

Farmers 'Taxed Out of Pants'

That is the effect of New Deal policies, says Myers Y. Cooper, former governor of Ohio, pictured here. The overalls he exhibits bear 44 tags, one for each hidden federal tax borne unknowingly by the farmer or laborer who buys them. "The Republican party sees that not only is farm income too low, but farm taxes are too high," says Gov. Cooper.

of these, while salesmen account for 312.

The state labor department has turned back $20,000 to the general fund to be used in easing the tax burden, this amount being saved from $33,980 appropriated by the legislature last spring for a state employment bureau, but not having been spent in the first year of the biennium. State Auditor Price states this sum represents only a fraction of the amount saved to the taxpayer thru economies during the past year.

It is stated that the President on his trip north didn't find a single Canadian who objected to Codell Hull's reciprocal tariff treaty.

If taxes keep on getting higher and higher it won't be long until everybody will be working for Uncle Sam.

There is one good thing about the war in Spain. Up to this time neither side has approached Uncle Sam to borrow money.

Everybody is in favor of social security but the only kind you ever really enjoy is the security you earn for yourself.

"Roosevelt Pleads for a Spirit of Give and Take."—Headline. The taxpayer gives, the New Deal takes.

Mr. Hopkins is going to move farmers from the drouth region into better locations. We presume this means into doubtful districts.

SOUTHWEST BREEZES
By Romaine Saunders

Little attention is paid to automobile accidents only as fatal results are reported in carload lots.

A considerable quantity of baled hay has been hauled from the Riley ranch to Albion the past ten days.

It has been reported to us that Mrs. Fred Watson was recently taken ill and has been removed to a hospital at Norfolk.

Fields of corn that a week ago were still green and promising look like the morning after a November freeze.

There is concern just now as to whether the election will be determined on a basis of the general welfare of the country or the individual pocket-book.

D. L. Withers is one of the busy citizens since acquiring a new Dodge truck. A lot of animals and things are hauled in and out of the community week by week.

If recent pictures are trustworthy, Mr. Roosevelt has aged and wrinkled and grayed 20 years in the last three. The presidency is a killing job in no wise enticing to a disciple of the simple life.

Drawing heavily at the back end of a cigar, dozing sleepily in an arm chair, senators left in Washington are the favorite subjects of the camera men newspapers always keep busy.

The presidential party is not visiting Holt county on the drouth inspection trip. A court house and postoffice building at O'Neill we are getting about all that is to be handed out to one county.

The fire at the Peterson ranch started from sparks from a tractor. A strip a mile long, varying in width from a few rods to three-quarters of a mile over some of the best meadow land was burned with the stacks.

Fatal automobile accidents are becoming appallingly numerous, as if to make a joke of the efforts in some quarters to reduce accidents to a minimum. When automobiles were made to travel 20 miles there were no fatal accidents.

Until Jocie precinct was cut off from Swan, this precinct was the largest in the county with four full square townships within its borders. One township went to make Josie so Swan has three square townships. Stuart has nine sections over three townships, being the largest precinct in the county.

To those who found a major pleasure of life with the bamboo pole and perched in a boat out on a sandhill lake the dry season is a tragedy. Fish ponds are gone, even the "great lakes" like Alkali and Red Deer up in Cherry, all the way down through Brown, Rock and Holt have less than a foot of water left and game wardens are taking the fish.

Reptiles are not numerous but at least one attained a size. Bringing in some horses off the range, Mrs. Saunders called to me that she had run onto a huge snake. Responding to the call, there stretched in its gleaming length, head raised and alert, a 6-foot sand hill boa constrictor the size of a neck yoke, commonly known as a rodent and bug destroyer, but my own convictions are that there only usefulness consists in the ability to kill a rattler and as there are none such down this way he was disposed of "with neatness and dispatch." The wife wanted to take it along to show to the others. Not me.

Brutally as the onslaught of a wild beast, a Chicago youth of 15 slew a widow who had befriended him. Lust or robbery are the background always. Hell is born early in throbbing humanity. A daily record of shocking tragedy, debauchery and crime; the American Medical association telling us there are one-half million new cases of a loathsome venereal disease every year in this country alone; Mr. Hoover of the department of justice informing us of a vice ring with an annual turnover of hundreds of millions of dollars and a list of 900,000 employees carrying on the white slave traffic; men like Mussolini calmly informing distracted Europe he can mobilize eight million fighting men by "a simple order"—the picture points to a rapid plunge to something resembling the bottomless pit. Untouched, the southwest looks on but can do little about it.
