

Over the County

SOUTHWEST BREEZES
By Romaine Saunders

Miss Neoma Greenwood returned to her home at Albion last week, after a fortnight's visit at the Riley home.

Fourth of July, like St. Patrick's day, isn't what it used to be. One hundred guns at sunrise, a merry whirl of games and races, ice cream and red lemonade with fireworks at night made a day for young America.

Does the some hundred millions of increased farm income Capitol Hill tell us about comprise that which has been handed out in liberal blocks to sugar corporations and New York City bankers?

Sao Paulo, Brazil, a city of 1-500,000, is building 500 new homes a month. Exports of foodstuffs to the U. S. that we could produce and supplying overseas markets we have abandoned, is making Brazil prosperous.

The farmer wants 12-cent hogs and the wage earner wants 10-cent bacon. I'd like to get 40 cents for the cream but that makes butter prohibitive to many.

George Holcomb was over from Amelia Saturday to see how Swan citizens were flourishing.

E. E. Young sold an Angus bull to Bill Dierks and drove the animal with some cows as far as Ray Bly's, where Mr. Dierks, who resides on the west side of Swan, got his purchase.

Lloyd James came out from Atkinson, Friday, to help about the annual surgical job with the calves which was put on that day at both the Watson and the James ranches.

A thousand head of cattle were brought to the McCarthy ranch last week for pasture from the Belle Fouche, S. D., country, which is drouth stricken. More are to be brought into the southwest this week, we are told.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Baker went to Albion and returned Friday. Tom says Boone county is hard hit again this year, pastures dried up, alfalfa killed, grain crops crisping under a blazing sun and corn wilting.

Tinged with something of the contemptuous, Nebraska's best grass country is referred to as the sandhills. When the hard land districts are brown and sear from prolonged absence of rain. The southwest has green pastures, meadows with abundance of hay and fruitful fields. The "garden beyond the sandhills" is oftener a desert than a garden.

Cap Addison was a visitor, Friday, at the home of the Breezes. He had recently been to the home of his father in Northeast Holt.

Our old friend, Senator Robertson out at Joy, got enough out of the Cleveland convention to inspire him to write for publication. Why not go back a few years, John, or don't your sales record go past 1936? The senator no doubt has a retentive memory if not a record sheet. It was in December, the 9th, I believe, 1894, at a sale near old Minneola, Barney Stewart, auctioneer, four coming yearlings sold for $1.00-25c each. In the same month in 1895 at the Nye-Schneider elevators in Colfax, and Platte counties, corn was quoted at 5 cents. Let's see—who was president then? The senator speaks of rectifying errors. One I learned of recently at O'Neill I hope has been rectified by now. A widow from a family of the first settlers in Holt county, with a family of several children, is employed on one of those PWA, AWP or XYZ inconsequential jobs in O'Neill, walks in four and a half miles from the country and back to her fatherless family at night. Perhaps another error was giving us back the saloon with the alcoholic tragedy at Stuart, last week.

Little Donald Wagon was quite badly injured, Wednesday forenoon. The wound required four stitches. Dr. Brown did the work.

Mrs. Claude Bates and daughter, Shirley, and Mrs. Charlie Abart called on Mrs. Otto Hoehne, last Monday afternoon.

Nineteen ladies and five children were present at the Aid meeting at Mrs. Guy Beckwith's, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. John Kee was assisting hostess and at the close of the meeting a lovely lunch was served by the hostess. Oline Beckwith and Aladene Kee helped with the serving.

The two weeks session of Bible School at the Center Union church, closed, Friday the 19th, followed, Friday evening, by a demonstration program. The ready responses of the pupils gave evidence of the efficient training they had received. The teachers, Miss Brown and Miss McCully were taken to Basset by Missionary Holgrimson, where they will be given charge of another school at the Cuba church. The attendance at the Union church totalled twenty-seven pupils.

Nearly everyone is busy working in the cornfields. A good rain would be greatly appreciated. Some have cut the wheat, and rye and barley will soon be ready to cut.

Those who spent part of the day at R. D. Spindler's, Sunday, were Walter Devall, Cecil Griffith, Elveston Hayden, Ralph Rausch, and Darrell and Russel Graham.

Record Enrollment

Increased popularity of the 4-H movement was foreseen this week as more farm boys and girls enrolled in various clubs to bring the Nebraska enrollment up to a new all-time record.

A total of 21,086 youths in all parts of the state now are in the 4-H club work. This represents 5,000 more than at the corresponding time in 1935. The records show 212 boys and girls in Holt County enrolled in 4-H clubs which compares with 220 for the same time one year ago, thus indicating interest locally in the work.

Lancaster county swung into the lead in enrollment this week with 1,111 boys and girls in the work. Gage county held second place with 832. Otoe remained in third place with 704. Clothing thus far is the most popular project with 4,121 girls enrolled. A total of 1,512 have baby beeves on feed this year.
