Many Reform Schemes Are

by James R. Lowell

A number of issues already have electing members of the unicameral legislature, and bills are being rounded into shape for presentation when this history-making body swings into action.

The child labor fight will be in the limelight again, and the stand taken by aspiring legislators on this question will have a bearing tended a supper in the McDermott on their success in the general grove south of the river Tuesday ratification June 2, 1924, with no definite date. time limit. Nebraska legislatures have considered it for a decade, but the farm element in the legislature has defeated it heretofore. However, a survey by the American Institute of Public Opinion this summer indicates that the farmers are swinging over to the idea. The county levy for last year was 4.95 and the state 2.15, so that the total of both levies was 7.10 or .16 more than the total levy for this year.

The City Council Tuesday evening also fixed the O'Neill levies. These are: General 5 mills, street lighting 4 mills, refunding bonds district 3. Band maintenance 1/2 rush of business. mill. Total 18 mills.
