the write-in campaign, Frank J. Biglin. We understand that Mr. Biglin was approached Monday with the request that he permit his name to be used and that he become a candidate for the position, but he absolutely refused to consent or have anything to do with the campaign. He assured them that he was not and would not be a candidate under any circumstances and that if he were elected he would refuse to qualify for the position.

Frank had a funeral out in the country that afternoon and left town before noon, so that he was unaware of the campaign put on until after his return to town late in the afternoon and it is needless to say that Frank is very well pleased with the way the election turned out.

Taking it all in all the vast majority of the citizens of the city are very well satisfied with the outcome. Mayor Kersenbrock has made a splendid Mayor and we are convinced that there is not a citizen in the city who could have defeated him for re-election. He has a few enemies, that is true, but show me a man who holds an executive position in a city the size of O'Neill for two years who is without enemies. You know there is an old saying: "The man who does things is bound to have enemies, the man who does nothing has the friends."

There was no opposition for members of the school board and H. J. Birmingham and Ben T. Winchell were re-elected to the school board.

The only contest for a member of the city council was in the Third ward where Eli Hershiser tried to take the mantle of Alderman away from Levi Yantzie, who has filled the post for the past two years. It was a friendly contest, Yantzie emerging winner with a vote of 122 to 76, or a majority of 46 votes.

There was no candidate on the ballot for Police Magistrate and the voters wrote in the name of their favorite for the position. As the votes were being counted it was soon apparent that it would be a contest between George Bay and Thomas Coyne. Bay emerged victorious the vote standing 128 for Bay and 55 for Coyne.

Following is the vote by wards:

For Mayor—	1st	2nd	3rd
John Kersenbrock	189	98	162
Frank Biglin	43	38	43
For Police Magistrate—
George Bay	52	33	43
T. J. Coyne	14	22	19
Councilman, Third Ward—
Levi Yantzie	122
Eli Hershiser			76

There was no contest in either the First or Second wards and Francis Bazelman was elected in the First and Harold Lindberg in the Second ward, the former succeeding Ben Harty and Lindberg succeeding Thomas Brennan.

O'Neill Hatchery Wins In National Contest

Ralph N. Leidy, of the O'Neill Hatchery, has just been advised by Allied Mills, Inc., manufacturer of Wayne Feeds that he has been awarded second prize in their national Barn-E-Gram contest for the month of March.

More than 3,000 Wayne Feed dealers throughout 34 states east of the Rocky mountains are eligible to compete for the prizes in this contest each month.

The Barn-E-Gram is a monthly service bulletin, prepared and distributed by local Wayne dealers. These bulletins were judged from the standpoint of originality and worthwhile information presented with the idea of helping the livestock producers and poultry raisers to get more profitable results from their feeding activities.

In addition to a cash prize Mr. Leidy also received an engraved Certificate of Merit from Allied Mills.

FUNERAL OF WILL WALTERS HELD AT PLEASANT VALLEY

Mr. Walters Fails To Recover From A Serious Operation At Stuart Hospital.

William F. Walters passed away at the Stuart hospital last Saturday afternoon after an illness of about eight days, at the age of 56 years, 1 month and 25 days. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 p. m., with services at and interment in the cemetery the Pleasant Valley church, Rev. A. J. May of this city officiating at Pleasant Valley. The funeral was very largely attended, attesting the esteem in which the deceased was held in the section where he lived practically all his life.

William F. Walters was born on February 9, 1880, at Milwaukee, Wis., and when he was two years of age his parents came to this county and he had been a resident of the county practically all his life, living on the Eagle about twenty miles northwest of this city. On February 26, 1902, he was united in marriage to Miss Christina Johnson, the ceremony being performed at Joy, Nebr. To this union three children were born, one son and two daughters, who, with his beloved wife, are left to mourn the passing of a kind and indulgent husband and father. The children are: Henry W., Mrs. George Nelson and Mrs. Sam Robertson, all living in the Meek neighborhood.

Mr. Walters was a good citizen, an honorable and upright man who had a host of friends in this city and the eastern part of the county where he was known and esteemed by everyone. He served as janitor of the O'Neill public school for a time a good many years ago, but preferred life on the farm.

He was ill but a short time and about eight days before his death he went to a hospital in Stuart where he submitted to an operation for an obstruction of the bowels. For a few days after the operation he got along splendidly, then came a relapse and he sank rapidly until the end.

Probably no man in the northeastern part of the county had more friends than Henry Walters and there will be genuine regret at the passing of this splendid citizen in the very prime of life, not only by his immediate relatives but his legion of friends throughout northern and northeastern Holt county. Another pioneer has been added to the departed list of old timers, which list has been rapidly growing during the past few months.

The Busy Hour Club

The Busy Hour Club met at the home of Mrs. Henry Wayman on April 2, with all members present. The time was spent playing games and making over fifty quilt blocks for the hostess. Our next meeting will be held on April 30 at the home of Mrs. Ed Wayman.

"Bob" Morrison Is Home

R. R. Morrison returned from Omaha last night where he had been confined in a hospital for the past six weeks recovering from a broken elbow that he suffered in a fall on the icy pavement in front of his home on Feb. 24. Bob is feeling good, but, of course, is still carrying his arm in a sling and it will be some time before he is able to toss around a sack of potatoes, or take up his customary duties at the grocery store.

Dr. Robert Magirl, of Jackson, was in the city Wednesday visiting old time friends.

REMAINS MAYOR

JOHN KERSENBROCK

A write-in attempt to make F. J. Biglin mayor, against his wishes, fell far short of the mark, and Mr. Kersenbrock was returned to the head of the city's administration.

Patrick Kelley Found Dead Last Week In His Home At Casper, Wyo.

O'Neill relatives were notified last Thursday evening that the body of Patrick C. Kelley had been found that afternoon in his home at Casper and that he had apparently been dead for about four days. The body was shipped to this city, arriving Saturday morning and the funeral was held from the Catholic church Sunday morning and was largely attended by the old time friends of the deceased.

Patrick C. Kelley was born at Calumet, Michigan, on November 20, 1873, and he was a little over 62 years of age at the time of his death. He came to this county with his parents in 1878 when he was about five years of age. His father took a homestead about two and one half miles northeast of this city and here Patrick grew to manhood. What education he received was secured in the country schools with a couple of terms in the O'Neill High school.

As a young man he took a great interest in politics and shortly after reaching his majority he was elected township clerk of Grattan a position he held for about four years. He later took an examination for railway mail clerk, passed successfully and was for a couple of years in the mail service, with headquarters in Omaha. Disliking this line of work he returned to O'Neill and was shortly thereafter appointed deputy county clerk by the late S. F. McNichols and at the conclusion of his chief's term in office, he not being a candidate for re-election, Mr. Kelley filed for the democratic nomination for this office, was nominated and elected at the general election in the fall of 1914 and served two terms in office. He was a competent and faithful official and gave universal satisfaction in the administration of the office.

Shortly after his retirement from the office of county clerk in January, 1919, he went to Casper, Wyoming, where he made his home up to the time of his death. When he first went to Casper he engaged in the newspaper business and for a couple of years was one of the owners and publishers of one of Casper's daily papers. After his retirement from this business he entered the expert accountant field which he followed, very successfully up to the time of his death. Mr. Kelley remained a bachelor all through life and he leaves to mourn his passing one brother, John C. Kelley and his sister, Miss Mary, who are living on the old homestead northeast of this city.

Pat Kelley was a genial and companionable man with all the love of the people of his race for the political game and was recognized for many years, before his election to the office of county clerk, as the democratic leader of Grattan township. While his education was limited he possessed great natural ability, was an industrious student and a great reader, and in this way he made up for the slight education received in the country schools of the pioneer days and became as well posted as anyone in this section on current affairs. His natural forte was bookkeeping and being a splendid man it was but natural that the later years of his life was devoted to his chosen profession.

New Low Temperature Record Is Set For April

The month of April, continuing the freakiest and record breaking months of January and February, set a little record of its own last Friday night when the thermometer dropped to 5 below zero. As far as known this established a record for all time for this month. We have had April storms in the past when we had very heavy snow falls but the thermometer came quite a ways from reaching the zero point, much less dropping to five below.

The weather still remains cool, but a few farmers are at work in the fields and other anxious to get started, as they are afraid the season will be a late one.

Carl Grant Dies At His Home of Heart Attack

Carl W. Grant, 59, dropped dead in his home northeast of Star last Friday morning. Funeral services were held at the Dorsey church last Monday afternoon, Rev. H. D. Johnson of this city officiating and the body was shipped Tuesday morning to the old family home at Sibley, Iowa, for interment.

Carl W. Grant was born at Sibley, Iowa, on January 4, 1877, and grew to manhood there. He came to this county with his father in 1909 and they located in the northeastern part of the county where he made his home up to the time of his death. He leaves to mourn his passing his beloved wife and two daughters, Mrs. R. L. Curran, of Crofton, Nebr., and Mrs. H. V. Hansen, of Decatur, Nebr., and one sister, Mrs. A. E. Smalley, of Kimball, S. D., as well as a large circle of friends and acquaintances in the northeastern part of the county.

Mr. Grant always appeared in good health but his intimate friends have known for some time that he was afflicted with heart trouble, but no one realized the seriousness of it. He was a good citizen and his death will be deplored by many who were admirers of his sterling qualities.

His wife and two daughters, accompanied by their husbands, drove to Sibley Monday evening to attend the funeral.

Wounds Finger With A Small Caliber Rifle

Last Saturday while Dale Butterfield was out target practicing with a .22 caliber rifle near the old McEvony farm, on which now reside a family named Bowers, he reached his left hand to flick a bit of mud off a front sight, reached too far and the rifle discharged and a bullet passed through the flesh of the first joint or index finger of his left hand.

A local physician looked over the wound with an X-ray, determined the bone was uninjured and then dressed the wound and no further serious consequences are looked for. Dale is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Butterfield, highly respected farmers on the Parker place, one and one-half miles east of the Northwestern depot.

CONTRACTS LET FOR CONSTRUCTION OF NEW COURT HOUSE

Peter Kiewitts Co. of Omaha Gets Contract For Building On A Bid of $81,890.00

About 5 o'clock this afternoon the board awarded the contract for the erection of the building to Peter Kiewitts & Sons, Omaha, for $81,890.00. The contract for the heating, plumbing and ventilating was awarded to E. L. Rodwell, Omaha, for $9,974.00. The contract for the wiring and electric fixtures was awarded to the Sterling Electric company of Omaha for $2,236.00.

The district court room in the court house was filled this afternoon with the representatives of contractors who filed bids for the construction of the new court house, as the hour of 1:30 arrived, the hour set for the submission of bids. In addition to the representatives of the contracting firms a large number of brick salesmen, salesmen for electrical supplies and various other lines that go into the construction of a building of this character, were present.

The government was represented at this letting by a former O'Neillite, J. Parnell Golden, of Omaha, while the affairs of the county were looked after by the architect, Frank Latenser, of the firm of Latenser & Sons, Omaha.

Twelve bids were received for the construction, which indicates that the larger contracting firms of the country are out for the business. A careful perusal of the figures disclosed the fact that the contract for the construction of the building will be awarded to one of three firms, for at the hour this is written, 4 p. m. Thursday, the county board and their architect had not completed a checking of the bids. The three firms, who seem to have the edge on this contract, on account of the lowness of their bids are: Peter Kiewitts Co., Omaha, who filed the lowest bid, $81,890; Newstrom & Davis, of Denver, who were second low, with a bid of $82,700; and Ernest Rokahr & Son, Lincoln, who was third low, $82,841.

The following firms bid on the contract and the amount of their bids follows:

Atwater Co., Gr. Island	$83,600
Beckenbauer Bros., Norfolk	86,300
Ed Cebel, Beatrice	88,479
John Gilmore, Omaha	91,821
V. Ray Gould, Omaha	84,881
Green Bros., Hastings	83,120
Peter Kiewitts Co., Omaha	81,890
Newstrom & Davis, Denver	82,700
Olsen Construction Co., Lincoln	85,590
Ernest Rakahr & Son, Lincoln	82,841
John L. Soderberg, Omaha	83,495
Fred H. Webber	88,900

For the plumbing and heating there were five bids received, the lowest being submitted by E. L. Rodwell, Omaha. James Davidson, local plumber, was the third lowest on the list. Following are the bids on the plumbing, with address of the bidders:

E. L. Rodwell, Omaha	$ 9,974
James Davidson, O'Neill	11,400
John A. Anderson, Omaha	13,974
Hagen & Co., Sioux City	15,100
E. A. Seifert, Norfolk	10,985

There was more of a contest on for the electric wiring and fixtures than for the plumbing. For the latter seven bids were submitted, the lowest bidder being the Sterling Electric Co., of Omaha. Following is a list of the firms bidding on the electric wiring and fixtures and the amount of their bids:

Sterling Electric Co., Omaha	$2,236
E. A. Joos, Omaha	2,431
Henry Miller, Omaha	2,492
Quelvog & Son, Norfolk	2,700
Van Aldrich	2,750
Elkhorn Elec. Co., Norfolk	3,090
Krueger Elec. Co., Norfolk	3,290

The estimate for the building completed will come well within the estimate and the contracts will be let this afternoon. Many friends of a new court house were fearful that the bids on the building might go over the estimate, which would cause a further delay in the letting of the contract for its construction, but that danger has been eliminated in the bids offered today.

Miss Marjorie Dickson drove down to Norfolk this morning where she will meet her sister, Miss Nancy, who is attending the Wayne Normal, and she will bring her home this evening where she will spend her Easter vacation.
